3 Explosions Damage Airport Furnace Area

Three trip-hammer explosions severely damaged the furnace in the Klamath Falls airport terminal at Kingsley Field Sunday evening. Airport manager Joe Sawyer said the explosions occurred in the electrical system of the furnace, and electricians were attempting today to determine the exact cause. Sawyer said the blast probably was caused by a faulty switch or faulty oil jets. He said that no one was in the room, located in the middle of the terminal, when the blasts occurred at 5:30. He said the building was shaken by the explosions, which came in quick succession. He said the third and last blast was apparently the worst. The electrical system was severely damaged and the furnace damper was blown out. The room was covered with dirt from the damper and the force of the blasts blew some of the dirt under the boiler room door into the terminal corridor. The blower which carries heat to the various rooms in the terminal was also damaged. Insurance adjusters today were attempting to place a value on the damage. Sawyer said it hasn't been determined when the furnace will be placed back into operation.

Drivers Get Ice Alert

Willamette Pass and the Green Springs Highway were open to traffic today but motorists were advised to carry chains and to be alert to icy road conditions. The Oregon State Highway Department reported overcast skies along both highways with heavy pavement and temperatures near 30 degrees on the Green Springs. One inch of new snow has fallen at Willamette Pass and temperatures were reported at 24 degrees, the department disclosed. The recent snowstorm increased the snow pack to four inches along the roadside. At Grater Lake, the temperature was 19 degrees and the weather clear with no precipitation expected. Four inches of new snow have been recorded, increasing the snow pack to 25 inches. Motorists have been advised to carry chains. In another disclosure, the department reported that McKenzie Pass, linking Eugene and Bend, had been closed to traffic for the winter effective last Sunday.

Pair Won't Join Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky joined Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado Saturday in declining an invitation to enter Maryland's Republican presidential primary next May 19. No response has been received yet from eight others who received the same invitation this week from David Scull, Maryland GOP chairman. Morton, who is viewed as a possible compromise candidate in case of a convention deadlock, assured Scull he would not be a candidate for national office in 1964. He said he felt his chances were so remote that he had discouraged friends from promoting him as a candidate. A former Republican national chairman, Morton also said that as chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee he is expected to remain neutral in contests between Republicans.

Jury Pick In Process

The Bill Unsworth second-degree murder trial began this morning in Circuit Court, but was adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon after Judge Donald A. W. Piper heard motions in chambers. Selection of a jury was expected to begin this afternoon. The motions concerned under which two indictments Unsworth will be tried. Before the Unsworth trial began, Judge Piper placed Jerome Salwei on five years' probation. Salwei had pleaded guilty to forgery. The probation was granted on the condition that Salwei commit himself to the Oregon State Hospital (for 30 to 60 days' treatment and make restitution on all of the checks involved in the case.

CITED FOR HEROISM — Cub Scout Brad Dorscher (center) receives a Certificate of Heroism from Jim Pinniger (left), Boy Scout Modoc Council advancement chairman, who recommended Brad for the award. He was cited for pulling a 4-year-old boy from a millpond last December after the boy fell in. Between Brad and Pinniger is Mrs. Nina Price, president of the Pelican School PTA, which sponsors Brad's Cub Scout pack, and Brad's former den mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dorscher, Brad's parents, are at right. The certificate was awarded by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

Man Slightly Injured In Shotgun Accident

A 45-year-old Klamath Falls man was slightly injured in a hunting accident at Miller Island Saturday when he was hit on the shoulder and ear with several stray pellets discharged at close range from a .410 gauge shotgun, Oregon State Police have reported. The injured, John Richard Williamson, 4118 Douglas Street, drove to the Klamath Valley Hospital where he was treated for his wounds and later released. Williamson told police that he and his 9-year-old son were walking through tall grass at the public hunting grounds when the barrel of the youth's shotgun became entangled in some weeds. The boy jerked the gun upwards and as he did so it discharged in the direction of his father, about four feet away. Williamson escaped serious injuries when the major portion of the blast went past him. The hospital reported the incident to police who learned the details of the shooting from Williamson.

Driver Hurt In Mishap

A 22-year-old Klamath Falls man was injured early Sunday morning when his car ran out of control on Behn Street, slid into the Highway 97 freeway north of Klamath Falls and overturned in the center strip. The car wound up on its side in the northbound lanes of the freeway. Ted Leroy Rogers, 1216 Pine Street, was treated at Klamath Valley Hospital for apparently non-serious head injuries. Rogers told police the brakes failed on his 1956 sedan when he came to the stop sign at the freeway and he slid into the southbound lanes and then overturned in the center strip. He was cited by police for violation of the basic rule after the 2:35 a.m. crash.

Thieves Strip Parked Vehicle

Mrs. Francis Beard, 612 North Eighth, parked her small foreign car at Eighth and High streets Sunday evening and left it. Forty-five minutes later, she returned and found that her transmission had been stolen. The brazen thief or thieves had dismantled the drive train of the car on a busy downtown street and stolen the transmission. City police are investigating.

Off-Duty Policeman Involved In 2 Fights

An off-duty police sergeant who intervened in an argument at a South Sixth Street theater Sunday evening wound up in two fights for his trouble. Two youths involved in the first ruckus were booked at city jail, and then one of the two was re-booked at county jail after the second fight. Gerald Jessup, 19, 5065 Harlan Drive, was booked for disorderly conduct and later booked at county jail. His companion, Frederick Tracy, 20, 1017 Melrose Street, was booked for drunk and disorderly conduct. Sgt. Dennis Lilly said he was emerging from the Tower Theater at 9:20 p.m. Sunday when he saw the two youths in an argument with theater manager Robert McGuire. He intervened and told the youths to go home, then walked with them to the parking lot. Lilly said he told Tracy not to drive because he was drunk, but Tracy became angered and said, "You can't stop me." Lilly arrested him for drunkenness. At that point, he took Tracy by the arm to lead him back to the theater so a police car could be called, but Tracy jerked away, pulling Lilly to the ground. Lilly grabbed Tracy again and held him. Finally the youths were calmed down and taken to city jail and booked. Later, Jessup hailed out of jail and Lilly drove him home. When they reached Jessup's home, he began fighting with Lilly and kicking him. Lilly drove off, returned with two state policemen and had Jessup arrested for the second attack. Lilly suffered cuts on his face, and bruises on his leg.

Council To Hear Report On Rezoning Proposal

The City Planning Commission is scheduled to report to the City Council tonight on its recommendations on the proposed rezoning of an area for construction of several multiple-family residences. John Glabrecht is seeking the rezoning for property he owns in the Loma Linda area. The council meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers at city hall. In other business, there will be the first and second readings of an ordinance adopting the revised city code as the law of Klamath Falls. The classifying of city ordinances was recently completed by a Los Angeles firm.

Chiloquin Tutor Hurt When Beaten By Thugs

A Chiloquin school teacher was badly beaten by three thugs about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, after he stopped his car near Wocus to aid a motorist whose automobile appeared to have stalled along the shoulder of Highway 97, Oregon State Police have disclosed. In satisfactory condition at the Klamath Valley Hospital today is Lindy Ray Rogers, 35, who sustained bruises, cuts and a rib injury when he was beaten unconscious and robbed of his billfold containing $3 in payment for his attempt to be a good Samaritan. Rogers told police that he was en route to Chiloquin from Klamath Falls early Sunday morning when he was hailed near Wocus by a motorist whose car had apparently stalled. Police records indicate that Rogers stopped his car on the edge of the road and then was forcibly removed from his vehicle by the man who had flagged him for assistance. Rogers' assailant then summoned two companions from the stalled car and the three men beat the victim unconscious. Rogers regained consciousness later the same day and discovered that he had been relieved of his billfold and his car had been ransacked. He described the man who hailed him as about 20 or 25 years old, 5'9" tall, 150 pounds, with dark hair combed in a ducktail. The car of his assailant was a light green, 1955 Mercury. Anyone having information relating to the incident is urged to contact state police.

City Police Investigate 2 Burglaries

Police are investigating three burglaries in Klamath Falls over the weekend—two of houses and one of a barbershop. Authorities indicated that one house burglary and the shop entry may be related. In each case, a door was forced open by the burglar's weight. Roscoe Hahn, 820 Martin, a minister, reported to police at 3 p.m. Friday that his house had been entered. He said he and his wife left Nov. 10 for a trip and discovered the entry when they returned Friday afternoon. Police found that a side door had been forced open. Two watches and three pairs of gloves were taken. Police found burned matches throughout the house, apparently used by the burglar for light. George McIntyre reported at 5:15 p.m. Friday that a friend's house at 409 Lincoln had been entered. He said the friend, Burge Mason, was out of town and he discovered the break-in while collecting mail at Mason's house. Police found that glass in a back door had been broken to gain entry. McIntyre could find nothing missing, but said police would have to wait until Mason returned before getting a more complete inventory of any possible loss. A patrolling policeman found the back door of Jeff's Barber-shop, 1010 Main Street, standing open at 1:25 a.m. Saturday. It had been broken open by the burglar's weight. Nothing was apparently taken from the shop.

Two Hurt In Crash

A woman and her 2-year-old son were injured Sunday evening when their car was struck in the rear by a pickup truck drawing a trailer house at South Seventh and Oak streets. Police said Mrs. Karen Griggs, 20, complained of pain and her son, Vernon, suffered bruises. The woman's husband, Clifton Griggs, 21, 924 Donald Street, and the couple's young daughter, Belinda, also riding in the car, were not hurt. Police said the Griggs' 1960 compact sedan was stopped for a red light on Seventh at Oak when their car was struck in the rear by a pickup truck being driven on Seventh by Warren Gale Eggsman, 30, of Chiloquin. He was cited for violation of the basic rule.

Bills Nixed By Council

The Klamath County Chapter of the Oregon Fish and Game Council has gone on record as opposing three federal bills which would affect public lands, it developed at the group's regular meeting Thursday. The chapter objected to the passage of: Land and Conservation Bill No. SB859 which would require the purchase of an automobile windshield sticker to enter government lands. Udall Bill HR255 which permits the Department of Interior to sell public lands not to the highest bidder, but to whom they believe to be the most responsible. Wilderness Bill SB4 which sets aside as a wilderness area some 60 million acres in various parts of the United States to the exclusion of logging, grazing, or mining interests. The membership also voted to use billboard advertising to express its views on issues relating to game management. The next meeting of the council is scheduled for the second week of December at a date and place to be announced later.

Police Catch Young Prowler

A 16-year-old Klamath Falls youth was apprehended Friday evening outside a Lincoln Street home by police who responded to a report of a prowler near the house. The boy admitted prowling the house with the idea of being a "peeping tom" and also admitted making several crank telephone calls in recent months. Police are questioning him about a list of similar incidents. Police received the call of a prowler at 8:25 p.m. Friday and nabbed the youth emerging from bushes near the house. His case will be handled by juvenile authorities.
