South Bend Begins Chore Of Finding 6,000 Jobs

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—South Bend rallied today from its wake over the demise of Studebaker's auto assembly plant to start trying to find jobs for 6,000 orphaned workers.

"This is not Studebaker, Ind.—it is South Bend, Ind.," said Mayor Frank J. Bruggner.

He named Paul Gilbert, a clothing merchant and Franklin D. Schurz, editor and publisher of the South Bend Tribune, to head a special committee to find jobs for the men thrown out of work and to bring new industry in to fill the void left by Studebaker.

"Mourn the cars and mourn the people the decision will affect," an editorial in the South Bend Tribune told readers, "but not the corporation or the community." Studebaker Corp. lives on and so does South Bend.

Chairman Randolph H. Guthrie of Studebaker Corp. told a New York news conference Tuesday about the announcement that had stunned this northern Indiana city of more than 125,000 population Monday.

PLANT HABITATS

Plants of arid regions are grey, thick-leaved or leafless, succulent and often thorny, in contrast to those of humid regions, which have delicate, bright-green abundant foliage, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Money Gift Not Proper

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have the squarrest parents in this whole world. They don't understand that the creepy rules of 1930 are for the birds.

They have ruined my first teen-age birthday. My boy friend, Steve, gave me a cool card with a $5 bill in it. We are real good friends and I have been dating him for a whole month. I thought this was very nice of Steve but my father almost had a cow. My mother yakked for two solid hours about "how crazy the kids are getting these days." Then they ordered me to give the $5 back to Steve.

Isn't that wild? I got other money gifts from my Aunt Ellen and Cousin Wayne. I don't have to give that money back. What's the difference? My folks can't give me a reason, they just say it isn't proper. I want to know why it isn't proper. Please answer in the paper. They said I can keep the money if you say it's O.K.—TEEN QUEEN

Dear Queen: It isn't proper because money is too personal a gift for a girl to accept from a boy friend unless they are engaged. A money gift suggests an extremely chummy relationship.

And I've got another jolt for you, Babe. At 13 you should not be going with any boy much less accepting cash from him.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing about a very fine young girl who works in our office. She dresses in excellent taste, is soft spoken and everyone likes her.

This girl can't be more than 25 years old, yet she has several teeth missing. These prominent gaps in her mouth spoil her looks. I can't for the life of me figure out how a young woman can be blind to something so apparent to others. She spends a lot of money on her hair and her wardrobe, but she neglects her teeth. Can you explain it? Is there a tactful way to get her to do something?—APPALLED

Dear Appalled: The young woman is probably afraid to go to the dentist because she fears the pain.

You may be able to help her by suggesting that she see your dentist who is "competent, reasonable and very gentle." If she doesn't respond, give up. But you'll at least know you did your best.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 17 and a high school senior who would appreciate some help from you on how to break up with a very nice fellow. We've been going steady for almost a year and now I want to go out with other guys but I don't know how to tell Pete. He's so crazy about me I'm afraid he'll have a nervous breakdown or commit suicide or something.

Ten of my very closest girl friends were here last night for a hen-party and they all offered suggestions on how to tell Pete good-bye. None of their suggestions were very good. I need a really great farewell because Pete is the sensitive type. I'd rather die than hurt his feelings, but at the same time I have to be firm so he'll know he's been chopped for good.

Please, Ann, throw me a life saver.—SOFT-HEARTED SUE

Dear Madame Pompadour: I can't understand how a girl who calls herself "Soft-Hearted Sue" could be so insensitive to a boy's feelings that she would invite ten girls to offer suggestions on how to unload him.

Tell Pete straight-away that the steady arrangement is off and that you want to date others. I guarantee he'll live. In fact he may even have his next girl all picked out.
