

Chart Shows Hatfield's Proposed Cuts

Gov. Mack Hatfield asked the special legislative session for authority to cut the basic school support, asked approval of the one-shot $12 million withholding bill, and indicated that this, along with selective budget cuts could solve the state's fiscal problem. The following chart indicates proposed cuts in expenditures by state agencies.

These reductions plus a $12 million cut in basic school support would amount to $43 million.

Next Time They'll First Check 'What's Showing'

LONDON (UPI) — Thirteen high school girls visited a "typical" day in court Tuesday and got more than they bargained for.

The girls, ages 16 to 18, listened to:

- The case of the wife who admitted stabbing a woman she found in her husband's arms.
- The case of an unwed mother accused of blinding her lover by stabbing him in the eye.
- The case of an 18-year-old porter charged with stabbing a girl who jilted him.
- Four cases of men accused of homosexual offenses.
- One of the teachers who accompanied the girls said later: "It was all very interesting, but I think next time we will attempt to find out what is on before we come."

Tax Committee Bypasses House Rules Committee

SALEM (UPI) — The House Tax Committee bypassed the House Rules Committee Tuesday despite a warning it would look like a new legislative squabble.

The Tax Committee voted to introduce four bills proposed by Tax Committee Chairman Richard Eymann, D-Marcola.

Eymann failed twice to get the bills cleared by the Rules Committee, which has power to stop bills by individual members but not by committees.

The Eymann bills provide for a net receipts income tax, a 10 per cent hotel and motel tax, a doubling of the beer and wine tax, and a one and one-half per cent tax on domestic insurance companies.

Members of the Tax Committee who voted to introduce the bills made it clear they felt the Rules Committee had "broken faith" with the house. Members of the House had given the Rules Committee clearance of bills on the understanding that all bills dealing with state revenues and expenditures would be approved. Rules has not done this.

But Tax Committee member Sidney Bazett, R-Grants Pass, objected that "last time we were accused of squabbling between the House and Senate. This time we'll be accused of squabbling between committees."

"This is a very bad image we're presenting," he said.

SALEM (UPI) — Additional sales and cigarette tax measures were approved for introduction Tuesday by the House Rules Committee.

Rep. Richard Eymann, D-Marcola, submitted a 4-cent a pack cigarette tax that would raise $10 million a biennium. The measure would not be referred to the people.

Rep. Don McKennis, D-Summersville, submitted a 3 per cent sales tax proposal.

Another sales tax plan, and a 5-cent a pack cigarette tax already have been introduced.

The committee blocked introduction of a measure to eliminate distribution of liquor revenues to cities and counties, and refused to introduce a proposed constitutional change to allow motor fuel tax revenues to go into the general fund.

Civil Rights Struggle Waged In Courtrooms

By United Press International

Courtrooms are serving as backdrops for the latest civil rights struggles.

Justice Department attorneys appeal to the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans today for a temporary restraining order blocking an Alabama grand jury investigation. A Federal District Court judge Tuesday refused to grant such an order.

A grand jury at Selma, Ala., is investigating the free government transportation given Negro leader Martin Luther King Jr. last month from Birmingham to a civil rights rally at Selma. The Justice Department contends the probe amounts to harassment of federal officials.

At Clinton, La., Tuesday state Judge John Rarick, in defiance of a federal order, renewed an injunction against racial demonstrations by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

School board attorneys asked a federal court at Greensboro, N.C., Tuesday to dismiss a desegregation suit by more than 100 Negroes on grounds Cabarrus County schools will lower racial barriers in September. The Negroes are seeking immediate desegregation.

The Mississippi Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that former Marine Byron De La Beckwith was mentally capable of standing trial on a charge of slaying Negro leader Medgar Evers at Jackson, Miss., last June 12. The court, in a 6-3 decision, said Beckwith could not be forced to undergo a mental examination against his will.

Elsewhere in the nation:

Macon, Ga.: A key witness was expected to testify today in the trial of Miss Joni Rabino-witz, a 21-year-old New Rochelle N.Y., white woman charged with giving false testimony to a federal grand jury.

Lexington, N.C.: A police official testified Thursday that one of three Negro youths charged with second degree murder admitted shortly after his arrest that he fired several rifle bullets into a crowd of whites during a June 6 race riot. It is alleged that one of the bullets killed mechanic Fred Link, 24, and another wounded Art Richardson, a photographer for the High Point Enterprise.

Birmingham, Ala.: Five men connected with the National States Rights party Tuesday asked that Federal District Court Judge Clarence Allgood be disqualified from holding their trials on charges of trying to block desegregation.
