

The Oregon School Activities Assn. has done it again. Another meeting of the Delegate Assembly ended recently with the members of this 24-man governing body sitting with their feet in the collective mouth — again.

Two stunning moves were made: —The turnout action on the delegates' own decision of a few months ago and ordering a redistricting of the state by April — a complete about face from the recent decision to leave the districts as is "... for at least two years."

—The equally surprising about face made by this learned body in rescinding the full membership in the OSAA accorded the MacLaren School for Boys last year and again placing this school completely out of the school activities structure.

What was the reasoning behind the MacLaren decision? Nothing substantial has been given.

Two leagues in the A-2 class to which the MacLaren school sought entry rejected the bid on a vote of the member schools.

This despite the fact that the Class B Marion League — a league in which the Hawk athletic teams had competed in the past — gave MacLaren full support.

Requirements Had Been Met... What schools voted against the MacLaren bid? Schools which had not experienced previous competition with MacLaren and those schools having done so, giving the Hawks votes of confidence.

Three years ago the MacLaren school originally sought entry into the OSAA with full privileges and at that time was rejected until such time as the school was able to meet all requirements asked of other schools.

This was done and one year ago the governing body approved the membership as an A-2 class school, however, the Capital Conference rejected the school on a vote.

Now the 24-man assembly reverses this action — just a year later.

Until such time as the OSAA feels it is necessary to reveal the complete details surrounding such a strange decision, those on the sidelines can only watch and wonder.

Stunned Silence Prompted... On the other end of the telephone call Sunday morning the voice had a familiar sound.

Big John Witte, Klamath Falls' all-state tackle and Oregon State All-American was visiting home and calling.

And the first question following general greetings was, "What did the OSAA do yesterday, Bill?"

The news had just broken over the wire the previous night that Witte's school had been turned away in its bid for full membership in the OSAA.

When informed of this, the stunned silence from the big guy revealed the reaction.

Witte was a welcome guest Sunday afternoon and his bewilderment at the latest action by the OSAA was obvious.

"I just can't understand it. We felt we had done everything needed to give these kids a chance. Now it appears all chances are completely gone."

What the reaction to the news at MacLaren might prompt gave much food for thought.

"We have a real fine group of men working in the program there now and I just don't know... I think we may lose some of them now."

Perhaps Success Fatal... Witte has been coaching at MacLaren four years and not only likes coaching but has received much satisfaction from "... working with the type of boy we get there."

Will the reversal affect his staying on the staff? "I just don't really know — at least not until I get back there and we have a chance to look over the situation."

"I want to stay in the coaching game and whether I'll stay now I can't say."

Dejected at the news of this latest fiasco by the state activities group is the only description of the MacLaren football mentor to be used.

Two A-2 leagues this year voted against the MacLaren entry—the Yawama League and the Capital Conference. And after this one John Cox of Albany had suggested the school's bid be removed entirely from the agenda.

This past year the Hawks of MacLaren under Witte enjoyed the most successful football season since the start of athletic competition.

The Hawks, playing an eight game schedule of four games each with A-2 and B schools, rolled to an undefeated season.

Perhaps this new athletic success all led to their eventual downfall.

Mac In New Venture... Former Klamath Falls basketball coach Paul McCall is in good company in a new athletic venture at Vernonia.

McCall, director of athletics in the Portland schools, joins with Linfield camp mentor Ted Wilson and others in opening a new summer sports camp this year for boys from the eighth grade through high school.

The camp, to be known as Perry's Sports Camp, will be open from June 28 through Aug. 29 and instruction in basketball fundamentals will be stressed and leagues formed.

Chalk talks, movies and other entertainment will be offered. Football will also be featured from Aug. 16 through Aug. 22, with special stress on the advanced play.

Bob Perry, former Klamath Falls coach and Willamette University graduate, will direct the camp and George Perry of Wilson High of Portland will also join in the operation.

Mac is a former Bradley University star in basketball, football and track and gained All-American honors in basketball and Little All-American honors in football.

After leaving Klamath Falls, where he was highly successful, McCall went to Grant High in Portland and later was named to his present post.

Sounds like an interesting camp these people have put together. Present To Rice Owls...

The story of the week comes from Rice where a small boy walked into the Owl athletic offices and left a package addressed only to the "Rice Backfield."

With caution, a secretary opened the package which was for the Owl backs who had fumbled five times against Baylor.

Inside the package — A handle!

Butch Kimpton's Klamath Falls Frosh opened the new cage season Saturday afternoon at Pelican Court with a crushing 61-19 victory over the Lakeview Honker freshman five.

Paced by Kent Howard and Mike Rainwater, the Pelican Bulldogs raced to a 33-10, halftime lead and completely dominated the fray.

Howard took scoring honors with 19 points and Rainwater added 19 to the large total.

Larry Lampkins was the principal point-producer for the Lakeview frosh as he hit for 11 points of the total scored by the visitors.

Kimpton singled out Rick Brosternous and Mike Pisan for outstanding play in addition to the scoring leaders.
