Take a look at the East hand only. With every vulnerable South opens a spade and West and North pass. What should you do?
Four of eight East players in the World Championship trials chose to respond with either one no-trump or two diamonds. The other four passed.

The problem of reopening the bidding when an opening one bid is passed is one of the most difficult that faces bridge players. They are entitled to assume that their side has the balance of power but frequently will find that their opponents have better cards and can move to a superior contract.

This time the four who passed came out in fine shape. Their partners opened clubs and when the smoke had cleared away South had been set two tricks at his own spades. Two of the four who bid wound up defending unsuccessfully against heart contracts, one no-trump and two diamonds respectively.

Thus the four East players who passed decided to try to pick up points by defending against one spade. Their major strength was in that suit and they had no defense against hearts in case North and South moved into that suit. The other four East players looked at their 11 points and decided to take action.

At that time as his bidding and he went down 1400. That type 11 - point opening is not recommended. You need a good five-card suit or better for those short - count bids.

SAIGON (UPI) — Gustav Hertz, a high ranking U.S. official missing since Tuesday, was kidnapped on the outskirts of Saigon by a group of men presumed to be Communist Viet Cong rebels, the U.S. Embassy said today.

The embassy ordered a large scale air and ground search for the 46-year-old Leesburg, Va. official, the highest ranking American to fall into Communist hands. He was chief of the public administration division of the U.S. Operations Mission in Viet Nam.
