MALIN—The Malin Firemen held their regular monthly meeting Monday, Jan. 18, electing officers for the 1965 term. Officers elected were Don Crawford, president; Henry O'Keefe, vice president; John Phillips, secretary; treasurer and Paul McCully, fire chief.

Two dry chemical fire extinguishers, for city and rural districts respectively, were purchased recently from the proceeds of the annual "Fun Night."

Jim Falthee was appointed as party chairman and he selected his various committee to assist him at the party, to be held Saturday, Jan. 30, at the Malin Community Hall. This year to replace the picnic, bid each year in the summer.

championship team trials used the weak no-trump bid. The other 17 pairs used no-trumps in the standard range of 15 to 17, 16 to 18 or 15 to 18 so that a no-trump was opened at every one of the nine tables.

Every North player responded with two clubs to see if his partner would show a four-card major suit. Every South player rebid two hearts in accordance with the request.

From this point on, there was some divergence. A couple of North players jumped to three no-trump; the rest bid two no-trump only, but two South players went on from two to three.

Thus four tables played three no-trump while five stopped at two.

Every West player opened a low club and after the three-spot was played from dummy it was up to East to make a key defensive play. His correct play was the ten spot, not the ace. Strangely enough, four of these experts made the mistake of rising with the ace.

It made the difference of a very important trick because the ace play gave declarer three club tricks while the ten spot play held him to two.

A little study will show that this particular ten spot play could not possibly hurt the defense unless West had led from six to the king.

The play developed a long normal line after that first trick with South making nine tricks when East played the ace and only eight tricks when East played the ten.
