Water Chairman Warns Of California 'Steal'

OLYMPIA (UPI) — The new acting chairman of the Washington delegation to the Columbia Basin Compact Commission said today the Pacific Northwest was going to have to "wake up and realize that Californians aren't kidding" about obtaining water from this region.

State Rep. H. Maurice Ahlquist, R-Touche, made the statement during an interview after it was announced he had been appointed to succeed D.

U.S. Mulls New Course In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials today awaited some solid indications of the probable course of the South Vietnamese military leaders who ousted U.S.-backed Premier Tran Van Huong.

They hoped that Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, who engineered this latest coup, was sincere in his pledge to maintain some semblance of civilian government pending elections late next month for the legislative assembly.

This would take some of the sting out of the U.S. policy defeat suffered when Buddhist-inspired demonstrations forced Hung's removal.

It was acknowledged, however, that the future of American policy in South Viet Nam hinged on a number of other unanswered questions as well. Among these were:

—Does Khanh have complete backing of the armed forces or are some of his fellow generals already plotting to sabotage or supplant him?

—What sort of "deal" if any, has Khanh made with Buddhist leaders opposed to Huong?

They also had demanded the ouster of the American ambassador, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor. Khanh has been a strong anti-Communist in public. He is opposed to any talk of negotiations with the Reds to "neutralize" the embattled country.

But he and Taylor have been feuding for some time. And the fact that the Buddhists, who widely acclaimed Khanh's ouster of Huong are advocates of "neutralization," is a further spark concern here over the relationship between them and Khanh.

Early today, the State Department still refused to comment on developments, beyond saying it had not been "totally surprised" by this latest upheaval.

Texan Joins LBJ's Staff

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson has talked Texas Democratic chairman Marvin Watson into joining the White House staff, party officials said today.

Watson is expected in Washington next week, and it is assumed he will remain Texas Democratic chairman at least for a time after going to Washington.

White House Secretary George E. Reedy said Watson has not given his "final acceptance."

Watson, 47, is executive assistant of Lone Star Steel Co. at Dalingerfield in East Texas. He has been a campaign worker for Johnson since 1951. Last year, he was coordinator of the Democratic National Convention.

Watson "emphatically denied" early Wednesday in Austin that he was quitting as party chairman and going to Washington. Later he had no comment.

Judge Fines Cab Driver For Rejecting Wet Fare

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — A 66-year-old cab driver Lawrence at his hearing. He said he had her "lady, I can't take you."

Mrs. Thomas, widow of an American army captain killed in South Viet Nam, explained that she had been denied 20 months, had swallowed a bottle of baby oil while they were at the beach. She said the Dade County (Miami) Police Control Center had advised her to rush the infant to a hospital and have his stomach pumped out.

Lawrence told Judge Al Epstein that if his cab seat got all wet, he wouldn't have been able to work.

"I had a couple of experiences where people got sick all over my cab. It took me a couple of days to clean it out. I was out of business," he said.

"If I had known it was an emergency, I would have gladly taken her," Lawrence declared. "All she told me is the baby's sick."
