Klamath Gun Club Enters State-Wide Competitions

Forty seven shooters turned out to help initiate the 1965 Oregon - Journal Telegraphic Shoot at the Klamath Gun Club. Joe Coburn, Bill Davis, and J. Purtzer each fired a straight 25 while several others scored 24 which enabled Klamath Falls to report a score of 99 out of 100. Concentrating under pressure, Coburn and Davis continued with another 25 straight from the 16-yard line for a perfect 50.

Del Green, unhappy with his showing from the 16-yard line, backed up to his handicap yardage and shot a 47 to win a leg on the Nelson Reed Handicap Trophy.

During the past week new officers and directors designated for 1965 are Nelson Reed, president; Joe Coburn, vice president; John Lichtenstern, secretary; Rod Smith and Paul Mathews, field marshals.

New shooters may shoot their handicap birds from the 18-yard line during the weekly shoots. It is hoped this measure will add more incentive insofar as competition with older shooters will be more evenly divided. During PITA registered shoots, beginners are required to shoot from the 21-yard line.

Next week, the new Dr. Jim Hilton Handicap Trophy will be up for the second time.

New shooters are reminded it is not necessary to become a member of the club to shoot on Sundays, however, anyone interested in joining may contact the club secretary.

The following scores were fired this week:

Charles Grabs First Round Lead In Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI)—Bob Charles, the lefthanded putting wizard from Christchurch, New Zealand, followed a familiar Tucson Open pattern in latching onto the first-round lead in the $46,000 tournament.

The 28 - year - old Charles, who took a one-stroke lead Thursday with a seven-under-par 31-34—65, decided to enter the tournament just five minutes before the deadline last Sunday.

Jacky Cupit did the same thing in 1964 and went on to win the Tucson Open. The year before, a stop in Tucson did not figure in Don January's plans, but he, too, changed his mind and ran away with the title.

Charles has three more rounds to go with the script, though, and had plenty of sub-par company Thursday. The touring pros gave the 7,200-yard Tucson National Golf Club course a scoring beating on a warm, still day after early-morning frost delayed play a half hour and prevented nine golfers in the 154-player field from completing their rounds because of darkness. They were to finish this morning.

tle's lightning fast break and the spark for the team's 17-6 record this season, is gone.

So is utility guard Peller Phillips, arrested on the same point-shaving conspiracy charges.

So is reserve center L. J. Wheeler, expelled because he knew of the alleged bribe attempt and did not report it.

And so is much of the spirit of Coach Bob Boyd.

"I was shocked beyond belief," said Boyd.

Boyd, in his second season as coach of the school's only major sport, had called Williams the greatest guard he'd ever had on any team.

Even if the Chiefs win their last three games — with Nevada at Reno Saturday, with Utah State Monday at Logan and with Portland here Feb. 26—the scandal may deprive them of a post-season bid.

"It certainly won't help," said Steve Bilko, University of Oregon coach and a member of the NCAA Selection Committee.

Williams and Phillips plan to plead innocent to the conspiracy charges. So does Leo Casale, 24, Chicago, who allegedly offered the bribes.

There were no indications that further arrests would be made. But there were reports of a continuing investigation in New York of at least half a dozen teams.
