PINOCHLE PARTY
DAIRY — Mrs. Walter Ritter was hostess recently to her pinochle club. Mrs. Vernon Newlin won high score and Mrs. Homer Dixon second high. Traveling prize went to Mrs. Bob Horton. Other players were Mrs. Don Horsley, Mrs. Howard Schmidt, Mrs. George Simmons and Mrs. Oscar Peterson. A farewell gift was given to Mrs. Dixon, who with her family leaves soon to live in Portland.

Couple Wed In St. Paul

A nuptial mass Jan. 2 at St. Paul's Catholic Church in St. Paul, Ore., united in marriage Louise Mae Brentano, daughter of former Klamath Falls residents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brentano, and Murray Dean Augustus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Augustus of Woodburn. The Rev. James L. Maxwell officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long gown of white tulle with lace applique, fashioned with long sleeves, scalloped neckline and short train. Her short veil was held by a Dior rose headpiece and she carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid.

Mrs. Gale Buchheit, Woodburn, was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a floor-length gown of satin made with moss green bodice and white skirt. A net headpiece and mitts were also green. She carried a single white rosebud.

Bridesmaids, dressed like the honor attendant, were Carol Koch and Peggy Mallett, St. Paul.

Melvin Gottsacker, Portland, was best man and Duane Brentano, brother of the bride, and Dennis Augustus, brother of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Lynn Hurst and Doug Augustus, also a brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

BRIDE-TO-BE — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fieber, Toledo, Ore., announce the engagement of their daughter, Diana Anne, to Edwin J. Slachy Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Slachy, Malin. The future bride was graduated last June from Oregon State University and is presently attending University of Oregon Medical School. Her fiancé is a senior at OSU. A fall wedding is planned.

Bankers Are Speakers

WEED — Bank managers, Harold Campbell, United Commercial Bank in Weed, and Leonard Green, Bank of Mount Shasta, were guest speakers at the Weed Business and Professional Women's regular meeting Jan. 21 at Louise's Savoy Cafe. The speakers' subjects concerned inflation and the latest developments in electronic computers designed for use in banks.

Plans were finalized for the Weed club's part as hostess with the Dunsuir and Yreka clubs for the BPWC Northern District conference held in Dunsmuir on Jan. 23 and 24. The Weed group furnished table decorations for the banquet and Joyce Marschner arranged a Sunday afternoon program featuring students from her dance school.

Bertha White was the Weed delegate to the conference with Joyce Marschner, alternate.

Selma Nylander, new dental assistant instructor at College of the Siskiyous, was a guest at the Weed meeting. Co-chairmen of the evening's program were Louise Harris and Joyce Marschner.

Malin Pair Returns Home

MALIN — Mr. and Mrs. Loyall Loveness recently returned to their home in Malin after a two-month tour in the South Pacific with Mr. and Mrs. E. Harmond Loveness of Medford. The Lovenesses, Mrs. Lora, making short stops in Japan, Hong Kong, Formosa and the Philippines.

More time was spent in Australia including a trip to the island of Tasmania. They toured north and south islands of New Zealand by car. The travelers returned by way of the Fiji and Samoan Islands and on to Hawaii. Except for the passage from Honolulu aboard the Mariposa liner, the trip was made by plane.

Hats, Hair Make Peace

For the past few seasons (ever since the hugo bird's nest hairdo went back to the robins from whence it came), there have been promises of a meeting of minds between the hairdressers and the hat makers. And many a hat-loving gal was fooled.

So many beautiful hats were designed — not little whimsies that perched at the back of the head — but real hats, the kind that truly add a finishing touch to any costume.

But it was as difficult to wear them as it was in the days of the towering coiffure. True, hair styles were no longer of bushel-basket dimensions. They were sleek and straight with just enough body to suit slight fullness and curve. But about 90 percent of every 10 women had to get that slight fullness at the beauty salon where "just a little teasing" was needed to hold the hairdo in shape. And women with fine hair didn't gain a thing from the device of the bouffant. It didn't matter very much whether you crushed a bird's nest or a small-sized halo. The hat you longed to wear still ruined your setting.

Well, this time around it looks as though we finally have it made. The newest hairdos are truly close to the head. And if you don't look good in nearly straight hair without a bit of teasing, you can wear waves or soft curls. They're on their way back along with the ultra-feminine fashions of the '30s. Anyone who wore no millinery other than a baby bonnet in the '30s can take heart from the fact that hair styles were so designed that a flick of the comb put them in apple pie order again when a hat was removed.

This spring there is no deception. You can wear a hat and walk. Except for the passage from Honolulu aboard the Mariposa liner, the trip was made by plane.

AFS Student Club Speaker

DUNSMUIR — Rojello Sosa, Philippine student attending Dunsmuir High School under the American Field Service program, spoke at the AFS Student Club meeting on Jan. 29. Sosa presented a series of colored slides at the Dunsmuir Women's club January luncheon meeting.

Roger, as he is called by his high school classmates, spoke of the unity achieved in the Philippine Islands despite a wide difference in cultures and many languages and dialects. He said this unity gives the people a national identity and has prevented the spread of communism. He was introduced by Mrs. Hobel Brunel, president of the Dunsmuir American Field Service chapter.

Mrs. Stewart Chandler was appointed club membership chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Lyman Newton.
