

Papers Of Free World Praise John Kennedy

By United Press International
The newspapers of the free world joined in a single voice Saturday to mourn the death of President John F. Kennedy with black-bordered editorials calling him a champion of liberty.

The press in the Communist bloc nations also expressed sorrow over the assassination. One Communist newspaper, the London Daily Worker, mixed criticism with grief. It attacked Kennedy for "hatred of Cuba" and "inadequate" civil rights policies.

Editorial comment included: London Daily Herald: "The Stalins of the world mostly die in their beds. It is the Lincolns and the Kennedys who are shot down. Rest in peace, John Kennedy. You helped us much."

The Manchester Guardian: "A tragedy for the world."
The Times of London: "The assassination of President Kennedy is a shock great enough to shake the structure of the world."

Glasgow Herald: "An international disaster. He was the captain courage of the Western Alliance... the true friend of Britain and the embodiment of all that is greatest in the tradition of the American presidency."

Paris Liberation: "One of the greatest catastrophes in the world."

Lisbon Diario de Noticias: "The most powerful man on earth who has done everything to safeguard peace has fallen beneath a criminal's bullet."

West Berlin Telegraph: "The German people are united in deep homage to a man whose heart beat for the freedom of Germany and the freedom of Berlin."

Helsinki Sanomat: "...A catastrophe reaching over state frontiers and the world, split by political ideologies. It affects the whole history of the world."

Oslo Aftenpost: "His death has put an increased obligation on the American people to carry on his fight... There is no reason to fear that it will lead to any change or weakening of the basic lines which have marked American foreign policy."

Cairo Al Gomhouris: "...one of the greatest, if not the greatest, presidents in America's modern history. The world has lost a bulwark of peace and lost an active soldier. The Negroes lost a true friend."

Belgrade Daily Politika: "...a statement deeply convinced that mankind needed nothing more than a lasting peace. A brutal crime."

Warsaw Zycie Warszawy: "Kennedy was more far-sighted than his predecessors. He was better aware than they of the conditions and possibilities of the present international situation. He took account more than they of the necessities of the atomic era, of the new alignment of forces in the world."

TV Cable Offer Rejected

DUNSMUIR—An offer by the Dunsmuir Television Cable Company to take over the television translator system operated by the Dunsmuir Key Club has been rejected, according to a statement by David Otis, Key Club attorney.

John Burgess, owner of the cable company, offered to drop litigation against the Key Club if the club relinquished the translator to him, Otis said. Burgess has maintained a cable reception system in Dunsmuir since 1955.

Otis' statement, prepared for the board of directors of the Key Club, pointed out the club's responsibility to defend and protect television viewers from monopoly possibilities. The suit charges the club installed the translator in order to put the cable company out of business and asks $49,500 in damages.

The board of directors of the Key Club maintains the translator television reception installed by the Key Club in December of 1961 serves Mount Shasta, Dunsmuir, Castella, and Sacramento canyon and is no way comparable to the cable reception system which serves Dunsmuir proper only.

Television reception in Dunsmuir is supplied by cable to subscribers who paid an initial installation fee and continue to pay a monthly service rate. The translator reception service is a Key Club project, and installation costs were met by a public subscription campaign. Translator maintenance costs are being met by voluntary membership fees to the Key Club.

Last summer the Key Club collected on the last 47 of its 600 support pledges through small claims court action.

Pope Says Special Mass

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said Saturday that it was his prayerful wish that President Kennedy's assassination be a sacrifice and an example for the good of all mankind.

The pontiff made the remarks during a scheduled audience for representatives of 104 nations attending a United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization meeting.

Earlier, the Pope said a special Mass in memory of the late President which he offered up "for the peace of his soul, for the comfort of those who weep for his death and that not hate but love may reign in humanity."

Speaking in English to the U.N. delegates, the Pope said he could not commence his discourse without referring to the "tragic death" of the President.

"We wish to reiterate here the sentiments to which we already have given public expression—our deploration of the criminal action, our admiration for the man and his sentiments, our prayers for his eternal repose, for his country and for the world which recognized him as a great leader," the Pope said.
