

New Year's Eve Services Slated By Local Churches

Holiday religious observances will continue through Tuesday night with several local churches scheduling special New Year's Eve services.

Zion Lutheran Church will hold a year-ending communion service at 7:30 p.m. for members of the Zion congregation. Rev. Norbert E. Dey has selected as his New Year's Eve sermon topic, "Thy Years Have No End."

The Klamath Falls Assembly of God Church will host Assembly of God congregations from Malibu, Merrill, Bonanza, and Chiloquin for a Watch Night service beginning at 8 p.m. on New Year's Eve, according to Rev. Lloyd Fosser.

The young people are in charge of the program, which will include special musical arrangements and several messages by various members.

First Baptist Church will observe a New Year's Eve Watch Night from 8:30 p.m. to 12:01 a.m. Featured with the activities and worship will be two motion pictures, "A Walk in the Dark" and "Missionary to Walker's Garage."

Rev. Max Pettit, a former missionary to the Orient, will be a guest speaker, and solos will be sung by Norman Harvey and Mrs. Vivian McKeehan. A fellowship hour is planned from 10 to 11 p.m., when the young people will have a separate period of games and refreshments.

To close the program, Rev. Nolan M. Kennedy will lead a time of personal dedication as the midnight hour approaches.

First Methodist Church will have a service of Holy Communion on New Year's Eve, with Rev. Ralph Richardson officiating. Mrs. Ralph Richardson will be the soloist for the observance which will begin at midnight.

Confusion Results

By OSWALD JACOBY

During the course of 1963, I played with a great many new partners. A new partnership will get along pretty well when the opponents aren't mean enough to throw curves at you. When they do, a new partnership is apt to become confused.

East's three club opening was one of those curves. All preemptive bids are calculated to make it difficult for the opposition and this was no exception. It worked beautifully against my new partner and me.

Sitting South, I had a choice of bids against that opening. I might have doubled and had I done so this article would not be written because my partner might have passed the double. In that case a diamond opening and continuation would have given us two diamonds, two diamond ruffs, two hearts and the ace of trumps for plus 500. Or partner might have made some strong heart bid. Against a heart contract arrived at this way East would probably have opened the king of clubs, whereupon my partner would have made six for plus 900 had we bid the slam or plus 400 had we played four or five.

However, I bid four spades and my partner certainly was entitled to make some strong move. He bid five clubs and East doubled. This gave me a chance to pass. Obviously I had no reason to be pleased by the fact that he held the ace of clubs.

The bid came back to him. He bid five hearts and now I made one of the worst decisions of the year. I jumped to six spades on the theory that my partner's bids showed a tremendous hand with a spade fit. The theory turned out to be wrong and the result was a flat zero score.

Q—CARD GAME
Q—The bidding has been:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass Pass
Double Pass 1 ♠ Pass
Pass 2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass Pass

You, South, hold:
A A Q 8 2 ♠ K Q J 7 6 ♠ A A Q 4 2
What do you do?
A—Pass. A bid would be trapping your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You pass. West bids three hearts and your partner doubts. What do you do now?

Answer to Previous Puzzle

It's Tough Role, But Necessary

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I am willing to wager that cheating husbands and wives make up the greatest part of your mail. You dish out the same palaver as most elementary lawyers and social workers: "Forgive and forget—especially if it's the first time."

My husband has been having a "first time" affair for eight years. I must "forgive and forget" because I have no choice. I could not face the financial struggles and social pressures if I left him. So, I've adjusted to my misery. I present a serene exterior and everything appears to be just peachy here at home.

But what am I supposed to say to my children who will soon be teenagers? They are begging to ask some fairly knowing questions. Since you are so smart, Ann Landers, please answer this one.—MRS. OF BILLINGS

Dear Mrs.: You are supposed to protect your husband, cover for him and hold your head up—not for his sake, but for the sake of your children. Of course it's better than the dog deserves, but do it anyhow.

When your children are old enough to understand they will respect you to the end of your days.

Dear Ann Landers: I used to agree with you that each member of the family is entitled to privacy where mail is concerned. Now that my children are entering their teens, however, I think perhaps a mother

Monthly CD Test Planned Monday

If you hear blasts from the nuclear air raid warning system at noon next Monday, don't run for cover.

It will be another routine test of the Klamath Falls Civil Defense sirens which are set off at the same time on the first Monday of every month, Jim Watson, Klamath County CD director, has reminded residents of Klamath Falls and the adjacent area.

Residents of the area may expect to hear this test at the same time each month until notified otherwise, Watson said.

The civil defense warning sirens instructions are as follows: Take cover signal: Wailing tone or short blasts for three minutes on sirens, whistles, horns, or similar devices.

What to do: At home, get into your home shelter immediately. If you have none, shut all outside doors and windows and take cover in the basement or a first-floor room.

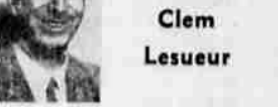

Outdoors, seek the best available shelter. Remain in your shelter until advised to come out.

Alert signal: A steady blast of three to five-minute duration on sirens, whistles, horns, or other devices.

What to do: Do not use the telephone.

Turn your AM radio to a station to receive emergency instructions.

Do not panic. Obey police and civil defense instructions given by police and the civil defense office.

Ex-Resident 'Assaults' Food Store

Charles Bane, former manager of the Bend-Portland Truck Service, Klamath Falls terminal, now in Lake Oswego, is a fast "picker of products" found on grocery shelves.

Bane was high bidder for the Uptown Shopping Center package at the recent Zooms Auction. He had just five minutes in which to pick up anything he wanted at a market in the center.

His nimble fingers plucked produce ranging from peppers to peaches for his family and his dog for a total of $126.48. Bane bid $975 at the auction for the package and gift certificates. There was a time limit placed on his grocery shopping.

The speedy bidder "censed" the market behind the family dog, a toy poodle. He saw the grab bag contents when it was checked out. There was an extra-giant carton of detergent, a turkey, big beef roast and cans and cans of beans.

The busy shopper had no time to check brands.

Funds from the Zooms Auction help finance upkeep at the Portland Zoo and the Museum of Natural Science in Portland.
