KUHS Foreign Language Clubs Schedule Many School Activities

The four foreign language clubs, Spanish, German, French and Latin, at KUHS have gotten underway this year with much planning, hoping, thinking, and working.

The Spanish Club started the year off with a bang as its first money-making project, a home-made candy sale in the main hall, netted $41.65 to break last year's candy sale record of $40.

This was just one of the projects the club is planning this year. Others are an initiation party in January, a banquet in May, home-made candy sales every month, and going to Mexico at the end of next year.

The club is operating on a student council basis this year because of its size and because of the difficulty in scheduling meetings agreeing with the split schedule. Representatives from every Spanish class attend the meetings and report the happenings to their classes.

The Spanish Club has chosen for its officers this year, president, Dennice Hall; vice president, Steve Gordon; secretary-projects manager, Shari Murray; and publicity manager, Suana Whytall. All are being advised by Mrs. Beatrice Taneilian.

The German Club is in full swing under the leadership of the adviser, Mr. Leo Aikens. President is Cheryl Rutherford; vice president, David Evans; and secretary-treasurer, Gene Johnson. All of the officers are seniors this year.

A student must have at least one year of German, a reasonable amount of interest in the German language, and a GPA of 3.00 to become a member of the German Club.

The club meetings are held the first and third Wednesday of each month. At the last meeting, Oct. 22, the chief German poets and their writings were discussed. On Nov. 6, the over-all history of Germany from the tribal days to the 1950's will be the topic of discussion.

The French Club is busy with plans for a dance with a French theme to be held in a few weeks. They are also planning a banquet at the end of the year.

French Club officers this year are president, Rich Jenkins; vice president, Leslie Currin, and secretary, Rebecca Pierson. Mrs. Gail Gaither is adviser to the club.

The club has decided that the first part of their meetings will be devoted to entertainment in French so members can become more familiar with the language.

The Latin Club has started off the year with an induction party at which about 40 members were inducted, and Louis Corrigan was recognized as the new adviser.

This year year the club has chosen for its officers, president, Dean Guyer; vice president, John Jendrzejewski; secretary, Penny Howie; treasurer, Kitty Stalker, and historian, Leah Lamb.

The club is planning a rummage sale, banquet, and sponsoring an after-game dance as its projects this year.

RECORD REQUEST BENEFIT — More than $1,000 was raised for the Modoc Union High School band by students who recently conducted a record request show for the band's benefit over Radio Station KCNO in Alturas. Among those spinning the discs and tabulating the telephone donations were, from left, Jim Kerr, Scott Fitzpatrick, Carol Armour, and Phylis Graham. The money will be used to help pay for the new band uniforms—the first uniforms owned by the 51 students who play under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Oxley.

Four KU Juniors Gain AFS Exchange Finals

Jim Drew, Paula Felix, Terry Terriere and Avis Zimmerman, KUHS juniors, are finalists in the American Field Service Americans Abroad program. They were chosen by the local AFS selection committee after submitting preliminary applications. The candidates then completed comprehensive applications to be submitted to the AFS headquarters in New York City.

The American Field Service is a private, non-profit, educational organization whose purpose is the furthering of understanding and good will among the peoples of the world. It carries out this purpose by bringing teenage students from abroad to study in American high schools and live in American homes and communities for a school year. The Americans Abroad program gives selected American teenagers an opportunity to live with a family in a foreign country.

The American Field Service makes no guarantee to accept a candidate from each school or participating chapter of the AFS. Selection is made on the basis of national applications, and a candidate is placed and accepted on his individual qualifications and his suitability for a particular family or school abroad.

There are really two Americans Abroad programs at work—a summer program and a school program. In the summer program, the student represents his school, community and the United States by living with a family abroad for six or seven weeks, sharing their home and life.

The school program is similar to that of the summer program. However, in addition to sharing daily life with the foreign family, these students enter the school life of the host country. The student may choose to spend either one school term or a full school year abroad.

The AFS summer programs are open in several South and Central American, European, Far Eastern and Middle Eastern countries. The school programs take place in Europe, New Zealand and South America.

Tule Slates Senior Play

TULELAKE—"There's a bass in the bathtub," screeches Hildegarde, and the action is on for the senior play scheduled Nov. 15 in the Tulelake High School gym at 8 p.m.

This curtain raiser is the tragic and comic affair of a teenage girl trying to snare a date for the prom.

Hildegarde Dolson, the befuddled teenage girl, is portrayed by Linda Wood, while John Brown plays the part of Freddie Shermer, the only senior boy bound to wear knickers to the prom.

The embarrassed and rabid parents include Mr. Dolson, portrayed by Ryck Prenger, and his wife, characterized by Susan Christy.

Others in the cast are Roy Kreizenbeck, Mr. Shermer; Susan Crawford, Mrs. Shermer; Shirley Alcorn, Ellie-Mae; Lois Rhoades, Jill; Kurt Thomas, Bobby Dolson; Ken Klassen, Jimmy, and Judy Workman, Paige.

Mrs. Alice Flora and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson are the faculty directors.

The senior extend an invitation to the public to attend their play which will be a part of the National Education Week observation at Tulelake High School.

Vote Held For Queen

Many elections have been held at Henley High School during the past weeks. Among them are honor students and and queen contestants. They will become an active part of the students' extra-curricular activities.

Class meetings were called recently to nominate queen candidates for Henley's athletic carnival. They are Oma Lea Whipple, senior; Alice Horsley, junior; Dianne Colby, sophomore; Sandy Zettlemoyer, freshman; and Deanna Croft, eighth grade.

The carnival will be held Nov. 16. The queen will be chosen on the contributions collected by her class for the athletic fund.

Pins Given For Grades

The presentation of a college scholarship, pins of recognition for scholastic achievement, and the sale of paperback books have been initiated as projects for 1963-64 by the St. Bonaventure Chapter of the National Honor Society at Sacred Heart Academy.

Grade point average and scholastic achievement during the current school year will determine the scholarship recipient, a graduating senior. It may be used for any phase of college expenses at the college of the recipient's choice.

Members of the Honor Society will not be eligible for the scholarship or the pins of recognition.

The pins will be awarded to outstanding students in English, U.S. history, mathematics, science and languages at the end of each semester. Teachers of these subjects will select the winners on the basis of effort and achievement in the respective classes.

Replacing the Campus Book Club, through which students purchased paperback books in previous years, a wide selection of paperbacks will be made available by the Honor Society. Included in the selection are books for class reports, college preparation, and enjoyment.

Members of the Honor Society will supervise sale of the books before and after school.

Malin:

School Gets First Prize

MALIN — Saturday, Oct. 26, was a lucky day for Malin High School. This was the date of the annual Klamath Basin Potato Festival Parade in Merrill.

The students, who had labored long and hard every night the preceding week with chairman Jill Johnson and supervisor Don London, were richly rewarded when their float won first prize in the school division and was grand champion entry of the entire parade for a total win of $75.

A portion of this money will be used to pay for the expenses of the float, and the remainder will go into the general school fund.

MALIN—The Malin Pepettes of Malin High School, a snappy looking group in their bright orange sweaters and white skirts, won the admiration and applause of all the spectators at the Klamath Basin Potato Festival Parade.

They marched to a $25 first prize after two weeks of daily practice in a precision drill worked up by their adviser, Mrs. Virginia Blohm.

Saturday, Nov. 2, the Pepettes traveles to Ashland to appear as the only drill team in the homecoming parade of Southern Oregon College. After the 10:30 a.m. parade, the 40 girls were served lunch on the campus and then attended the afternoon game between Southern Oregon and Chico State.

Following the game, the girls were treated to a guided tour of the Southern Oregon campus including an inside view of the girl's dormitory. The girls were given dinner on campus prior to returning home.

The invitation was extended by Jim Long, student body president of S.O.C., to perform in the homecoming parade. Jim is a Malin High graduate.

ARRIVES FOR TALKS

PARIS (UPI) — George W. Ball, U.S. undersecretary of state, flew in Saturday from New York for a one day stopover on his way to talks in Bonn and London. He returns here Nov. 19 for the meeting of the council of ministers of the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Reorganization Marks Sodality's New Year

reduced to four at the beginning of this year.

Among the projects undertaken by the groups are visiting the juvenile home and homes for the aged, visiting and running errands for the sick of the parish, and aiding teachers of catechism. One of their main works in providing volunteer baby-sitting for couples attending meetings.

Reorganization and new projects have marked the beginning of the school year for the Immaculate Conception Sodality of Sacred Heart Academy.

A world-wide society dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Sodality is a religious organization whose members strive for spiritual and apostolic strengthening of their spiritual life and by aiding the needy in the community.

To better attain these ends, the Sacred Heart Sodality follows a "cell" plan; the group is divided into smaller units or cells, each under the direction of two trained student leaders. The cells meet separately and carry out projects for which they are responsible. In order to concentrate work and effort, the original number of 10 cells was ing the Christian Family Movement meetings.

To finance a delegation's trip to the Seattle University Sodality Conference slated Nov. 22-24, all groups have been working together in sponsoring fund-raising projects. Held annually on the Seattle University campus, the three-day conference brings together Sodalists from the entire Northwest.

In lecture and discussion sessions, the students review problems and solutions, exchange notes, and then return to apply the information to their own groups. The Immaculate Conception Sodality plans to send members of the leadership committee and the Sodality moderator, Sister Joseph Therese.

Honor Roll Includes 51

TULELAKE — The honor roll at Tulelake High School includes 51 names of students who qualified during the first six-week grading period. A "B" average in all subjects is the basis for honor roll recognition.

The senior class, with 33 of its members on the list, led the three other classes. The overall school average is 22.6 per cent.

The list follows: Seniors — Shirley Alcorn, Sharon Allison, Emin Balpy, Lora Bushnell, Jeannie Carmen, Marcia Chambers, Susan Christy, Kathy Daughenbaugh, Rita Hundley, Ken Klassen, Roy Kreizenbeck, Carol Lewis, Ryck Prenger, Lois Rhoades, Barbara Roberts, Ken Ternus, Kurt Thomas and Linda Wood.

22 Named To Society

The Henley High School branch of the National Honor Society has added 22 new members to the roll. A special assembly was held to induct the members.

Speeches were given by Virginia Scala, Ray Black, Peg Baldwin, Karen Gentry, Dawn Hale, and Cindy Harless. Each denoted the qualities needed for an honor student, and Dawn explained the symbols on the emblem. Linda Taylor, Susan Bebber, Cheryl Thurman, and Kathy DeGrande served as tappers to escort the students to the stage.

To make the induction official, each member signed the charter and drank symbolic "hemlock." The new members include Kim Hale, Lona Berry, Lyle Bergstrom, Tony Vassallo, Jon Antle, David Reppe, Lynn Flagg, Ruth Dempewolf, Connie Stone, Kathy Herringshaw, Pat Dingler, Alice Horsley, Sheila Simon, Andy Ragland, Eric Wakkuri, Steve Skinner, Gary Wallin, Dave Faircloo, and Ginger Daniels, juniors, and Linda Huff, Shirley Kamarad, and Cheryl Forster, seniors.

Stingerettes Select Nine

The Stingerettes of Henley High School have chosen nine new members to bring the enrollment to a new high of 41. The new girls are Ginger Daniels, Pam DeLap, Janet Ground, Barbara Hornetter, Susan Peterson, Nancy Stough, Linda Williams, Marcella Newcomb, and Mary Lenninger.

Among its recent activities, the club marched in the Klamath Basin Potato Festival parade, where it placed second as a marching group. Members have also arranged for buses to most of the away-from-home games to promote school spirit.

MIGRANT CAMP SHOW — Four KUHS drama students decided "the show must go on" when they heard that the community house used to provide recreation for children at the Malin labor camp was to be closed. Putting together a small variety show, complete with costumes, the youths entertained the migrant workers' children with magic and comedy. The players, from left, are Dawn Hilton, Gerald Argetsinger, Paula Felix and Frankie Arcurri.
