

YOUNG FLYER — Richard Steinbock, 18, Klamath Falls, is one of the youngest commercial pilots in Oregon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Steinbock of Klamath Airfield. He soloed on his 16th birthday, had his private pilot's license by his 17th birthday. He was 18 on Oct. 1 and received his commercial license on Nov. 25. Young Steinbock is an accounting student at Oregon Technical Institute. Here, he is in a Piper Colt.

Influenza Cases Continue To Lead Disease Totals

Klamath County reported 33 communicable diseases during the week ending Dec. 14, according to information compiled by the Oregon State Board of Health.

Of that number, 35 had influenza, while measles, German measles and tuberculosis accounted for one each. The most recent number stricken with influenza represented the lowest figure reported with the disease since four weeks ago when the caseload was 37.

During the three following weeks the total incidence of the disease reported in the county rose to 48 cases, 75, and finally 80.

Meanwhile, the incidence of influenza throughout the state was reported at 491 cases, representing the third highest figure for the season but considerably less than the 613 reported during the peak period of Nov. 9.

The breakdown of communicable diseases noted in Southern Oregon counties during the last reportable period follow:

Deschutes, 11; Influenza, five; pneumonia, four; diarrhea and syphilis (infectious), one each.

Jackson, 20; Influenza, 16; measles and German measles, two each.

Josephine, seven; Influenza, four; pneumonia, three.

Lake, 27; Influenza, 27.

Cost Reduction Program In High Gear At Kingsley

The Air Force Cost Reduction Program (CRP) has gone into high gear at Kingsley Field under the direction of the base commander for the project, Lt. Col. Lucius Theus.

Established by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara for implementation throughout the Department of Defense, the CRP has as its goal—operational readiness at minimum cost. The program within the Department of Defense is aimed at saving $4 billion annually. Of this amount, $1.8 billion has been assigned to the Air Force as its annual goal to be achieved by fiscal year 1965.

Under the direction of Colonel Theus, CRP project officers from each section at Kingsley have been appointed to take a long look at their offices for ways of saving money.

Many potential savings have been reported by these project officers and have only to be validated by the resident auditor general at Kingsley before becoming part of the CRP.

The CRP in the Air Defense Command (ADC) paid off in savings of $17.6 million for the first quarter of fiscal year 1964, surpassing the total dollar savings goal set for ADC for the entire fiscal year. Eight million dollars of these savings have been programmed by ADC for high priority projects to improve the command's air defense capability. The remainder will be used by the headquarters of the Air Force and the Air Force Logistics Command for other high priority requirements.

During fiscal year 1963, the Air Force reported validated savings of more than a billion dollars—or more than half of the total savings reported by the Department of Defense to the President for that period. Indications are that the Air Force will meet its goal for the current fiscal year.

Belton To Tell Election Plans

SALEM (UPI)—State Treasurer Howard Belton said Tuesday he would announce whether he plans to seek re-election to another four year term "after the first of the year."

Belton, a Republican, was appointed state treasurer by Gov. Mark Hatfield Jan. 4, 1960, and was elected to a four year term on Nov. 8 the same year. Belton served in the House of Representatives, and for 20 years in the State Senate. He was Senate president in 1945.
