

Pisan-Amberg Nuptials Solemnized In January

The marriage of Mary Elizabeth Amberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Amberg, and James B. Pisan, was solemnized at Sacred Heart Church with Msgr. T. P. Casey officiating at the noon double ring ceremony. The bridegroom has made his home with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mario Pisan, who represented his deceased parents.

The church was decorated with floral arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums and blue carnations. Pew markers were white satin roses and ribbon streamers. David Conlin played the traditional wedding marches. Mrs. W. Don Miller sang "Ave Maria" and "Palmis Angelicus," and as the bride placed her bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Virgin, she sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a sleeveless gown of peau de sole with long sleeve lace bolero. The full deep pleated skirt extended into a chapel train. Her headpiece, a peau de sole ruffled with pearls, held the fingertip veil. She carried a roses and stephanotis, centered with a white cactylia orchid corsage.

In her slipper was a penny of her birth year. Her blue garter was a gift from a friend in London. A three-strand pearl necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Janice Miller was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Susan Patsch, Linda Sioke and Margaret Ann Amberg, sister of the bride. They were dressed in white.

After a brief honeymoon, the newlyweds are living in Klamath Falls. Mrs. Pisan is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy and is employed at Hartfield's. Her husband, graduate of Klamath Union High School, served with the Navy and is presently attending Oregon Technical Institute.

WIFE-SAVER Automatic dishwashers and garbage disposals have eased the housewife's burden, but there's more that can be done, for example, kitchen counter-tops and backsplashes can be resurfaced with an easy-to-clean material like ceramic tile. It can't be stained by foods, grease or household acids, and it's fire-proof and scratchproof too.
