

Unfair Balance Of Sex Separates Wife, Husband

By ANN LANDERS
Dear Ann Landers: You won't print this but I'm writing because I want to get something off my chest.

You're roasting the woman who undresses in the closet but you didn't get even one letter in her defense. I'd like to speak up in behalf of my woman because we have a great deal in common.

I don't undress in the closet. I undress in a different house. For over a year I was manhandled, squeezed and patted until I was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. No matter what I was doing, how I looked, what my mood—happy, s.d., sick or well, my husband (who showed no hint of his enormous carnal appetite before marriage) was breathing down my neck—leering, panting, pawing until I couldn't stand the sight of him.

"Night and Day" was written for him, but it means only one thing. Sex. A knot on a tree reminded him of a woman's shape. Mentally he undressed every woman he saw, and he never failed to tell me in detail of his reactions. You would probably say he is sick, but so far as I know he is still running around loose.

I had enough sex in one year to last me a lifetime. I had to leave him to save my sanity. Now you can throw this letter away, but I feel I ought to have written it—STATUE OF LIBERTY

Dear Lib: Your ex-husband's morbid preoccupation with sex is indeed sick. But you have a problem, too. Obviously, you don't like sex and you liked your husband even less. Some women would have adored at least some of that attention. Ah! The unfairness of it all.

Dear Ann Landers: Roger and I plan to be married soon. We will be living with my mother.

OPEN TONIGHT
For Your Family Shopping Convenience
BUSH
FURNITURE
221 Main - Next to Willard

FUEL OIL DELIVERY 7 DAYS A WEEK
ROCKET GASOLINE
Jay Hawk
PETROLEUM CO.
Town and Country — and — 2135 So. 6th
Phone 882-6626

GOING! GOING! GOING!
PRICES SLASHED AGAIN!
SHOES
For All The Family DRAMATICALLY REDUCED
Bogart's SHOES
517 Main St.

Battle Rages 3 Hours On Fish, Game Merger

SALEM (UPI)—The fight between sports and commercial fishing interests raged for three hours Thursday night on a proposal to merge the Fish and Game commissions.

The merger has the support of Gov. Mark Hatfield, the Fish Commission, the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation, the Izak Wildlife Federation, a former game commissioner, the Columbia River Packers Association, and Oregon Coast Sportsmen's Council opposed the plan before the House Fish and Game Committee.

The fish commission administrators commercial fishing and the sports fishing and hunting. Former commissioner Rollin Bowles said the merger "would create a monster" and would not end the conflict between the present Fish and Game commission and the sports fishing and hunting.

Rep. Don McKinnis, D-Sumner, a member of the interim committee which drafted the merger proposal, said two agencies were created in 1921 and that merger proposals have been made steadily since 1927.

"Time Has Come" "The time has come to take action. Compromise differences, but don't kill this bill," he said. Many witnesses were critical of state police fish and game law enforcement, and called for a separate game law enforcement agency.

Natural Resources Committee Budget Unit Okays Raise

The city elementary district budget committee Wednesday night put their stamp of approval on a salary raise for both teachers and non-certificated personnel.

The action followed approval of the pay increases by the Klamath Union High School District budget committee earlier this week. The raises are now in the budget for further discussion, but their fate depends on final budget action later this year. The certified raises amount to about three percent and the teacher raises basically as requested by teachers themselves.

Legislative Action

SALEM (UPI)—The following measures were approved by the Senate Thursday.

- SB 20—Relating to vehicle turns at intersections.
- SB 25—Relating to vehicle registration.
- SB 125—Relating to trading of insurance company securities.
- SB 144—Relating to branch banking.
- SB 145—Relating to real estate loans by banks.

The following were approved by the House:
HB 1208—Relating to State Board of Pharmacy.
SB 98—Relating to pesticides.

ACTIVE OFFICE SUPPLY SERVICE

RENTALS
4535 So. 6th Ph. 884-6388

3rd SUCCESSIVE YEAR Bing Offers His Exclusive SATELLITE DINER'S CARD

12 DINNERS FOR ONLY $7.50
After you have your Satellite Diner's Card you get one dinner FREE each month with the purchase of one at regular price. Just imagine! Enjoy lobster, steaks, prime ribs—the finest when you eat out. Try one and get the other with your diner's card.

Army Engineers To Assist Cleanup Of Flood Debris At Klamath River

By PEGGY WALSH
ETNA, Ore. (UPI)—Army Engineers will take care of clearing any flood debris declared a menace to health and safety by the county health department.

Paul L. Vredenburg, chief of construction operations division of the U.S. Army Engineers, San Francisco district, stated just prior to an evaluation of flood damage by helicopter.

He said the Klamath a number of Scott rivers and tributaries are still in a potential flood stage due to heavy snow packs in the mountains and said every effort will be made to expedite channel clearing and removal of hazardous piles of timber and other debris, including shattered buildings.

Famed Labor Chief Notes Birthday 85

By JEROME F. BRAZDA
WASHINGTON (UPI)—To many Americans he was—and is—an almost legendary figure. To others he was a tyrant, an object of fear and hatred, his name John Llewellyn Lewis.

Lewis, whose mighty voice and righteous wrath dominated the American labor movement for half a century, celebrated his 85th birthday today with a rare day off.

The longtime president of the United Mine Workers of America (UMW) and first president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO) retired five years ago as head of the UMW Pension Fund.

His absence from his office today appeared to be more to avoid his birthday than to celebrate it. Lewis dislikes the fuss of anniversaries.

The famous bushy eyebrows and unruly hair are white now and the organ voice is diminished somewhat. But the flame burns still in the presence of still there. There are still echoes of the man, who defied President Roosevelt.

During a dispute between the steel industry and the CIO shortly before the President sought his third term, Roosevelt became angry with Lewis' sides in the dispute and, borrowing a line from Shakespeare's "Rome and Juliet," uttered a "plague of both your houses."

Using his sometimes Biblical style of oratory, Lewis belittled back: "It ill behooves one who has sipped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in her house to curse with angry ferver and fine impartiality both labor and its adversaries when they became locked in deadly embrace."

One conviction Lewis has made to age is to give up his practice of driving to work daily. Until two years ago he drove an aging Pontiac daily from the house in which he lives in suburban Alexandria, Va. The house is the home of Robert E. Lee — reflects the love of history of Lewis' wife, who died in 1947.

Lewis now lives with one who cares for his household, his daughter, Kathryn, once active in the labor movement. He is dead. A son, Dr. John L. Lewis Jr., a physician, still is living. Another daughter died in childhood.

Change Slated On School Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Education Committee probably will amend the administration's new education program in an effort to avoid religious controversy, a subcommittee source said today. The subcommittee ended its public hearings Thursday on the $1.2 billion program to provide aid to elementary and secondary schools educating poor children.

Rehearsals Underway On 'Savage'

The Klamath Civic Theater's interpretation of "The Curious Savage" by Thornton Wilder is scheduled for staging 8 p.m., March 3 through 6 at the Servicemen's Club, Kingsley Field, Klamath Falls.

The production is being directed by Anita Hopper with the cast and their various roles as follows: Polly Corner as Florence; John Tarr as Hamzah; Nanette Brown as Fairy May; Mike Castellano as Jeffrey; Ann Hudson as Mrs. Piddly; Frank Tabor as Ethel; Merwin Castellano as Lily Belle; Pat Bradshaw as Ethel; Merwin Castellano as Miss Wilhelmnia; and Rex Hopper as Dr. Emmett.

Child Siayer To Seek Reduction In Sentence

WORLDAND, Wyo. (UPI)—An appeal for reduction of a death sentence to life imprisonment for Andrew Piskey, 22, of Dallas, Ore., will be filed with the Supreme Court of Wyoming.

Piskey's defense attorneys James Sperry of Worldand and Robert Nutsmith of Jackson said they would file the appeal on Monday. Piskey was sentenced to die May 3 for the murder of Deborah McAniff, 12, of Maywood, Ill., in a Jacksonville, Wyo., hotel room Aug. 7.

Piskey was taken from his maximum security cell at the Washakie County Jail in Worldand to the State Penitentiary at Rawlins Thursday.

He was sentenced after a three-day trial at Worldand last week in which he pleaded guilty to murdering the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Robert McAniff of Dallas, Wyo. The girl was raped, bludgeoned and strangled.

Piskey was also charged with first degree murder in the death of the victim's younger sister, eight-year-old Cynthia, but he is not scheduled to be tried for her death.

Death Fire Claimed Set

BAKER (UPI)—Deputy state fire marshal George Kincaid testified Thursday that a fire which claimed the lives of four members of one family here last Aug. 31, was, in his opinion, "of an incendiary nature."

Kincaid took the stand on the second day of the trial of 16-year-old Roger William Wyatt, accused of setting the blaze which took lives of his three brothers and one sister.

Kincaid described the fire as a fast, hot blaze originating on the floor on the landing at the head of the stairway. He said he believed some type of flammable liquid was involved.

The blaze killed David, 27; Donald, 19; Ross, 8, and Mary, 10, children of Mr. and Mrs. Cantrell Wyatt, as they slept upstairs.

The project was begun by the Mount Shasta Chamber of Commerce, with the city council expressing its sympathy at the meeting with the project, approving sending a letter to the planning commission for investigation as to feasibility and need.

DORRIS—Mrs. Adin Fenwick and her son, Richard (Dick) Fenwick, who operate the Star Motel here, underwent surgery at Klamath Valley Hospital on Wednesday for the removal of cataracts on their eyes.

HOW MY GRANDCHILDREN KEEP ME YOUNG

By Jack Benny
On his birthday, this perennial 39-year-old writes a valentine of appreciation to the three youngsters who give him his bounce and zest.

Don't miss Jack Benny's own amusing story in the February 14th issue.

Family Weekly with your copy of the SUNDAY Herald and News

Attention Men! Sunday is Valentine's Day

Valentine Nylons

FIT FOR ACTION!
LEGSEAM SEAMLESS
S-T-R-E-T-C-H

Kneel, bend, stretch, stoop in these miraculous stretch stockings. They conform with utter comfort, with never a wrinkle or sag to mar their sheer beauty. Belle Shorower makes them from agile AGILON in glowing spring hues.

1.65 pair
Miller's
P. N. HIRSCH and CO.
512 Main
Free Customer Parking at 5th & Klamath

BARON ROTHSCHILD 80-PROOF VODKA
Best thing that ever happened to your favorite mix — Oregon's top-selling vodka for 7 consecutive years.
$3.85 Firm