Jones Will Manage Booth At San Francisco Show

KLAMATH RIVER — Jim Jones, secretary - manager of the Siskiyou County Fair, has been named by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Siskiyou County to manage the county's booth at the Sports and Boat Show at the San Francisco Cow Palace, Jan. 31 to Feb. 9.

Arrangements for Jones' overseeing all details of Siskiyou County's presentation of its recreational attractions were made at the December meeting of the associated chambers at the Sportsmen's Lodge on the Klamath River.

Jess Grisham, Siskiyou County agricultural commissioner, will set up and dismantle the booth, which will be manned by representatives of the member chambers.

J. D. Proctor, Scott Valley, told of support being mustered for pushing legislative action to provide for election of fish and game commissioners rather than having this body appointed by the governor.

The Klamath River and Yreka chambers of commerce were asked to work on a proposal voiced by Joe Shannon, Happy Camp, to establish a bighorn sheep refuge at the confluence of the Shasta and Klamath rivers.

Harry Crebbin, Yreka, was appointed to work with the Del Norte Chamber of Commerce to plan a joint meeting in the spring. The objective of this meeting would be to push for a highway joining Siskiyou County and Del Norte County through a scenic highway down the Klamath River and on to the coast from Happy Camp.

Crash Brings Warning To Dunsmuir Students

DUNSMUIR — A head-on automobile crash just south of the Dunsmuir High School in which one girl was badly cut and two other young people injured has brought warning to the high school student body that traffic regulations will be more strictly enforced.

Susan Yates, 15, required 49 stitches for head cuts when she was thrown through the windshield of a northbound automobile driven by her brother, Jack Yates, just before school convened Thursday morning. The accident happened on the access road leading to the high school. Jack was treated for shock and minor injuries.

Jana Cohen, driver of the southbound car, lost several teeth in the accident.

Chief of Police Lee Clark spoke to the assembled student body of the school on Friday warning that safe speed, not speed limits, should govern driving. He said an investigation of the accident is continuing and additional surveillance on the part of the police force will help insure against more such accidents.

Klamath County Still Tops Flu Totals

Klamath County continues to lead all other Oregon counties in the number of cases of influenza reported in the state, according to a summary released by the Oregon State Board of Health for the week ending Dec. 7.

During that week Klamath reported 80 cases of the disease, followed by Portland (not including Multnomah County), 43; Douglas, 40; Lane, 38; Clackamas, 37, and 22 other counties with incidents of the disease in lesser numbers.

It marked the third consecutive week that Klamath led in the number of persons stricken by the disease, as well as the third time in which the incidence of the disease was up over the previous week.

Meanwhile, the total number of cases in the state dropped for the third week in a row, the report indicated. The survey showed that 469 cases were reported during the most recent report period, representing a drop from the previous weeks 484. The latter total was also lower than the 491 cases reported one week earlier.

The total number of communicable diseases noted throughout Southern Oregon counties for the week ending Dec. 7 follow:

Klamath, 82: Influenza, 80; pneumonia and measles, one each.

Deschutes, 20: Influenza, 15; pneumonia, five.

Jackson, none.

Josephine, 26: Influenza, 22; scarlet fever, two; pneumonia and whooping cough, one each.

Lake, five: Influenza, five.

MASS TRANSIT

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UPI) — The Port Authority of Allegheny County has obtained options to buy 30 bus lines and two incline railways and is negotiating to buy Pittsburgh Railways Co., which operates trolley and bus lines.

The authority plans to consolidate the lines into a single mass transit system and hopes to add rapid transit lines by leasing abandoned railroad right-of-way.

Reorganization Of State Government Now In Hands Of Lueddemann

SALEM (UPI)—The future of Gov. Mark Hatfield's plan to reorganize state government now rests with a mild-mannered, round-faced, 68-year-old man.

Hillman Lueddemann will establish the new 15-agency state Department of Commerce Jan. 1.

Hatfield termed the department "a major step toward a cabinet system of government."

He added, "by its success will be judged future proposals."

Hatfield is counting on Lueddemann to be successful.

A review of Lueddemann's past indicates that Hatfield—who has a remarkable record of picking the right man for the right job—apparently has chosen wisely.

A native of Tuscumbia, Ala. Lueddemann was educated in California, was a high school track and tennis star, and worked as a sports writer for the San Jose Mercury.

In 1914 he moved to Portland to enter the real estate business with his uncles, Ernst and Max Lueddemann. His World War I service, which began in 1917, saw him earn four bronze stars.

When he returned to Portland in 1920 he went to work for the McCormick Steamship Company as a dock clerk. Eight years later he was named the company's northwest manager.

In 1932 he became manager of Pope and Talbot, and climaxed 28 years with that firm in 1959 when he retired as vice president and general manager to become a special vice president and consultant.

His related activities included a fantastic range for one man: 20 years as Oregon vice president of the Pacific American Steamship Association, former president of the Portland Steamship Operators Association, chairman of the Portland Port Development Committee, former Portland port commissioner, founder and president of Portland Steamship Company, vice president emeritus for Oregon Inland Waterways Association, past president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce.

Past president of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, past president of the Portland Rotary Club, president of the Oregon Territorial Centennial Celebration, trustee emeritus of Lewis and Clark College, Portland's first citizen for 1943, past president of the Rose Festival Association, and Oregonian selectee of one of the 100 men of the century in 1948.

He served on the Governor's Reorganization Advisory Committee in 1959-60, and was a member of the 1959 Interim Committee on Labor-Management.

In addition to being on the Pope and Talbot board, he served as a director of Oregon-Portland Cement Co., Consolidated Freightways, Portland General Electric, Oregon Mutual Savings Bank, and as head of the Delta Park Recreation Commission.

In 1951 he married Mrs. Dorothy E. Patterson. He has two children, Jane and Hillman Jr. Lueddemann said he plans a "small office and staff."

The heads of the 15 agencies he now supervises were called into Hatfield's office recently and introduced to their new boss without advance notice.

Lueddemann seemed relaxed and composed. He casually commented about his plans to coordinate the activities to his various departments "so we can give better service to the public."

He confided he hadn't yet decided how he was to go about his job.

Then there was a subtle, almost unnoticeable change in his tone, and he commented "I'll review the agenda of every agency before it meets, and we'll all work together so I'll know what's going on."

It wasn't a comment; it was a command.

Every agency head there seemed for a second to start. Suddenly there was no doubt that Hillman Lueddemann planned to bring to his new job the same keen mind and positive direction that had made him a success in his private business career.

Hatfield said Lueddemann's "talent for attaining cooperation of divergent interests should enable him to bring efficiency and savings through coordination."

There seemed little doubt that Lueddemann agreed.

District Office Changes Hours

The South Suburban Sanitary District office will be closed all day Saturday in the future, limiting opening to five days a week.

The economy measure was announced by Maurice Gunderson, manager.

De Gaulle Believed Eyeing New Ties With Red China

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle plans to establish diplomatic relations with Red China, perhaps sooner than had been thought likely, informed sources said today.

They insisted this is the case despite reported assurances by France to the United States and Nationalist China that no such move is planned.

American sources at the current Paris North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) council meeting said earlier the French government had not informed the United States it does not plan recognition of the Chinese Communists.

One press report said Secretary of State Dean Rusk thanked De Gaulle personally Monday for these reported assurances.

There was no official French confirmation or denial. But informed French officials said, although the decision would be one for De Gaulle alone to make, they would be "much surprised" if he did give any such assurance.

The only assurance France has given, one French government source said, is that recognition is not planned in the immediate future.

However, French sources said De Gaulle plans to discuss the whole matter thoroughly with the United States before taking any final action.

Dunsmuir Lists Per Pupil Cost

DUNSMUIR — Educational costs at Dunsmuir Joint Union High School are $58 per pupil per school year, Delwin Poe, superintendent, told the board of trustees Wednesday night.

This figure compares favorably with schools of comparable size as sampled through statistics provided by the State Department of Education. The average cost per pupil for the sampled schools with enrollments of 200 to 300 pupils is $625. Dunsmuir High School has an enrollment of 285.
