Party Fetes Goldenweds

Alonzo M. and Agnes White were married in Great Falls, Mont., on Nov. 19, 1913. Fifty years later, this year, they observed the day on Nov. 17 at the home of their youngest son, Edward J. and his wife, Kitty, on the Merrill Highway.

The Whites, who are residents of Newport, Ore., were greeted by about 70 guests during the reception hours of 2 until 5 p.m. Included among the guests were two sons, Leon White of Seattle, Robert White and his wife, Kaye, and their three children, Billy Shell; and Perry of San Francisco; two daughters, Ruby Garner, San Diego, and her three sons, Michael, Ricky and Steven, and Lois Shaw of Gardena, Calif. One son, Harvey and his children of Boston, Mass., were unable to be present.

The reception table was adorned with a beautiful gold arrangement fashioned by Norma Uerlings and the traditional wedding cake trimmed with roses of yellow and gold. Other decorations about the home were fall flowers complementary to the golden wedding theme.

Zuleima Nile

The Klamath Falls Zuleima Nile Club collected jams and jellies for the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital at their luncheon meeting Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the Winema Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Anderson showed pictures of their recent trip to Europe and Israel.

Fall flowers in horns of plenty used as table decor were given as prizes to Princesses Peggy Harnsberger, Flo Steinsel, Marlys O'Neill, Mary Johnson and Eve Alley.

The committee was introduced and thanked by Princess Margarite Breithaupt.

Princess Dorothy Neet announced that cards would be played at 10 a.m. before the meeting on Dec. 4.

The next ceremonial will be a potluck luncheon at Grants Pass on Dec. 14.
