Willard Facilities Leased

A change in operation of the Willard Hotel was announced Friday by Mrs. Eleanor Nidever, Vern Canuth, and Charles Knigjwsky who have leased the hotel building, preparatory to planned negotiations for purchase of the building.

Mrs. Nidever, well-known to Klamath Falls restaurant patrons, will operate the food and hotel business, Canuth and Knigjwsky will run the bar in the Ponderosa Room which is being completely remodeled for a formal opening in the near future and is closed temporarily.

Canuth and Knigjwsky have been employed at The Wing on Main Street and the Ponderosa bar in the Willard in past years.

Future plans for the hotel call for a general face lifting to meet the needs of the traveling public.

Mrs. Nidever, a new and modern desk and other features have already been accomplished by the lobby.

Bud Miller To Open Own Firm

An architect associated with the firm of Howard R. Perrin, 1415 Esplanade, has opened his own office at 2281 South Sixth Street, with the intention of specializing in commercial buildings and winter resort areas.

The new business is Junior "Bud" Miller, 39, who opened for business Feb. 1 after working more than 11 years with the Perrin firm.

A native of Hastings, N.E., Miller attended high school in San Diego and later served as a second class petty officer in the U.S. Navy during World War II. Following the war he attended Sacramento Junior College and graduated with an Associate of Arts degree in 1951.

Soon after he became employed as an architectural draftsman for a Woodland, Calif., contractor and they served in similar posts for the Army Corps of Engineers in Sacramento and the Bechtel Corp. in San Francisco. He came to the Perrin firm after ending his association with the Bay Area company.

Miller resides at Rocky Point.

Building Plans Told

LAKEVIEW — Approximately $250,000 has been earmarked for construction by Beaver State Telephone Company during 1965, according to Bill Castle, Lakeview district manager, who said the work will include some projects started in 1964.

Projects during the last year cost $97,227. These included installation of emergency generators at Fort Klamath and Chemult. The generators go into operation automatically when there is a commercial power failure.

Among projects already under way is the installation of aerial cable from Lakeview to the new Pine Creek area. This is expected to cost approximately $52,000.

Two other aerial cable additions in the Lakeview area also are scheduled to meet growth demands. One will go toward Klamath Falls and the other is construction of emergency generators. Total cost of these additions will be approximately $20,000.

Toll and expanded area service construction from Fort Klamath toward Klamath Falls calls for an expenditure of $45,000.

There are more than 40,000 farm ponds in Oregon, ranging in size from one to more than 200 acres.

Smith Shifted To Pendleton

Pacific Power & Light Company reports the transfer of John M. Smith, residential chairman here for the past two years, to the company's Pendleton office.

Smith started working here for PP&L in 1955 as a line crew groundman and transferred to office clerk in 1957. He spent five months in Grants Pass as a residential salesman in 1962 before returning to the Klamath district.

Giacomini Opens New Quarters

The ground floor space on North Eighth Street formerly occupied by Ida's Tailor Shop, has been completely remodeled and redecorated for occupancy by Klamath Falls Attorney J. Anthony Giacomini.

Large plate glass windows have been installed with brick front. The floor area contains 1,500 square feet and rooms are paneled in cherry and white oak. Construction contains steel ceiling beams and walls a resoundproof and fireproof. The offices are air conditioned.

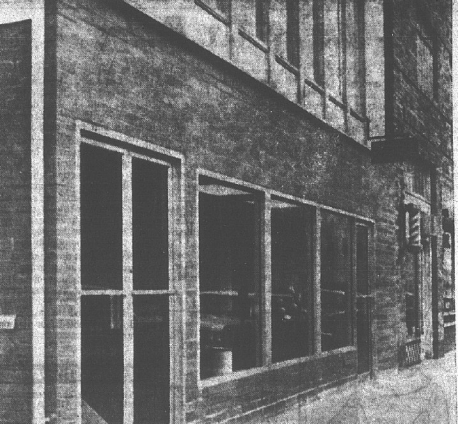

Shelves display a 2,000 - volume law library in the conference room.

Giacomini, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Giacomini of Merrill, is a native of Merrill. He graduated from Stanford University School of Law in 1956.

He is married to the former Sydney Kerns of Klamath Falls.

Associates are Stanley C. Jones Jr., and Joel Reeder of Medford.

His mother, Meta, is his private secretary and office manager, assisted by Eda Gilbert, and three part-time secretaries, Morrison, Howard and Starbuck were the architects for the new offices. Mrs. Avis McConnell owns the building where they are located.

NEW OFFICES — J. Anthony Giacomini, Klamath Falls attorney, who has practiced in Klamath Falls since April, 1957, has moved to attractive, new offices at 125 North Eighth from the Williams Building. It is the first and only downtown law office on the ground floor. The attorney has been admitted to the bar and federal courts in both this state and California.

Pelican Cafe Reopening Scheduled

The Pelican Cafe on Main Street, a downtown landmark, known up and down the Pacific Coast, will not be converted to office space as was previously planned and announced.

A change of plans, revealed by Bob Root of Portland, future manager of the remodeled Pelican, and Frederick W. Hyde, Klamath Falls, executor of the estate of the late D. O. (Duck) Williams, indicate the first reopening is scheduled.

The main dining room, Root announced, will be in the front of the dining area, with plans for a party room at the rear. The bar in the Wing will be removed. Bar and lounge accommodations and a smaller dining space downstairs are planned. A new front will be installed.

Some of the former decorative touches will be combined with new ideas to form an attractive background for diners' pleasure. Furniture and other accessories will be new and in complete modernization of the dining area.

Mrs. Avis McConnell of Klamath Falls, who has greeted guests at the Pelican for 30 years, has retired and plans world travel.

Mr. and Mrs. Root and their five children plan a home in Klamath Falls as soon as arrangements can be made.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of persons covered by dental insurance plans has more than doubled in the last four years, but the dental insurance field still remains virtually untapped when compared with medical insurance, the Public Health Service says.

Donald J. Galagan, assistant surgeon general and chief of dental division, said that although more than three out of four Americans have hospital insurance, less than one in every 100 are covered by dental insurance.

As of December, more than 1,485,000 persons were enrolled in group dental coverage, he said. In 1960, only 732,000 persons were covered.

3 Attend Symposium

Three doctors from Klamath Falls were among the 500 physicians from the Pacific Northwest who attended the Oregon Academy of General Practice Symposium on corticosteroids held in Portland on Jan. 29.

They were Dr. W. A. Bartlett, Dr. A. M. Compton, and Dr. William C. Holland Jr.

The symposium was held to provide physicians of the region with latest data on the various uses of corticosteroids, a relatively new family of synthetic drugs of 32 different types, with a broad scope of medical applications ranging from allergic emergencies to the treatment of rheumatism.

In addition to the six medical authorities who presented papers on corticosteroids, Dr. Morris J. Fishbein, internationally honored and widely known physician, was featured as the luncheon speaker.

ARMS PRESENTED — Winchester has presented six new model rifles and shotguns to Oregon Tech's Small Arms Technology Department for instructional use.

Walter F. Phillips, Western Division Product Service representative for Winchester, is shown here making the presentation to Dr. Winston Purvine, president of OTI. Student in background is unidentified. Phillips was previously associated with OTI for over a decade as a gunsmith instructor and department head.

Kennedy To Address Logging Meet

From the timber areas of Oregon, loggers, lumbermen and foresters will travel next week to Sacramento to participate in the 18th annual Sierra-Cascade Logging Conference, Feb. 11-13.

Robert Kennedy, Bly Logging Company, Klamath Falls, president of the Pacific Logging Congress, will bring greetings to the meeting from his organization.

Featured with the three-day sessions at the California State Fairgrounds will be one of the largest logging equipment shows in the history of the conference.

If We Catch Up With The Soviets . . .

In order to enjoy the glories of the present Soviet system, we would have to abandon three-fourths of our steel capacity, two-thirds of our petroleum capacity, 95 percent of our electric motor output, destroy two of every three of our hydro-electric plants, abandon two of every three of our present volume of national gas. We would have to rip up 14 of every 15 miles of our paved highways and two of every three miles of our mainline railroad tracks. We'd sink eight of every nine ocean-going ships, scrap 19 of every 20 cars and trucks, and shut our civilian hotels to a shadow three-fourths, destroy 40 million TV sets, nine of every ten telephones, and seven of every ten houses and then we would have to put about 60,000,000 of our people back on the farm.

It is plain to see that we have a lot of work to do if we catch up with the Soviet Union.
