

Hornets, Honkers Face Formidable Opponents

By DON MCKINNON
Herald and News Sports Editor

Both the Henley Hornets and Lakeview Honkers have an opportunity to improve their R. League standing this weekend, but only Lakeview stands a chance of picking up two, one of them the Goliath of the league.

For Henley, their big moment comes with the invasion of Illinois Valley, a co-club in conference play with a 1-4 season mark to their credit. This contest, slated for Friday evening, will give area sports fans an idea of what Jerry Johnson's cagers can do at home.

Unfortunately for the Hornets, the weekend may take on a scar note with the explosive Phoenix Pirates stopping off for a one-night stand. Should the Pirates be upset Friday night at Lakeview, and of this there is an excellent possibility, it will be . . . "look out Henley," because vengeance will certainly be necessary for the top-flying Pirates.

Catch Fire
However slim the possibility, Henley too could provide an upset in Rogue League standings. If the Hornets catch fire, they might very well hand the visiting Pirates their first, or even second defeat of the season.

Before either Henley or Lakeview can hope to upset the high-flying Pirates, who boast a 5-0 conference record, they must first contain 6-6 Dan Beeson, 6-3 John Barker (last year's all-conference first team selection), and 5-1 Ken Hawkins, a lad with two years' varsity experience, and ability to jump equal to a kangaroo.

Sacred Heart's Trojans, who fare better in B class basketball (where they are to be next year), may have yet another chance this weekend to still the experts. The Trojans take a third place Eagle Point, a team that has been beaten twice in five outings, and can be beaten again.

Look For Split
Thus approaches another week of prep basketball, with a ring of optimism in Klamath Basin. In this corner we are calling for both Henley and a d

Eagles In Conference Contests

WED.—The COS Eagles return to Golden Valley Conference action this weekend, with games at Marin on Friday night and at Sierra on Saturday night. The Eagles are 2-1 in league play and 3-5 overall.

George Corder, sharpshooting guard from Fall River, will finish his junior college career with this weekend's games. He is currently leading the Eagles in scoring with 216 points, a 12.2 average. Corder was a standout on the 1962-63 team but missed most of last season due to scholastic ineligibility and an injury.

Guard Ron Mongin has rejoined the team after missing several games due to a leg injury. Willie (Street) McCreary, some what of a disappointment to the San Francisco Giants in 1964 because of recurring injuries to his feet and legs, has signed his contract for the 1965 baseball season.

The Eagles return to the COS gymnasium on Saturday, Feb. 6, when they meet Yuba College in a CVC game.

Patterson Has Two Strikes Against Him In Title Fight

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Floyd Patterson has two strikes against him already, meaning one more and he's out, and the way you spell that is FINISH!

The grim, tight-lipped ex-champ needs' neither announcing his retirement should he lose this one nor fighting George Chuvalo next Monday night. Except for his immediate family, nobody really will care whether he ever fights again or not.

West, Baylor Combine For Laker's Big Punch

By United Press International

Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are red-hot examples of the determination of the Los Angeles Lakers to recover the top dog status in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

For the second time in two nights, the duo scored two-thirds of the Lakers' points. Wednesday night in Los Angeles, West poured in 42 points and Baylor 35 to provide a 118-112 win over the Cincinnati Royals. West had 17 rebounds and Baylor 26 in the 117-100 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

Mills On Tap For Millrose

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 58th annual Millrose Games kick-off the indoor track season at Madison Square Garden tonight with Marine Lt. Billy Mills and 31 other Olympians from 12 nations performing before the 12,000 spectators of the 1964 Olympic Games.

Snow cover during the early winter provides biologists with an opportunity to survey the post-season pheasant population. This was done near the turn of the year by Mike Golden to determine the relative abundance of roosters to the hen population.

ALASKA

PRODUCED IN 1964 BY JIM AND BARBARA CLARK, Alaska Guides, in person—All new

See Caribou . . . Moose . . . Grizzly . . . Sheep . . . Fox
Wolves . . . Ermine . . . Weeverine . . . The Rose
Pic . . . plus Wildfowl

See Barbara and Jim capture dainty calf caribou and try to make a moose call using the cow choppers they play.

See Hunting for Grizzly . . . Moose . . . Caribou . . .
Sheep. You will see the largest moose taken in Alaska last year. Several sheep over 40".

SPARKLING COLOR MOVIE
1 HOUR, 45 MINUTES — BIG SCREEN

Jim and Barbara, whose home and hunting lodge is located in the isolated Alaskan bush country, are well known for their excellent wildlife films, as well as for their guiding. You will see more wildlife in their films. Hunters taking record animals are the rule rather than the exception. 15 of 18 sheep average over 40". Four moose average 69". You see the actual hunting scenes as they really happen with nothing staged. No infrared scenes will be shown. This is a show for the whole family.
