

Sheriff Chains Vote March Leader To Selma Hospital Bed After Arrest

By United Press International

Sheriff James Clark Thursday night transferred the Rev. Martin Luther King, who was arrested Monday during a demonstration in the Selma, Ala., racial demonstrations from his jail cell to a hospital where he was chained to his bed.

Bevel was suffering from a virus. He was one of 3,400 demonstrators arrested in Selma during weeks of demonstrations and was under charges of contempt of court.

The action angered Negroes and the chain letter was removed from Bevel's leg on the request of his physician. Sheriff's deputies were posted at the beds and guns and Bevel's wife complained that she was unable to visit her husband.

Arrested Monday

Bevel, a lieutenant of Dr. Martin Luther King, was arrested Monday during an incident in a Negro voter registration line at the Dallas County Courthouse.

In other actions at Selma about 400 Negro youths staged another "sit-in" march on the courthouse. Clark was waiting with a loudspeaker and a court order prohibiting demonstrations around the courthouse that was handed down by a Circuit Court judge earlier in the campaign.

But Clark did not let the order and made no effort to interpose. About 75 of the Negro leaders knelt to pray and then the group dispersed.

Court Orders Hearing

The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday ordered a U. S. district judge to hold a habeas corpus hearing for one of the 3,400 Negroes arrested in the four-week long demonstrations at Selma.

The order was sent to Judge Daniel H. Thomas in Mobile, Ala. elsewhere.

Savannah, Ga.: Negro comedian Dick Gregory called off his sit-in demonstrators at the Burger Boy hamburger stand after Justice Department attorneys and local civic leaders told him the issue of service to Negroes would be resolved in the courts. The hamburger stand reopened Thursday night on a segregated basis.

2 Women In Custody

TULELAKE — Two young women involved in the theft of clothing from a parked automobile Sunday night in Tulelake were in custody Thursday morning after returning voluntarily from Sacramento.

Lana Kir, 18, who admitted being one of two girls wanted, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail at Yreka in justice court after pleading guilty. The second girl, 17, was remanded to the juvenile court in Yreka where two 16-year-old girls, also involved in the incident, were in court Feb. 11.

The boys were placed under strict probation by the juvenile court, and one was ordered to return to school.

Judge Thaler reported the minimum sentence for tampering with an automobile was given to the Kir girl, since she had returned on advice of a trial lawyer, bureau employee in Sacramento from whom they sought aid.

The four removed suitcases and clothing left in a parked automobile owned by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pruitt, Tulelake, while the Pruitts and Mrs. Pruitt's mother, Mrs. Jennie Potvin, attended church services. The clothing was owned by Mrs. Potvin, who planned to remain with friends in town.

Night Police Officer O. E. Pederson, approached the two Kir girls and the girls, driving the Kir girl's car, escaped in the darkness and drove to Sacramento.

Viets War Cuts Stock Prices

NEW YORK (UPI)—The continuing crisis in Viet Nam resulted Thursday in the biggest loss in stock prices since the day President Kennedy was assassinated, Nov. 22, 1963.

Declines outnumbered gains three-to-one as they did on Wednesday when the most serious Communist attack in the Vietnamese war was reported. But there were more declines Thursday—382 compared to Wednesday's 861.

Scientist Takes Slap At Life On Mars Hunt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A scientist critic of the U. S. space program said today that a multi-billion-dollar search for life on Mars "could establish or disprove the reputation of being the greatest Simple Simons of all time."

The critic, Dr. Philip H. Abelson, said available evidence provides "little basis for thinking that life will be found" on the red planet. He suggested that "a few inexpensive experiments to probe the nature of the atmosphere and surface of Mars might save us from considerable eventual disappointment."

Abelson is director of the Carnegie Institution's Geophysical Laboratory and editor of "Science," weekly publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He has frequently questioned the wisdom of spending billions for such things as the Apollo project to land men on the moon.

Today in a "Science" editorial, Abelson addressed himself to the exploration of Mars. The article was reprinted in the National Academy of Sciences said recently that this exploration should be the principal goal of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) for the 1971-85 post-Apollo period.

The board, created to advise the government on space programs, said Mars "offers the best opportunity in our solar system for shedding light on extraterrestrial life."

Abelson commented that "a search for life on Mars is just one of the major scientific justifications given for a program that is likely to cost as much as $10 billion during the next two decades."

Winds Clobber Mount Shasta

MOUNT SHASTA — High winds, averaging 25 to 30 miles per hour with gusts to 45 miles per hour during the past few days, have caused damage to some homes in the area.

Mount Shasta Ski Bowl manager, Bob Vaughan, reported wind gusts up to 70 miles per hour at the lodge necessitating the closure of ski facilities for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Overby unexpectedly acquired a moonlight skylight in their bedroom in the early morning hours when the wind toppled a 48-foot section of a cedar tree beside their home. The Overbys were having a late supper after closing the bowling alley they own and operate, thereby escaping injury.

Couple Notes Golden Date

MERRILL — Mr. and Mrs. James Lacey, pioneer residents of Merrill, will be honored at an open house in St. Augustine Parish Hall Sunday, Feb. 14, from 2 to 4 p.m. in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

A son, Tom, and daughters, Mrs. John Bryngelson and Mrs. Clyde Fox, invite friends and neighbors to attend. The family asks that gifts be omitted.

Mrs. Lacey was born Della McGovern, Dec. 1, 1884, in Dublin, Ireland. Mr. Lacey was born in New Castle, West County Limerick, Ireland, on Feb. 7, 1885. They were married in Burlingame, Calif., Feb. 16, 1915. Forty seven years ago the couple came to Klamath County to settle on a ranch near Merrill where they live today.

Mr. Lacey retired in 1962 and since that time, his son, Tom, has farmed the land.

Panel Huddles On Academy Cheats

AIR FORCE ACADEMY (UPI)—A blue-ribbon panel was to hold its first official meeting today to try to learn the causes of a classroom cheating ring that sparked the resignations of 105 Air Force Academy cadets.

Four of the five-member panel huddled in an organizational meeting Thursday after arriving at the sprawling foothills base north of Colorado Springs.

The fifth member, Lt. Gen. Joseph J. Nazzaro, vice commander of the Air Force Strategic Air Command, was to arrive today. He was delayed Thursday by the snowstorm in the Midwest.

Committee chairman Thomas D. White, retired Air Force general and former chief of staff, said the panel would question cadets, administration and faculty members and members of the athletic coaching staff.

"We know our mission and know generally the people we want to talk to," White said. "But I honestly don't know how long the meetings will last."

The first hint of a cheating scandal at the 10-year-old military institution came early last month. Special investigators were called in and 105 cadets resigned during the investigation.

The Air Force Academy said those who resigned were involved either in stealing, selling or buying exam papers.

A cadet honor committee now is investigating cadets who knew of the cheating but did not inform officials. Cadets who tolerate such activity violate the institution's honor code. A spokesman said about 20 cadets were being questioned for knowledge of the cheating.

The cadet honor committee and the special committee are operating separately. The latter committee was appointed Jan. 26 by Air Force Secretary Eugene M. Zuckert.
