

News From The Services

Five members of the Naval Reserve facility in Klamath Falls have been advanced to the rank of seaman apprentice from seaman recruit. They are Robert C. Duggan, 5035 Summers Lane; Gordon L. Luft, 422 North Third Street; Steven R. Owen, 619 North Eighth Street; Gary A. Sommers, 1905 Sargent Street; and Garry L. Wilson, 225 Main Street. All except Duggan are seniors at Klamath Union High School. Duggan graduated from KUHS last June.

Walter K. Killian, a member of the local Naval Reserve facility, has returned to Klamath Falls from a two-year tour of active duty. He joined the reserve at KUHS and went on active duty upon graduation from high school in 1961. While on active duty, he served aboard the USS Coral Sea in the Orient. He intends to enter Oregon Technical Institute in January.

DAN R. MALLEY

The Naval Reserve facility's recruiting officer, Lt. D. C. McCaughy, announced that in accordance with a new direct former servicemen may enlist in the reserve. He said most may enlist at their former pay grade and may qualify for four days of pay per month by attending weekly reserve meetings. He said further information is available by calling TU 4-7115, or from the facility at Kingsley Field.

RECEIVING LETTERS

LONDON (UPI) — A British television star who described the world-wide mourning for John F. Kennedy as "humbly" said today he has received threatening letters.

Bernard Braden, master of ceremonies of a Saturday night program, questioned the sincerity of the mourning because, he said, Kennedy had many enemies.
