

The Archers' Corner By Norman Singleton

Well, the holidays are over so maybe things will be back to normal soon. I think it will be a relief for most people to get back to their regular routine. I came across an unusual fact this past week that might be of interest. In 1918 Harney county offered a nickel a scalp bounty on jackrabbits. In a year the incredible number of over 1,300,000 were bagged.

"DENNIS THE MENACE"

Well, I'm NOT your little boy! AN I DON'T WANNA LEARN A THING OR TWO! Pelican strength is yet to be determined as they head into conference play — a conference which has through the years supplied the strong contenders in the state tournaments. The Pels have looked good on occasion during pre-league play and they have seen equally bad nights. A good pattern offense has been used mostly by the Pels, with a fast break employed occasionally. Good rebounding strength has been a large factor in the Pelicans' success in early frays. Defensively, the Pelican team in the past few years have been known as a zone defense advocate, however, the Pels have been using the man-to-man alignment most of the time thus far. Still, as with other teams, if the situation warrants this defense, it's sure to be employed. Last year the Pelicans ended the conference race with a 7-9 record and failed to return to the state tournament after having made an unsuccessful appearance the previous year. Five members of last year's roster are missing from the club, with four lost through graduation. "If our scoring punch remains in conference play we might be all right. We felt earlier that rebounding would be our strong point and the kids have done a good job thus far," Keck comments. This is the pre-conference play picture of this year's Klamath Falls Pelicans.
