

WITH A GOURMET LOOK — Cherry Jewel Dessert is as colorful as a trimmed Christmas tree and can be made ahead and kept in the refrigerator. It uses canned cherries.

Cherries Make Colorful Dessert

Cherry Jewel Dessert, as shimmering and intriguing as Christmas ornaments! All will enjoy its sparkling flavor and tantalizing texture. This molded dessert features plump light and dark sweet cherries set in a cherry gelatin layer that boasts of pink lemonade. It's topped with additional gelatin, whipped for fluffy lightness and combined with whipped cream for melt-in-your-mouth smoothness. When inverted onto your holiday serving plate and garnished with canned sweet cherries and thin lemon slices, this picture of perfection can serve as your festive table decoration as well as the divine dessert that it is.

The canned sweet cherries used here are the light golden Royal Ann and the deep rich Bing varieties. Having been processed at their peak season, these juicy sweet cherries are available to us at their flavorful best, the year 'round. The syrup in which they are packed is bursting with flavor, and perfect as the liquid in this and other favorite gelatin salads or desserts. Children love it as a refreshing mid-day drink too!

CHERRY JEWEL DESSERT
 1 (1 lb.) can pitted light sweet cherries
 1 (1 lb.) can pitted dark sweet cherries
 1 (6 oz.) family-size package cherry flavored gelatin
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 1 (6 oz.) can frozen pink lemonade concentrate
 1 cup whipping cream,

whipped
 2 drops almond flavoring
 Lemon slices

Drain cherries reserving syrup. Measure syrups and add water to make three cups. Heat to boiling. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add lemon juice and frozen pink lemonade. Pour 1/2 cup of the mixture into a lightly oiled straight sided mold. Chill until slightly thick. In a single layer arrange light and dark sweet cherries in alternating quarter sections. Chill until almost set.

Chill remaining gelatin mixture until slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat until very light and fluffy. Fold in whipped cream and almond flavoring. Turn into mold over fruit layer; chill until firm.

At serving time, unmold onto serving plate. Garnish with lemon slices and remaining sweet cherries. Makes eight to 10 servings.

Christmas Capers

The adage "you only get out of something what you put into it" certainly applies to home baking. Now that Christmas baking projects are underway remind yourself to use only the highest quality, most wholesome ingredients—such as enriched flour. Enriched flour is high in essential B-vitamins and the mineral iron required daily for good health.

Europeans have a charming

Christmas custom you may wish to adopt as a tradition in your family. Hang gaily decorated Christmas cookies out of doors on tree branches. The cookies look so festive and provide a special holiday treat for all the birds in your neighborhood—to both you and your children's delight.

Bake extra batches of your own Christmas specialties this holiday season to wrap gaily and give to those you love. Your thoughtfulness in giving a present you've made yourself truly says "Merry Christmas."

Choose sturdy containers for packaging Christmas cookies for mailing—empty shortening or coffee cans are excellent. Spread popped popcorn generously over the bottom of the container to insulate against the bumps and bruises of mailing, then line it thoroughly with waxed paper. Wrap the cookies individually and pack one layer deep. Top the cookie layer with waxed paper and cardboard, then continue adding layers of cookies, waxed paper and cardboard till the container is filled. Add a top layer of popcorn. If you're using a non-metal container such as a cardboard box, wrap it with corrugated cardboard before adding the brown paper outer wrap.

Add sparkle to Christmas cookies this easy way. Roll out sugar or ginger cookie dough as directed, then sprinkle evenly with white or colored sugar, pressing it in slightly with a rolling pin. Cut out desired shapes and bake the cookies. You've the makings for a company-special dessert if you are lucky enough to have fruit-
