Patterson Outpoints Canadian

Floyd Wants Crack At Disputed Title

By JACK CUDDY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Promoter Harry Markson is trying today to arrange a May rematch of the great 12-round fight in which Floyd Patterson outpointed "white hope" George Chuvalo before 19,100 deliriously delighted fans at Madison Square Garden.

But double ex-heavyweight champion Patterson, about $140,000 richer and deservedly proud of Monday night's triumph, said he thought he deserved a shot at Cassius Clay's heavyweight crown.

"I not only won," explained the elated 30-year-old Floyd of Great Neck, N. Y., "but I proved I haven't got a china chin. And I got the unanimous decision."

Twenty-seven-year-old Chuvalo of Toronto, champion of Canada, demanded a rematch because of the alleged "better breaks" that he claimed referee Zack Clayton gave Patterson "throughout the fight."

Patterson Was Favored

Patterson, weighing 197¼ pounds — the heaviest of his career — was favored at 7-5 but many of the boxing experts doubted his ability to go the distance against brawny, dark-haired Chuvalo, who was seeking his fifth straight knockout. The Canadian slugger scaled 208 pounds.

There were no knockdowns but Chuvalo had his right eye closed in the final round. He also was bleeding from cuts above and below his left eye and on his forehead.

Chuvalo forced the fight round after round as he tried to flatten the only man who had worn the heavyweight crown twice. But Floyd called upon his skill and rapid-fire punching to avoid being belted out and meanwhile to subject the Canadian "iron man" to embarrassing punishment.

The three ring officials favored Patterson on a rounds basis as follows: Referee Zack Clayton, 6-5-1; Judge Joe Armstrong, 8-4, and Judge Tony Castellano, 7-5. The United Press International had the bout even: 5-5-2.

Richest Non-Title Fight

The 12-round elimination was not only one of the best fights ever staged in the Garden but it was the richest non-title march ever held anywhere.

It drew a live gate of $166,423 at the Garden, and an estimated $600,000 at theater-TV locations in the United States and Canada. Patterson's 32½ per cent of the total net proceeds was estimated at $140,000. Chuvalo's 20 per cent at about $85,000.

It was the first time Patterson had fought in the Garden since June 8, 1956, when he outpointed Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson despite a broken right hand and took his longest step toward winning the crown.

Chuvalo's greatest strength was shown in the sixth, seventh and eighth rounds. Although the Canadian had concentrated on body blows earlier in the bout, he cut loose in the sixth with a short hooking attack to the head that had Floyd staggering. Returning to the body in the seventh, he almost jackknifed Floyd with a right and two left hooks to the stomach.

Edge In Eighth

The Canadian had an edge in the eighth despite Floyd's rally in the last minute.

Patterson came on to take the ninth, 10th and 11th rounds as he out-boxed and out-punched the Toronto slugger. George had an edge in the 12th when his volleys of leather caused Floyd to spit out his mouthpiece. However, Floyd rallied and closed George's right eye with a solid, straight right. They fought on after the final bell until the referee separated them.

In his fourth straight victory and his 42nd in 46 fights, Patterson earned the challenger's right to fight for the World Boxing Association's (WBA) title, now vacant. Ernie Terrell of Chicago and Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., are slated to compete for the vacant WBA crown at Chicago on March 5. Both Terrell and Machen have guaranteed to defend against Monday night's Garden winner within six weeks, if that winner so desires.

Spouse Reveals Pressures

By TIM MORIARTY
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — When you've been separated from your husband for 10 weeks while he trained for the fight of his life and then watched in agony as all that labor seemingly was wasted, it's hard to control your emotions.

So Lynn Chuvalo did the natural thing Monday night when she was finally reunited with hubby George after the Canadian heavyweight champion dropped a unanimous decision to Floyd Patterson.

She wept — unashamedly and uncontrollably.

Dressed in a white, fur-collared coat which showed the stain of her tears, Lynn fought her way past guards and barged into her husband's dressing room in the Madison Square Garden catacombs while boxing commission officials screamed, "get that woman out of there."

Explains Tears

After a brief reunion with her man, Lynn Chuvalo left the room and leaned against a corridor wall and tried to explain why she couldn't hold back the tears.

"I'm not crying because I'm embarrassed," she said. "It's just because George worked so hard for this fight—he wanted to win so badly—I can't help crying for him.

Inside Chuvalo's dressing room, the bruised but unbowed Canadian complained bitterly about referee Zack Clayton.

"Every time I hit him (Patterson) with a good body blow that referee would break us," George said. "He wouldn't let me fight my fight."

Would Make Change

Asked if he would make any changes if he gets a rematch with the two-time former world champion, Chuvalo snapped:

"Yes, sir. I'd ask for a different referee."

In Patterson's dressing room at the opposite end of the Garden, the winner spent his first few moments after the fight extolling the loser.

"I think because of Chuvalo's showing, he gained a lot more in defeat than I did in victory," Patterson said.

Yet Floyd was happy because he felt he had finally wiped out part of the memory of those two first round kayos at the murderous hands of Sonny Liston.

"I proved I can take a punch," he said. "Maybe you fellows will move me up a notch now. Instead of calling me a china chin, maybe you can call me a china closet."

Wolverines Replace Bruins In Top Spot

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Michigan Wolverines, who have been in and out of first-place all season, returned to the top spot today for the third time in the United Press International major college basketball ratings, ending UCLA's four-week reign.

The Wolverines gained 18 first-place votes from the 35 coaches on the UPI rating board compared to 13 for UCLA, which dropped to second place. Michigan, idle this week, totaled 327 points to gain a 14-point margin over the Bruins.

Upsets rearranged the entire top 10, with the exception of Indiana, which remained 10th.

UCLA had its victory streak stopped at 14 games by Iowa last Friday, Wichita was shocked by Loyola (Ill.), Arizona upset San Francisco, and Marquette bounced St. John's (N.Y.).

As a result, Wichita fell from third to fifth, San Francisco dropped from sixth to ninth and St. John's slipped from eighth to 11th.

St. Joseph's (Pa.) ran its record to 17-1 and advanced from fourth to third after routing Xavier Ohio and Centenary. The Hawks received two first-place votes. Providence and Vanderbilt grabbed the other two ballots for the top spot.

Providence, unbeaten in 14 games, squeaked by St. Bonaventure, 77-76, and moved from fifth to fourth. Davidson trimmed Wake Forest and climbed to within 20 points of Wichita in sixth-place. The Wildcats, seventh last week, have won 15 in a row.

Vanderbilt, the Southeastern Conference leader and owner of an 11-game win skein, soared from 11th to seventh place. The Commodores crushed Auburn 105-77 Saturday and are unbeaten in conference play.

Vanderbilt's advance pushed Duke from eighth to ninth. The Blue Devils were idle last week, but were scheduled for three games this week, including a visit to once-beaten North Carolina state, the Atlantic Coast Conference leader, Wednesday.

San Francisco, No. 9, and Indiana, idle last week, completed the top 10.

The ratings are based on games played through Saturday, Jan. 30.

Liston Watches Fight

DENVER (UPI)— Former heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston, who watched the Patterson-Chuvalo fight Monday night by closed-circuit television, had more comments on a certain spectator at the fight than the match itself.

Liston, asked his opinion of champion Cassius Clay's ringside manner, replied: "Why, he's a comedian." Liston meets Clay this spring in Boston in a rematch to try to gain back his title.

Clay made several references to Liston when interviewed at the fight. Liston, wearing cowboy boots and a cowboy hat, seemed pleased when the rest of the audience watching via closed-circuit TV booed young Clay.

Booster Club Plans Interesting Session

Physical fitness and wrestling will highlight Wednesday night's Pelican Booster Club meeting, which will be conducted for the first time at Klamath Union High School.

According to H. T. (Hank) Holman, president of the boosters, the program this week will take on several new looks. First will be the brief coffee and rolls session at the school cafeteria, to be followed by the business portion of the meeting.

The main program this Wednesday will start at 7 p.m. with demonstrations on the new physical fitness programs for Klamath Union High School's physical education and athletic departments.

Second stage of the program will feature special wrestling demonstrations by Delance Duncan's Pelican grapplers.

The refreshment portion of the program will start at approximately 6:30 p.m.

Booster Club officials urge everyone interested in the physical fitness and wrestling programs to attend this meeting, regardless of their affiliation with the Booster Club.

The club has no immediate plans for conducting its meetings at the school every Wednesday, but due to the nature of this program, the school's facilities were considered more adequate.

Parkrose Resumes Top Spot

PORTLAND (UPI) — It was Parkrose and Medford running 1 - 2 again Monday among the state's A-1 high school basketball teams in the Journal coaches' poll.

Parkrose had 78 of a possible 80 points to 74 for Medford.

Grant ranked third, Sunset fourth, Marshfield fifth, Central Catholic sixth, North Salem seventh, Jefferson eighth, David Douglas ninth and Baker 10th. Others getting votes included Corvallis, Thurston, Molalla, Springfield, West Linn, McMinnville and The Dalles.

Pleasant Hill led the A-2 poll followed in order by Serra, Phoenix, Stayton, Coquille, Dayton, Hood River, Myrtle Point, Reedsport and St. Francis.

Andros Launches Into Beaver Football Work

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Dee Andros, a tough but personable 40-year-old former Marine sergeant, launched into his new job as head football coach at Oregon State today.

"We've got to roll up our sleeves and go to work," Andros said after being named to the post Monday.

Andros, who has spent the past three seasons as head coach at Idaho, began by announcing three of his six assistants at Oregon State. They were Edward (Bud) Riley and John Easterbrook, assistants at Idaho, and Ed Knecht, coach at Boise, Idaho, high school.

"I expect to name my whole staff by the end of the week," the new coach said.

Andros said he had recommended Steve Musseau, another assistant at Idaho, to succeed him as head coach of the Vandals, but "if he doesn't get the job, he will come with me, too."

Andros also held a meeting of the Oregon State football team. The Beavers represented the Pacific Athletic Conference on New Year's Day but will lose 17 seniors.

"I wanted to let them know what I expected and to encourage them on their studies," Andros said after the meeting. "I told them that I believe the man who hits the hardest and the longest will come out on top."

He added that "we're going to be behind on our recruiting but it won't be too much of a handicap."

Andros, who had an 11-16-1 record in his three years at Idaho, and a 4-6 mark last year, succeeds Tommy Prothro, who went to UCLA after 10 years here.

Andros said he will go to Spokane Wednesday for the annual Inland Empire sports banquet and then return to Moscow, Idaho, to "clear up some personal matters—like selling my house."

Giants Sign Five Catchers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants today had five catchers following the acquisition of veteran Ed Bailey in a trade that sent Billy O'Dell to the Milwaukee Braves.

Monday's trade means that the Giants have holdovers Tom Haller and Del Crandall, Bailey and newcomers Randy Hundley and Jack Hiatt in their catching corps.

"That's the kind of problem you like to have," said new Giant manager Herman Franks.

The Giant pilot said "I don't know whether I'll use Bailey primarily as a catcher or as a pinch-hitter. We'll have to work that out. Tom Haller is our No. 1 catcher as of now."

Franks said that any more trades the Giants might make this year would be "very minor."

Bailey, who played for the Giants from 1961 through 1963, said he was "looking forward" to playing under Franks this year, and also did not know whether he would be catching or pinch-hitting.

The 33-year-old catcher had a nightmarish season last year, hitting five homers and driving in only 34 runs while batting .262 in 95 games. He was slowed down by a row of injuries.

"I pulled a hamstring muscle first, then I got a finger hurt by a foul ball, and finally fouled a ball off my foot. It made for a long year," he said.
