Red Chief Asks Peace

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet President Anastas I. Mikoyan called Saturday for a settlement of the crisis in Indochina by "peaceful means."

Mikoyan made the appeal in a message to Cambodian Prince Norodon Sihanouk, who himself said he urged the "immediate" calling of a Geneva conference "in the interests of saving peace."

The Soviet chief of state told Sihanouk that "only through peaceful means" could security in the Indochinese area be assured — not through escalation of hostilities.

Mikoyan, however, did not disclose whether the Kremlin favors calling a new Geneva conference to deal with the Vietnamese crisis. The Kremlin already is on record as favoring a conference to deal with the situation in Laos and Cambodia.

Mikoyan denounced what he called "aggressive settlement" of the United States against both Laos and Viet Nam, and demanded respect for the Geneva agreements on Indochina, and the U. N. Charter.

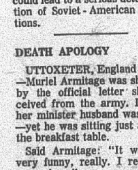

Simultaneously, the government newspaper Izvestia renewed Soviet warnings that the bolding situation in Southeast Asia could lead to a serious deterioration of Soviet-American relations.

DEATH APOLOGY

UTOXETER, England (UPI) — Muriel Armitage was shocked by the official letter she received from the army. It said her veteran husband was dead — yet he was sitting just across the breakfast table.

Said Armitage: "I was all very funny, really. I received an apology."
