Road Work Hearing Set

The public hearing on the proposed widening and paving of a portion of Homedale Road will be held 10:30 a.m., Wednesday, Nov. 27, at the Klamath County Court, the county commissioners reminded interested persons today.

The portion of the road to be improved extends from Shasta Way to a point 260 feet north of the south line of Lot 54, Fair Acres Subdivision.

The hearing had originally been set for Nov. 1 but was deferred until Nov. 27 to allow the commissioners more time to study the proposal.

Hicks Gives Guilty Plea

Harold Hicks of Chiloquin today pleaded guilty to simple assault in Judge Donald A. W. Piper's circuit court and will be sentenced Monday.

Hicks had been charged with assault with a dangerous weapon for the shooting of his wife in Chiloquin March 24, 1962.

His wife, Verna, was shot with a .22 - calibre pistol and was listed on the critical list at Klamath Valley Hospital for several days following the incident.

She was shot at the home of James Wright in Chiloquin. Hicks told authorities the shooting was accidental and occurred while he was toying with the pistol. He was indicted by the grand jury for assault with a dangerous weapon and the guilty plea was entered to the lesser charge today with the consent of the district attorney's office.

The Hicks case was the last in this term of court and Judge Piper excused the jury panel after six months of service.

A new panel is expected to be installed Monday and a new term of court will begin.

Jury Rules Against Unsworth

A jury of 10 women and two men returned a 10-2 guilty verdict late Saturday night against William Unsworth, charged with second-degree murder in the shooting of Tony Moore in Beatty a year and half ago.

The jury deliberated less than three hours before returning the split verdict against the 54-year-old Unsworth.

The jurors received the case at 6 p.m. after an unusual Saturday session in the circuit court of Judge Donald A. W. Piper, but didn't start deliberations until 8 p.m., after dinner. The verdict was returned at 10:40 p.m.

It was the second time Unsworth had been convicted of the crime. The first verdict was set aside by the State Supreme Court. The shooting of Moore took place in April 1962 in Unsworth's cabin in Beatty.

looked up to the reporters gallery in the British House of Commons and said: "Yonder sits the Fourth Estate, more important than ALL the others." The other three estates of which he referred were the Clergy, the Nobility and the Common People.

In these four tragic days, TV has done a magnificent job. It has recorded history in LIVING, moving pictures. If we could see Paul Revere's ride, if we could see the embattled farmers at Lexington and Concord, if we could see Washington at Valley Forge, if we could see Abraham Lincoln delivering his Gettysburg Address, and the other great moments of our history, we would have a better understanding of the GREATNESS of our past and the men who made it.

So —

Gentlemen of the moving camera and the microphone — We of the pen and the pencil and the typewriter and the STILL camera welcome you to the sacred precincts of the Fourth Estate.

Local Resident In Dallas On Fatal Day; Aftermath Of Assassination Described

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bocchi of Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., Klamath Falls, were in Dallas, Tex., at the time of the assassination of President Kennedy and later of Lee Harvey Oswald. They had flown to the Texas city to attend annual meetings of the National Bottlers Convention, the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Association, and to visit Mrs. Bocchi's mother and other relatives.

Bocchi heard Vice President Lyndon Johnson speak at the National Bottlers' meeting during the early part of the week and was attending the Pepsi-Cola meeting, headquartered in the Baker Hotel near the assassination point of the President, on Friday. They had left the session at 12:45 p.m. and a few moments later heard the news of the President's death.

The city of Dallas became a city of comparative silence, Bocchi reported on his return home. It was a stunned silence. Motorists quieted horns. Men and women spoke in hushed tone, horrified at the news. Bellboys and waitresses lost interest in duties and luncheon guests at the meeting had no taste for food.

The final sessions of the Pepsi-Cola meeting were rushed through with essential business. Some 400 delegates and business representatives were present at this meeting where Bocchi met Joan Crawford of the Pepsi-Cola Company, Miss America of 1963, Richard Nixon, whose law firm represents the Pepsi-Cola interests and the new national president of the company, Donald Kendall of New York City.

Visitors to the city of Dallas, apprehensive they would not be able to leave by air, train or bus, jammed the travel terminals.

Thousands of people crowded the area near the assassination route, stalling taxis and all automobile traffic which backed up for miles.

People of Dallas brought wreaths of flowers to lay at the spot where the President was shot and sent donations to help the family of the fatally wounded police officer. Everything in the city closed.

The corner room of the White Plaza Hotel where Mr. and Mrs. Bocchi were registered gave them a clear view of the city jail building. They were able to watch the crowds milling about the building. Bocchi, as well as unnumbered other civilians, including youths, went in and out of the building without challenge. He saw 18 police at one time outside the building but the public was not kept from the premises. The jail was on the top floor.

The slain officer was killed only a few blocks from the home of Mrs. Bocchi's mother.

Cedar Pass Road Work Is Started

ALTURAS—The United States Forest Service in Alturas reported that work began Wednesday, Nov. 20, on the Cedar Pass recreation road. The road will give access to the Cedar Pass ski area and a newly proposed campground in the canyon.

The new road has been long awaited by local skiers who have had to hike in and out of the ski area. The hike out of the ski area is up a steep hill some one-quarter-mile to the highway parking lot.

Skiers in the Modoc Ski Club feel that the new road will greatly encourage skiing at the ski hill and facilitate more visitors to the hill who have been previously discouraged by the long hike in and out.

Forest service spokesmen said that the contract for construction of the road was let last week to the Barrett Construction Company of Redding on a bid of $24,500. The monies for the project is being allocated by the United States Accelerated public works program.

Besides the one-half-mile access road, the construction company will build a 50-car parking area and install sanitary facilities.

The contract was awarded on a basis of 180 working days to complete the construction. "Unless the weather remains, unusually open and mild, it is doubtful that the road can be finished for use this year," a spokesman said.

Ski Swap Scheduled

MOUNT SHASTA—The annual Ski Swap sponsored by the Mount Shasta Snowmen Ski Club will be held on Saturday, Dec. 7, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Shasta Arcade building.

Anyone is eligible to buy or sell at the swap.

State Senator Is Threatened

PORTLAND (UPI) — Sheriff Donald E. Clark said today State Sen. Ted Hallock, D-Portland, was given permission to carry a weapon after a telephoned threat.

Hallock said a man called Walter Daggett, his campaign manager, referred to recent events in Dallas, Tex., and added, ". . . you tell Hallock that we have him on a list."

stand was announced. Gov. Mark Hatfield said he did not expect the state would request Boeing to negotiate a revision of the lease. He said it was the same basic lease that was published in 1961.

However, Smith contended that sections covering the use of waterfront property and allowing Boeing to sublease the land for agricultural purposes are new.

In Salem, Musa said he had "a profound faith in this proposition" and felt it would be of lasting benefit to the area. The Boardman issue comes before the special session of the legislature which reconvenes next Monday.

Jail Mattress Catches Fire

A fire in a cell this morning filled the city jail with smoke, but just damaged a mattress.

A trusty reported the fire at 7:30 a.m. and firemen were called. They found the fire confined to the mattress in the cell of a woman prisoner. It had apparently been caused by a cigarette.

Smoke ejectors were used to clear the building.

Charge Told

William Lyle Brewer forfeited $25 bail Nov. 18 when he appeared in municipal court on a charge of being a minor in possession of liquor. The charge was not drunkenness, as previously reported.
