New Duo Become Leaders

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) — Two young newcomers to the professional golf tour, Joe Moresco and Duke Matthews, share the lead today going into the second round of the $20,000 Cajun Classic golf tournament.

Moresco of Woodmere Country Club, Long Island, N. Y., and Matthews, of Eugene, Ore., fired 66s Thursday over the par 72 Oakburne Country Club course.

Four players tied for third at 67. They were Dick Crawford of Rye, N. Y.; Harold Kneece of Aiken, S. C.; Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Jim Cassia of Mahopac, N. Y.

Next at 68 were Al Kelley Jr. of Orlando, Fla.; Tex Baxter Jr. of Amarillo, Tex.; Bob Goetz of Tulsa, Okla.; Chris Gers of Burneyville, Okla.; Jack Bissegger of Quebec; Stan Thirsk of Mission, Kan., and Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La.

Tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus bogeyed the final hole of the day and finished with a 69 on the wind-swept course.

Defending champion John Barnum of Columbus, Ohio, was six strokes off the pace with a 72. That put him far back in the field, as more than 50 professionals smashed par on the 6,700-yard course.

Beavers Favored; San Francisco Has Chance

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Unless someone comes up with a defense to stop the great Mel Counts, Oregon State is expected to waltz away with the West Coast college basketball honors this year.

The only team given a chance to stop the Beavers is University of San Francisco.

And that, if it materializes, will leave the Big Six schools out in the cold when it comes to representing this area in the NCAA playoffs.

"Oregon State has to be rated the team to beat for the western NCAA championship," says little Rene Herrerias, coach at University of California. "And next in line should be University of San Francisco."

Stanford and UCLA, the defending co-champions of the Big Six, should be listed as co-favorites for the AAWU league crown.

Count On Counts

Oregon State lost its All-American football player, Terry Baker, but Counts was the big man in the Beaver attack, anyway, and he'll be on the job, better than ever. Two young sophomore stars on last year's team, which wound up fourth in the NCAA tourney, also are on the job: Jim Jarvis and Frank Peters. They'll handle the backcourt work.

USF has an All-American potential in Ollie Johnson to lead the way in defense of its West Coast Athletic Conference crown.

"We have the potential to retain the title," says Coach Pete Peletta. "But our sophomores will have to jell with the veterans."

Three fine sophomores are Joe Ellis, Russ Gumina and Erwin Mueller. Veterans returning back include Dave Lee, Ed Thomas and Jim Brovellia, in addition to Johnson.

Stanford has Tom Dose, high-scoring center returning, along with Hollis Moore and Doug Clementson. There is a real fine sophomore in Bob Bedell, 6 feet 6 forward. Coach Howie Dallmar will have plenty of height.

UCLA gets just about it's whole team back. Heading the cast is high-scoring Walt Hazard. Fred Slaughter and Gail Goodrich also will be on hand.

Southern California has something of a rebuilding job. The Trojans lost Gordon Martin, the league's leading scorer last year; and guard Gary Holman signed a professional baseball contract. A fine prospect is Allen Young, a 6 foot 9 junior college transfer.

Huskies Rebuilding

Washington also will be rebuilding with new players under a new coach, Mac Duckworth. Key to success of the club may be center Clint Peeples, 6 feet 9 senior, who will have to improve his scoring to make the Huskies click. Other prospects include Charley Hart, Stu Wilson and Lynn Nance, the latter a hot junior college transfer.

California, hoping to get off the floor after a sad season, could have a good club, led by center Camden Wall. Dan Lufkin will be the team leader, and Dan Wolthers is expected to aid the club.

Washington State, which also had tough sledding in 1962-63, has the whole team back, including some good youngsters. Among the stars will be Byron Vadset, a senior guard and playmaker; and Dale Ford, a 6 feet 4 forward who has just been "discovered" as a fine football quarterback.

Coach Steve Belko at Oregon is counting on a frosh whiz, Jim Barnett, to improve the fortunes of the Webfoots. He has some seasoned talent to go along, including Steve Jones, Jim Johnson, Elliott Gleeson and Bob Yates. But he still hasn't found a top-flight center.

Santa Clara, St. Mary's Pepperdine, Loyola and University of Pacific all expected to show improvement this year. But they all are in the WCAC, where the dons of USF are expected to dominate.

Lakers Take First On Scoring Of West

By United Press International

The Boston Celtics (12-1) may win the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title in a walk, but there's some fast stepping going on in the Wild West.

The Los Angeles Lakers, boosted by Jerry West's 25 points, snatched the Western Division lead back from St. Louis by clubbing the Hawks 111-99 in the only NBA game played Thursday night.

But tonight and Saturday night the Lakers play the third-place San Francisco Warriors, who could seize the division leadership themselves with two straight wins. Laker Coach Fred Schaus points out that the Warriors, who allowed opponents an average of 123 points last season, have improved their defenses to the point where they are now yielding an average of 99.5 points a game.

In other games scheduled for tonight, Boston is at Philadelphia, New York at Baltimore and Detroit at Cincinnati.

West didn't get much scoring assistance from teammate Elgin Baylor Thursday night in Los Angeles' Sports Arena. Baylor, the second highest scorer in the NBA last season, came up with a Charley horse and switched to the role of passer. Baylor had a personal season high of 12 assists, but only scored eight points.

Cliff Hagan, coming off the bench in the first quarter, led the Hawks with 26 points. Bob Pettit got only six points in the first half and wound with 20.
