West could have shifted to a club and beaten the hand provided that East would hold back his king, but West led a second diamond and the squeeze was on.

It wasn't complicated. South cashed his ace and king of diamonds and ace of hearts and proceeded to run off dummy's spade suit. South had to make two discards, but they were automatic. He let go of the deuce of hearts and six of clubs.

East had to make three discards. The first two were easy. He let the jack of hearts and deuce of clubs go. For his third discard he had to select the nine of clubs, whereupon South finessed against the king and made all his three remaining clubs.

He was lucky, but he had made the good luck possible.

By OSWALD JACOBY Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

South's bidding was about as delicate as a rampaging elephant. Of course, he did have 20 high card points including three aces and his partner had opened the bidding so he had some justification for getting right to the no-trump slam.

A look at dummy was not cheering. He could count five spades, three diamonds, two clubs and a heart, but that was only 11 tricks. Where was the twelfth coming from? So me sort of squeeze might develop and South decided to play for it.

He won the first trick in dummy, led the four of hearts and played his eight after East played low. This deliberate loss of a trick was necessary so that he could set up the squeeze later.

Russian Trade Rapped By Business Leaders

BONN, Germany (UPI) — Twenty U.S. business leaders, back from a talk with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, invited retired Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to lunch today.

The 87-year-old Adenauer, who turned over the chancellorship to Ludwig Erhard last month after more than 14 years in office, was guest of honor at the lunch in the Koenigshof Hotel, which is famous for having once turned away Adolf Hitler.

The group's next stop is Brussels, common market headquarters. Adenauer retains his seat in Parliament and his interest in politics. He recently criticized the Kennedy administration for what he considers soft dealings with the Russians.

One of the business leaders, Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, also found fault over the weekend with the Soviet idea of what trade with the United States should be.

He told newsmen Soviet leaders in effect want U.S. manufacturers to invest in Russia. This "makes no sense at all," he said.

Funston said he believes it is all right for the United States to sell wheat or other consumer goods to the Soviet Union for "cash on the barrelhead or normal short-term credit."

But the Russians, he said, seem mainly interested in capital goods, such as chemical factories and chemical fertilizer plants, which they want to buy

Exiles Charge Castro With Planning Revolts

MIAMI (UPI) — A Cuban exile organization says Fidel Castro is training hand-picked troops for a campaign to overthrow the governments of Colombia, Venezuela and Panama.

Communist Chinese Army Col. Lee Teh Piao, the Revolutionary Student Directorate (DRE) said Friday, is in charge of the sabotage and guerrilla warfare school operating in Cuba.

The training school is located at the Minas del Frio encampment in the Sierra Maestra mountain foothills, where Castro himself launched his revolt in 1956, the DRE said.

After the troops have completed their training, the DRE said, they are secretly returned to the Latin American countries "to organize revolts."

Soldier Draws 5-Year Term

BERLIN (UPI) — A U.S. Army court martial Saturday passed sentence of five years' hard labor on Spec. 5 Jerry G. Caldwell of Kansas City, Kan., who planned to defect to the East after copying classified defense plans, a U.S. Army spokesman said.

Caldwell, 24, who pleaded guilty, also was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge, total forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and reduction to the lowest enlisted grade. He was charged with attempting to desert, misappropriation of a military vehicle and unlawfully copying classified defense information which could be used to the detriment of the United States in the hands of a foreign power.

Stewardess Tells Harrowing Details Of Nosedive As Airliner Drops 13,000 Feet In Twenty Seconds

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — Stewardess Jacklyn Myers, 26, was trying to fill glasses with crushed ice in the galley of the Eastern Air Lines DC8 jetliner. She was having trouble. The plane was jolting about in the rough air at 18,000 feet near the Texas Gulf Coast. Several of the 117 passengers on the New York-to-Mexico City flight were walking in the aisles.

She looked into the cabin and the "fasten seat belts" sign flashed on. She rushed to her seat.

"Before I made it, I was thrown against the wall, then to the ceiling," she said.

"It was a strange sight, weird thing. People and a few small bags and briefcases were floating on the ceiling. I had a feeling of weightlessness," she said.

"We were falling and falling. I didn't think we would ever pull out of it. I thought we would hit the ground any second."

"Then I blacked out."

Miss Myers, New York City, and Mrs. Dorothy Griffith, 42, Springfield, Pa., were still hospitalized today. Miss Myers said she still felt "very sore and bruised."

Mrs. Griffith received several cracked ribs.

They and 15 other passengers were injured.

Capt. Mel H. French, 53, pilot of the plane, said it fell from 18,000 feet to about 5,000 in "about 20 seconds or so."

"It was the worst turbulence in my experience," said French, a veteran of 30 years as an airline pilot.

He said a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing in progress was determining to find the cause of the mishap. He said he doubted reports it was a mammoth downdraft that pulled the plane downward. "I would rather think the extreme turbulence merely made the plane uncontrollable."

"At present we do not have the answer," he said.

He reported the inside starboard engine had ripped away and "several passengers were injured and a number of others in a state of shock," he said.

"It was like somebody had cut an elevator cable," said Robert L. Monahan of Ocean City, N.J.

Monahan was walking in the aisle when the plane hit the turbulence.

"I went straight up. I was glued to the ceiling and so were a bunch of other people."

The plane landed at Barksdale Air Force Base at Shreveport because its 11,756-foot runways were felt to be better for an emergency landing than Houston International Airport's 8,000-foot runways.

Eastern sent a Boeing 707 jetliner to Barksdale to fly the passengers on to Mexico City.

'Birch' Priest Draws Warning

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UPI) — A Catholic priest who professes to be a member of the John Birch Society has been cautioned to "confine himself to spiritual work for which he was ordained."

The Rev. Francis E. Fenton, pastor of the Blessed Sacrament Church, told gathering last week that he was a Birch-er and he advocated the impeachment of Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The Rt. Rev. William F. Kerney, vicar general of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Bridgeport, warned Father Fenton that his political activities "were ill-advised and uncalled for."

Msgr. Kearney said the diocese had received letters from across the country protesting Father Fenton's activities.

Engine trouble, and not a service station in sight

It was such a tiny speck on the ocean that our tanker almost missed it!

Far out in the Sulu Sea, beyond the direct ship lanes, the little Ermedita ran into trouble: a shattered crankshaft. The captain and some of the crewmen left in small boats for help—but help never came.

Seven days had gone by. There was no radio, just a white flag fluttering from the mast. Not a ship had passed. Supplies were running low. And hope, too. Aboard our tanker, outbound to Sumatra, a lookout thought he saw a flash of white on the far horizon. The captain altered his course to investigate.

They found seven shocked, tired men, took them aboard, gave them medical care, and towed their stricken vessel to the Philippines, saving their means of livelihood.

It's only one of many times our tanker men have made friends for our Company by giving aid at sea.

On land, Standard men and women seek to make equally good friends for our Company—by the character of our public services, the integrity of our products, and our behavior as a citizen.
