Johnson Makes Good First Impression With European Leaders

LONDON (UPI)—In its first stock-taking of President Lyndon B. Johnson, Europe has given him a thumbs up vote.

After the first shock over the assassination of President Kennedy, and even some panic, a mood of confidence that leadership of the Western alliance remains in strong hands appears to have taken hold.

Only events and the manner in which Johnson deals with them can prove the final verdict of America's allies, but a survey of European capitals by United Press International reporters shows that at the outset Johnson has made a good impression.

Many of Europe's leading statesmen were able to make their first assessment of the new President when they went to Washington for the Kennedy funeral rites. Others base their hope in Johnson on what they have seen of him on his trips as vice president, and on his statements and speeches of the past week.

Home Impressed

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home stated his own opinion of the suddenly burdened Texan immediately on his return from Washington. The new President "greatly impressed all the visitors and observers in Washington," Douglas Home said. He expressed confidence the "finely held" checks and balances of international relations would not be disturbed by the change in American leadership.

West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, another visitor to Washington, was reported by his closest aides to have been greatly encouraged by his initial reactions to Johnson whom he found looking to the future and acutely aware of the problems of Germany and West Berlin.

In Communist - surrounded West Berlin itself, which Johnson visited on a morale-boosting mission shortly after erection of the Communist wall in 1961, Mayor Willy Brandt said he knows the new President is as determined as his predecessor to stand by all commitments to the city. "Berliners can have the same confidence in Johnson they had in Kennedy," Brandt said.

Proved To Be Thorn

French President Charles de Gaulle, whose go-it-alone tactics in East-West relations and nuclear policies were a thorn in the side of the Kennedy administration, is not likely to be less a thorn for Johnson's administration. But persons close to the French leader report that in his first contact with the new President in Washington De Gaulle liked the measure of the man.

Austria's Chancellor Alfons Gorbach who saw Johnson for 15 minutes after the Kennedy funeral said "peace and freedom" were in good hands. Switzerland's Foreign Minister F. T. Wahlen saw U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, not the President. But his impression was said to be that continued strong leadership could be expected.

Another who returned encouraged from Washington was Norway's Prime Minister Einar Gerhardsen who said he found more insecurity in Europe over the change in American leadership than he did in the United States. Denmark's Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag has not seen Johnson since he succeeded to the presidency but met him as vice president. He voiced his confidence in the new Chief Executive within hours of Kennedy's murder.

Rates Johnson Highly

Finland's President Urho Kekkonen saw a good deal of Johnson on a Washington visit in October, 1961, and again when the then vice president visited Finland less than three months ago. He gives Johnson a high rating in statesmanship.

Belgium's Foreign Minister Paul Henri-Spaak is another who is sure Johnson will measure up to the job. "I had the chance of talking with the new President barely two weeks ago," Spaak noted. "These talks gave me confidence in him. He appeared to share Kennedy's political ideas entirely. One must therefore work together with him in the same desire to cooperate as we showed toward President Kennedy."

Holland's Foreign Minister J. M. H. Luns saw Johnson early this month and found him well informed on "the broad outlines" of foreign affairs. Luns is confident Johnson will continue Kennedy's program in the Western alliance.

Living Cost Rises Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Living costs rose by a penny per $10 spent during October to reach a new record in spite of a decline in overall prices for food, the government reported Friday.

A Labor Department spokesman said the consumer price index climbed one-tenth of one per cent from September to 107.2 in October. This meant that goods and services which could be purchased for $10 during the 1957-59 base period cost $10.72 during October.

The spokesman said, however, the increase was "strictly seasonal" and not an omen that a new inflationary trend was in the offing.

The index for October was 1.1 per cent above a year ago, primarily because of a raise of 2.1 per cent in the cost of services.

Food prices in October dropped one-half of one per cent but were offset by higher prices for most other goods and services.

As a result of the slight increase in the October index about 42,000 workers will receive cost of living wage increases under union contracts.

CHAMBER COMMENTS

by GEORGE T. CALLISON
Manager
KLAMATH COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

To get the thinking of all chamber members, and to allow for full participation of all its members, the chamber has scheduled a series of meetings designed to develop both a short-range and a long-range program of work for the development of Klamath County.

The first meeting will be held next Wednesday morning, Dec. 4, at 9 o'clock in the conference room at the chamber offices. Subsequent meetings will be held at 9 o'clock each week day morning through Friday, Dec. 13. Afternoon meetings at 1:30 are set for Monday, Dec. 9, through Thursday, Dec. 12. Nearly 500 chamber members —40 at a time — will receive both mail and telephone invitations to attend one of the meetings.

The sole purpose of the meetings is to obtain from as many chamber members as possible the answer to this one question: "What, in your opinion, is the single most important project, activity, or thing, which, if carried out by the Klamath County Chamber of Commerce, would make Klamath County a better place in which to live and do business?"

At each meeting, those present will be divided into smaller discussion groups to consider all suggestions and vote upon the best ones. However, all ideas will be submitted to the chamber's board of directors, and from them will be fashioned the chamber's program of work—not only for this year—but for the remaining years between now and 1970. All will become part of the chamber's "Seven by Seventy" program . . . a seven-point blueprint for the development of Klamath County by 1970.

Assisting chamber president, James F. Stilwell, and the chamber manager in conducting the series of meetings will be first vice president, Brooks Dickerman, and past chamber presidents, James D. Monteith, Fred B. Ehlers, Bob Kent and Bob Mest.

The meetings will start promptly at 9 a.m. and at 1:30 p.m., with adjournment guaranteed for no later than 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. This allows time for coffee and doughnuts following the meeting which is closely timed to last 45 minutes.

President Stilwell has expressed the hope that attendance at the meetings will be large and enthusiastic, and that through them, chamber members will acquire a better grasp of what the chamber of commerce is and what it does. With attendance anticipated at at least 300, he has expressed confidence that the ideas and suggestions of this many business, professional and governmental leaders of the area will provide the chamber with an aggressive and forward-looking program of work which, when completed, will contribute greatly to the economic and social vitality of Klamath County.

Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Perrin have returned from Los Angeles where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Perrin's sister, Mrs. William J. Casberg. Mrs. Casberg was well known in Klamath Falls having made frequent trips to the city to visit her sister.

GOLD STAR RECOGNITION — George Royall, Veterans Service officer for Modoc County, presents the certificate of the bronze star award for heroism to Mrs. Cordelia Riggs of Likely. She is holding a picture of her son, Jackson Griffith, who was killed in action during World War II. Looking on is her niece and a cousin to the deceased hero, Tawco Belding, Likely. After 20 years, Mrs. Riggs has also received recognition as a Gold Star Mother and will be presented the purple heart and other medals awarded her son.

Gold Star Mother Receives Medals After Long Lapse

ALTURAS—After a 20-year interval, Mrs. Cordelia Riggs of Likely has received recognition as a Gold Star Mother and the medals her son, Jackson Griffith, won as an infantryman during World War II.

Mrs. Riggs received a certificate for the bronze star award last week and was formally acknowledged as a Gold Star Mother. At the same time she was notified that the medals her son won while in the South Pacific actions would be shipped to her at the end of November.

She will receive posthumously for her son the bronze star, the combat infantry badge, the purple heart, Asiatic - Pacific campaign ribbons with two stars, the World War II victory medal, and the good conduct medal.

Arrangements for the belated awards were made by Modoc County's Veteran Service officer, George Royall. Mrs. Riggs told Royall of her son, who had been reported missing in action in July, 1944, and finally declared dead in July, 1945, when she went to see him on a routine claim.

He immediately asked if she had ever received recognition as a Gold Star Mother or her son's purple heart medal. When he received a "no" reply, Royall set the forces in action that eventually uncovered the other awards due her son. He had been awarded the bronze star for heroism at Saipan on Oct. 23, 1943.

Griffith enlisted in the infantry after his graduation from Modoc Union High School in 1942. He had been well-known at the school for his outstanding ability as a lineman on the varsity football team. He was also called on for school programs because of his talent as an entertainer with the harmonica. He played the trumpet in the high school band for four years.

His mother tells that his first year at Modoc High School, Jackson had to walk five miles from Indiantown near Likely, to catch the school bus and the five miles home each evening. In all that time he never missed a day of school in spite of the winter's worst weather and deepest snow. Mrs. Riggs moved to Alturas for the last three years of his high school studies so he could participate in the school activities and not have the long hike each day.

She said that at one time Jackson had wanted to quit school, but his former grade school teacher encouraged him to go on and finish high school. She is as proud of her son's high school diploma as the medals she is now receiving for him.

Fund Continues To Grow For Policeman's Family

DALLAS (UPI) — Donations from football players and workers poured into a fund today for Mrs. J. D. Tippit, widow of the Dallas policeman slain trying to arrest President Kennedy's accused assassin.

Mrs. Tippit and her three children were left nearly destitute when Tippit was shot to death attempting to arrest Lee Harvey Oswald.

But then America opened its heart to the family and donations were running more than $50,000.

The Tippit family spent a quiet and sad Thanksgiving at a get-together with his two brothers who are policemen in Greenville, Tex. Officer Tippit had arranged to get Thanksgiving off for the feast, so his widow Marie and the children, Allen, 14, Brenda, 10, and Curtis Ray, 4, decided to keep the date with his brothers.

The New York Jets football players passed up a free Thanksgiving Day turkey Thursday to contribute funds to the family. When the Jet management earlier last week offered a turkey to each family on the team, the players instead asked that the money be contributed to Tippit's survivors.

Halfback Curley Johnson, a native of Dallas, took up a collection from the players to add to the turkey fund. It was estimated that about $400 will be sent to the Tippit family.

The Philadelphia Eagles and Detroit Lions of the National Football League previously announced that they had collected funds to contribute to Tippit's survivors.

Workers at Tooele Army Depot Thursday donated all "pocket money" to a fund for Mrs. Tippit. Nearly $1,500 was collected at the Tooele, Utah installation.

SEVEN SONS

BOSTON (UPI) — Det. Sgt. Arthur S. Pugsley Sr. of the Boston police department has no fewer than seven sons on the force. John, 27, and Richard, 24, are the latest to don police uniforms.

For your Holiday reading enjoyment

This newspaper is happy to present one of the world's great Christmas stories in illustrated story-strip form. One of O. Henry's classic surprise ending tales, Gifts of the Magi is a fascinating, heart warming narrative in the Christmas spirit. An interesting addition to this exclusive newspaper version is a recounting of how the original story came to be written.
