Klamath County Cow Belles entertained at a morning coffee on Thursday, Dec. 5, at the home of Mrs. Dayton O. Hyde on Pacific Terrace. The affair honored two Klamath Falls Cow Belles who hold state offices following elections at the recent state convention in Baker. Mrs. Vi Goulden is the new Oregon state president of the Cow Belles and Mrs. William Marshall will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Goulden is shown at center above with Mrs. Hyde, left, president of the Klamath County Cow Belles, and Mrs. Dave Campbell, a past state president and the first president of the local group.

Mrs. William Marshall is pictured above at right, visiting with Mrs. Rodney Wright, who is treasurer of the local Cow Belles.

The Klamath Cattlemen's Association and Klamath County Cow Belles are to be hosts to the state convention next year in Klamath Falls.

Library Club Program Features The Story Of Christmas

At right are the Madrigal Singers of KUHS who sang Christmas numbers. The musical portion of the afternoon also included selections by the KUHS String Orchestra.

The city library club room was decorated in traditional Christmas fashion for the Monday meeting. The tea table was outstanding in its copper theme. Mrs. Dick Henzel, tea chairman, depicted a colonial Christmas scene, complete with miniature carved wooden couple, iron stove and tiny copper cooking utensils. Tea was served from copper pots. A green linen cloth and tapers in complementary gold-tone shades completed the table setting.

Mrs. Fred Hoagland, seated above, presided at the tea service. Others pictured left to right are Marie Obenchain, music chairman, Mrs. George Blanas, program chairman, and Mrs. Dick Henzel. The day's program also featured a Christmas editorial read by Mrs. J. A. Nixon.
