Club Plans Decor Sale

ALTURAS — The annual holiday sale of fall and Christmas decorations sponsored by the Alturas Garden Club will be held Thursday, Nov. 21, at the Whistlestop clubhouse in Alturas.

The annual sale of holiday decorations made by members of the club has become so popular in Alturas that last year the club members initiated the hobo lunch which is served from 11:30 until late afternoon for the holiday buyers. The cost of the sack lunch is one dollar. Along with the Christmas decorations, the club offers a cake and candy sale of homemade treats.

NEW USE FOR FUR
 Large handbags that can serve as small attache cases are turning up this fall and winter in fake fur. The fur-like fabric comes in jungle cat prints.

Mrs. Robert Schluter is chairman of the hobo lunch; Mrs. Clifford Bailey, chairman of the food sale, and Mrs. Russ Enderlin and Mrs. Harold Meford co-chairmen of the holiday arrangements.

Leather Boots

NEW YORK (NEA) — It isn't the storm boot that's stealing the season's thunder. Boots for every occasion, in everything from leather to lace, have strutted in and taken over the fall fashion scene.

There are sturdy leather boots for country walks, butter-soft leather and suede for a day in town and boots of brocade and lace for evening wear.

In keeping with the tailored daytime look, the new boot silhouette is high and limb-hugging. More faithful to the contours of the leg than the wider-cut boot seen last year, this pared-down shape gives the boot an "at-home" look indoors as well as out.

How high the boot? It can be high-high, reminiscent of the fisherman's boot in dark smooth or grained leathers with back lacing.

There are above-ankle boots, dress-boot shoes, and for the gal who can't quite make up her mind to go all out for this new fashion there are buttoned spats to give a boot to her classic pumps whenever the spirit moves her.

Style detailing is simple. Fur cuffs, braided trim, angled top-lines and gores of contrasting color are most popular. Leather boots and teen-agers feature silver and gold buckles.

The color palette of fall boots is country browns and greens, bright scarlet and blue and soft antelope, mustard and cranberry. Comforting thought: For any occasion, you can take the high road to fashion, well and pleasantly shod in boots.

has been a boom in the sale of loungewear since it has been glamorized, updated and called "at-home wear." It seems we don't mind an invasion of our private lives when it takes the form of a new clothes category.

Stores are opening boutiques specializing in leisure clothes and corduroy, hardy and inexpensive, is a favorite in these designs.

There are elegant white, wide-wale jump suits and wild shifts printed in an all-over snakeskin pattern.

Floor-length skirts are no longer associated only with the ballroom. They are strong runners-up to slacks outfits for at-home wear.

Culottes, combining the best features of skirt and pants are firmly in the fashion picture, too. One notable design is a black and white Picasso print on pinwaile in a flowing, one-piece culotte gown.

The new private-life look covers a multitude of leisure occasions—after ski evenings, country dinner parties, city entertaining at home and just looking glamorous for the family.

Some at-home costumes are so handsome that an impromptu invitation to a party will be no problem. You can go as you are.
