UN Mulls Arab Stand

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The United Nations today scheduled its annual debate on the fate of an estimated million Arab refugees from the 1949 Palestine war.

The General Assembly's special political committee had the item on its agenda for this afternoon's session. Diplomatic sources saw little hope of breaking the stalemate that has existed in the Palestine refugee question for a dozen years.

Ahmed Shukairy, fiery critic of Israel whose outspoken denunciation of the Jews stirred previous assembly sessions, has returned to the United Nations in a new guise—chairman of the "Palestine Arab Delegation."

Shukairy in previous years was a widely known figure here, first as chief of Syria's delegation and later as minister of state of Saudi Arabia. His latest post was as spokesman for an organization established with the declared aim of working to establish a new state of Palestine.

Panel Set On Alcohol

"Alcohol and Minors — a Major Problem" is the topic to be discussed in a public forum meeting which will be held at the Klamath County Courthouse on Monday, Nov. 4, at 8 p.m.

A panel of professional experts will provide information on the furnishing of alcoholic beverages to minors, the problems of crime and delinquency resulting therefrom, and the activities of the public agencies in prevention and handling of violators.

Members of the panel will be Elwin Bianconi, inspector for the Oregon Liquor Control Commission; Ray Howard, juvenile officer of the Klamath Falls Police Department, and Francis Matthews, head of the Klamath County Juvenile Department. Dale Crabtree, Klamath County district attorney, will be moderator.

Following initial talks of panel members, those attending will have opportunity to participate in a question-and-answer discussion.

The meeting is being arranged by the Klamath County Council on Crime Prevention as part of its "education for better citizenship" program. In announcing the forum, Norbert Dey, council president, said, "Our studies show that the furnishing of liquor to minors is prevalent and contributes to crime and delinquency in Klamath County. Many people are concerned and desirous of information on the pertinent laws and how the public agencies are seeking to deal effectively with this problem. Knowledge of what is being done and acquaintance with the public servants working with this problem will enable citizens to cooperate with these officials more effectively and constructively. I hope many will attend this meeting."

The committee of the council making arrangements for the meeting includes Earl Sweet, Mrs. Keith Cobo, and Merit Smith Jr. The meeting place is the county court meeting room on the first floor of the courthouse.

ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM RELIEF WITHOUT DRUGS OR SURGERY

When the now famous Ball Clinic was established nearly 50 years ago, its founder didn't dream that it would grow into the large health service that it is today. Thousands of patients have been treated successfully in the field of chronic arthritis, neuritis, sciatica and other rheumatic conditions.

Many Have Endured Crippling Pain Too Long

A clinical examination is made of each person before he or she is accepted at the Ball Clinic. After examination, a diagnosis backed by nearly 50 years of experience in the exclusive treatment of arthritis and rheumatism makes it possible to make an honest evaluation, if and to what extent the patient can expect to be relieved by treatment. As a result, a vast majority of patients treated over the years are enthusiastic about the relief obtained. Further proof of satisfactory results is indicated by the fact that every year one-fourth of all Ball Clinic patients are friends and relatives who have been referred to them by former patients throughout the United States and Canada.

No Pills, No "Wonder" Compounds, No "Cure-All" Formula or Surgery

The staff of doctors at Ball Clinic concentrate on normalizing the body chemistry, adjusting imbalances and stabilizing systemic functions.

Of course, a corrective program also is carried out to afford symptomatic relief.

Valuable Book Sent on Request
