Naomi Shrine

Friendship Night at the regular meeting of Naomi Shrine No. 5, Order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem, on Saturday, Oct. 12, at the Masonic Temple, proved to be a true gathering of many friends, members and visitors welcomed by Myrtle Schieferstein, worthy high priestess, and Clyde Brown, watchman of the shepherds, presiding officers.

Preceding the meeting entertainment was enjoyed with a musical program presented by the "Sweet Adelines" under the leadership of Betty Perkins. Afterwards the meeting opened with Myrtle Schieferstein, extending a cordial welcome to many visiting members from shrines in Washington, Oregon and California.

Escorted and introduced in the East were Frank McCracken, District No. 4 from Naomi Shrine, and Laura Douglas, District No. 2, from Friendship Shrine, Salem, members of the supreme material objective board; Nell Hershberger, Nativity Shrine, Grants Pass, Lois Murphy, Naomi Shrine, Klamath Falls, and Agnes Blaser, Gaspar Shrine, The Dalles, district deputies; Don Nicholson, Friendship Shrine, Salem, deputy supreme watchman of shepherds.

Supreme honorary members were welcomed by Lois Murphy, district deputy from Naomi Shrine, as she presided while the following were escorted and introduced in the East: Myrtle Schieferstein, Naomi No. 5, Klamath Falls; Agnes Berry, Nativity No. 40, Grants Pass; Helen Mulkey, Friendship No. 8, Salem; Rose Marie Swager, Cedars of Lebanon No. 9, Lebanon; Alzade Gash, Willamette No. 2, Salem; Clyde Brown, Naomi No. 5, Klamath Falls; Linn Buley, Bethlehem No. 4, Eugene; Jim Abel, Cedars of Lebanon No. 9, Lebanon; Don Snyder, Guiding Star No. 40, Redding; Chester Mulkey, Friendship No. 8, Salem; Wyles Berry, Nativity No. 10, Grants Pass; Carl Elliott, Gaspar No. 3, The Dalles, and a group of 25 past WHP and past WOS members who introduced themselves.

Ruth and Almon Geiss sang "How Great Thou Art" in honor of the special occasion and a poem dedicated to "Friendship" written by Naomi Shrine's poet, James Hunter, was read by Clyde Brown.

Greetings from the Northwest Association were extended by Hans Blaser of Gaspar Shrine. Members were also informed of the advantages of and invited to attend the meetings of the Nine Line Club, by President Agnes Wagness.

Line officers of Naomi Shrine introduced and presented gifts to their special visiting officers present for the evening.

After the meeting was closed, a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed in the dining hall which was transformed into an eerie den of ghosts, witches and black cats for the Halloween theme. Tables were gay with favors, black and orange trim and pumpkin faces. Chairmen for the occasion were Sara and LeRoy-Fisk, Edith Mitchell and Harold Schieferstein.

Members were reminded of the annual smorgasbord of Naomi Shrine, an event of Nov. 16 at the Masonic Temple.

Fur felt bodies make a comeback in fall millinery. Look also for leathers, suedes and reptiles, more furs in the unusual category such as lynx, stencilled calf and white lamb, and ostrich for evening. Trailing ostrich plumes fall almost to the waist on tiny skullcaps hats were shown for evening with the Norman Norell designer collection of ready-to-wear.

FUTURE BRIDE — At a dinner party for family and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Gasperini announced the engagement of their daughter, Jean Angela, to Alfred McSwain Jr. He is the son of former Klamath Falls residents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McSwain, now of Basking Ridge, N. J. The betrothal was also told with the traditional passing of a flower decorated candle to the future bride's Delta Delta Delta sorority sisters on the Oregon State University campus where both young people are senior students. She is majoring in elementary education and her fiancé in engineering. They plan a summer wedding in Sacred Heart Church.

BRIDAL PAIR — The former Judy Taylor and Ronald Collman are shown after their recent wedding at the Alturas home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Codsby, long-time friends of the bride's family. Mr. and Mrs. Grady Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Obil Collman, parents of the pair, were present for the ceremony. The new Mr. and Mrs. Collman are graduates of Klamath Union High School and are presently employed in Portland.

Lodge Meets

MERRILL — Women of the Moose, Merrill Chapter No. 18, met Nov. 5 with 13 members present. The library committee was in charge. The chapter night program consisted of a poem read by Rose Bailey. Candidate Lenora Fowler will be initiated at the next meeting.

Betty Jo Brightman reported on the dinner served to the Lions Club by the Drum Corps. A special prize was awarded Ellen Feigl. The next meeting will be Nov. 19 with the library committee in charge of refreshments.
