Quick Action By Passerby Saves Man From Flames

A driver-salesman for Bend-Portland Trucking Company, Marvin Bland, 2342 Autumn Avenue, is alive today because of the quick thinking act of a Southern Pacific employee, David Vincent, 2023 Abilene.

Vincent was passing by the truck terminal at 1445 Oak Avenue about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday when Bland came running by. His clothing was on fire. Vincent caught him, threw a large overcoat over him and put out the flames.

The action undoubtedly saved Bland's life. He was taken to the hospital where he was treated for burns on both legs, arms and forehead. He is in good condition today and should be released from the hospital in time for Christmas.

Bland was working with another driver-salesman of the firm, Jim Adams, filling an alcohol-burning heater in a van loaded with potatoes. The can of fuel exploded, throwing burning liquid on both men.

Adams was able to extinguish his clothing quickly, but Bland, unable to do so, began to run. Adams suffered minor burns and was treated at the hospital and released.

Blind Musician

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Thirteen-year-old Michael Gerber, blind at birth, is a musician who has appeared as soloist with the nearby Kirkwood Symphony Orchestra.

Gerber is a pianist, has been studying piano since he was three years old.

Dorothy Ziegler, the orchestra's conductor and music director, said Michael's "outstanding achievement to date has been aided by the fact that he has absolute pitch."

Michael has learned by ear, using phonograph records and a tape recorder. He is now learning to read music in Braille.

"Michael is a remarkable boy," Miss Ziegler said.

Gene Yates, terminal manager, reported that Adams would return to work Monday, and that Bland should return to work after the first of the year.

Yates reported that other men were able to put out the fire in the van and that only small damage occurred to the potatoes.

YOU'RE SURE TO FIND A DISHWASHER UNDER YOUR CHRISTMAS TREE

... IF YOU HAVE HIM DO THE DISHES FOR A WEEK!

Hardly a gentle hint. Sort of a mean trick to play on old Dad, perhaps. But convincing... the best way to let him know why an ELECTRIC DISHWASHER is the ideal Christmas gift for you.

After he's had his hands in the dishwasher for a while, remind him that you waste over 400 hours a year scraping and scrubbing dirty pots, pans and plates.

He'll see that you should spend these hours on more worthwhile family activities.

Remind him, too, that for the sake of good health, the entire family can profit from a dishwasher in the kitchen. Dishes and utensils come from an ELECTRIC DISHWASHER sterilized and almost entirely free of harmful bacteria... scalded in water hotter than the hands can touch.

This should cinch it. Try it and see. Find an ELECTRIC DISHWASHER under your Christmas tree!
