Klamath Police Investigate Double Knifing During Fight

Klamath Falls police today were attempting to unravel an apparent knife fight in a Siskiyou Street house Tuesday night which resulted in knife wounds to a 21-year-old woman and a 34-year-old man.

Police Hold Husband In Slaying Of Woman

A 42-year-old Klamath Falls woman was killed by a gunshot wound inflicted by her husband following a domestic quarrel in the family automobile near the Klamath County Nursing Home on Summers Lane, about 10:50 p.m., last night, Oregon State Police reported today.

The incident marked the second gun slaying in Klamath County since last Friday, when Eugene A. Beierle shot his 23-year-old wife in a rear room of their home at 1050 Kane Street.

Police Ball

The annual Policeman's Ball will be held tonight in the National Guard Armory on Shasta Way.

The man, Doyle Wayne Blackwood, 303 Washington Street, was also taken to Klamath Valley with a severe wound in his abdomen. Police said the wound is one and a half inches long and "quite deep."

Police said the fight apparently occurred in the living room of a house at 1855 Siskiyou Street about 9 o'clock Tuesday night.

The officer said that Mrs. Dixon entered her husband's car and the couple began quarreling. Finally, the policeman placated the two people and he returned to police headquarters on Altamont Drive while they drove off along Summers Lane.

Police officers rushed outside to the car and discovered Mrs. Dixon bleeding from a bullet wound on her left temple. They summoned Peace Ambulance but the victim succumbed before it arrived.

This is the story Mrs. Lamauto and the others gave of the incident: They had been drinking and Blackwood walked into the house and began talking to the men. Suddenly he came over to Mrs. Lamauto and tried to make advances toward her.

He pulled her away and he struck her with his fists. The woman said she fell to the floor and when she regained her senses, she was covered with blood from a slash wound above her left eye and Blackwood was standing over her with an open pocketknife in his hand.

A scuffle in the living room ensued with Badger also involved. It was broken up and the woman was taken to a tavern, where she met her uncle and from which she was taken to Klamath Valley Hospital in a taxi cab.

Blackwood was taken to his brother's home. Police were informed of the affair by the hospital. An hour after the woman arrived at the hospital, Blackwood arrived in an ambulance and police were again called.

Blackwood gives a different account of how he received his wound. His wife, Gloria, backs him up in this account. Mrs. Blackwood said her husband came home shortly after 9 p.m., intoxicated. She said he went into the kitchen and she heard him "banging around."

Area Churches Plan Thanksgiving Services

Thanksgiving—by Presidential proclamation—is designated as a time to reflect and offer prayers of thanks for the blessings of the closing year.

On Thursday morning, the unique American festival will be observed in churches throughout the Klamath Falls area with beloved hymns and anthems, Psalms and prayer, as it will be in all corners of the nation.

Members of the congregation will participate in the traditional family Thanksgiving Day service to be held at the Mt. Laki Community Presbyterian Church, according to the pastor, Rev. Andrew A. Jarvis.

Four members will speak on "What Thanksgiving Means To Me." They are Don Bowman, Georgia Kiger, Carol Wynant, and Gordon Darling.

Rev. Norbert E. Dey has selected "I Will Bless While I Live" as his sermon topic for the Thanksgiving Day service at Zion Lutheran Church. The service will begin at 10 a.m.

Rev. Robert L. Greene, minister, will give the meditation, and the choir will sing the anthem, "Sing To The Lord of Harvest" by William.

A Thanksgiving Day service will be sponsored jointly by the Immanuel Baptist Church and the Bible Baptist Church. Immanuel Baptist will host the 10 a.m. worship hour.

A traditional Thanksgiving Day service will be held in all Christian Science churches on Thursday morning. The local First Church of Christ, Scientist has scheduled its service at 11 a.m.

The service will also include hymns, prayer, and a special period during which church members in the congregation may stand up and express their thanks.

The Suburban Christian Church and the First Christian Church will meet together for their annual Thanksgiving service at 11 a.m. in the First Christian sanctuary.

Rev. Lee Shater is pastor of Suburban Christian and Rev. Robert L. John is pastor of First Christian Church.

Three Thanksgiving services will be offered at Sacred Heart Catholic Church on Thursday morning. Masses will be said at 7, 8, and 9:30 a.m.

Official at the holiday services will be Msgr. T. P. Casey and Rev. Charles T. Grant.

At 10 a.m. the sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed by the congregation of the First Methodist Church, said Rev. Ralph Richardson, pastor.

Protestant services will be conducted at 10 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day in the Kingsley Field Chapel by Chaplain William A. Thoresen. The senior choir and junior department of the Sunday School will present the special music.

Chaplain Francis J. Bartos will officiate at the Catholic service in the chapel. Thanksgiving Mass will be said at 11 a.m.

Rev. Warren Pechman will speak on "Let Us Give Thanks" at the 10 a.m. service of Hope Lutheran Church on Thanksgiving Day.

The senior choir, directed by Jackie Backlin, will present a traditional anthem, "Thanks Be To Thee" by Handel.

Rev. Robert C. Groves, minister, will give the meditation, and the choir will sing the anthem, "Sing To The Lord of Harvest" by William.

Rev. John Henderson, assistant pastor of Bible Baptist, will deliver the sermon, "The Song of the Sufferer."

SPEC. 5 JAMES D. PARKER

ia, in 1959. In 1961 he joined the special forces and was sent to Vientiane, Laos, in 1962. His last tour of duty took him to Vietnam.

Mrs. Parker is making her home in San Jose. During his duty abroad, the young serviceman became deeply concerned with the plight of children and the inadequately equipped orphanages.

Survivors in addition to the widow, Barbara, San Jose, Calif., are father, Dalton Parker, Othello, Wash.; a brother, Michael Parker, Albuquerque, N.M.; one sister, Mrs. Virginia Barnes, Tulelake; granddaughters, James O'Connor, Klamath Falls, and Mrs. Dan Berry and Mrs. Jerry Ahern, Merrill; uncle, M. J. O'Connor, Klamath Falls; a niece and nephew, Brenda and Donald Barnes, Tulelake, and other relatives.

Police said Mrs. Merrill, 1949 Melrose Street, told them she had stopped for the stop sign on Portland, then pulled across Kit Carson in front of the other auto, a 1956 sedan, which was eastbound on Kit Carson.

The second auto was driven by Alvis Clayton Smith, 20, 1715 Fargo. Both autos received moderate damages in the 12:10 p.m. crash.

Autos Collide At Intersection. A two-car collision at Ninth and High streets Tuesday afternoon resulted in major damages to one auto and moderate damages to the other.

Visit Planned Over Holiday. Mrs. W. P. Myers, 879 Lakeshore Drive, will spend Thanksgiving weekend in Portland and Vancouver, Wash.

Gun Wounds Bird Hunter. A Dorris youth was wounded on the hand while pheasant hunting Monday when the shotgun he was carrying discharged as he was climbing out of a ditch, the Klamath Valley Hospital has reported to Oregon State Police.

Unhappy Druggists Hear Explanation On Welfare. SALEM (UPI)—About 100 unhappy druggists from throughout Oregon heard State Welfare Administrator Andrew Juras explain Tuesday why their payments had been slashed 35 percent this month.

"I think this is a real first-class bureaucratic snow job," Klamath Falls druggist Malcolm Woodward said of Juras' comments.

Juras told the druggists the Welfare Department had just $1 million to spend on drugs during the 1963-65 biennium. He said the department had spent more than the budgeted amount for the first three months of the fiscal year, but from here on only $39,000 a month will be paid for drugs, regardless of how large the billings.

Woodward said druggists in his area actually lost money providing drugs for welfare recipients.

Gion also said that he had no knowledge that Malcolm Woodward, quoted in the above UPI press release, was a practicing druggist in the Klamath Falls area. Woodward is not a member of the local association, but it is possible that he is a retired druggist who lives here locally, Gion said.

Mrs. Bonita Rogers, 5325 Shasta Way, told police that her car was forced off the road by another vehicle as it was overtaking her automobile. Mrs. Rogers was not injured but her automobile was slightly damaged.
