

Vote Drive To Resume In Alabama

SEALA, Ala. (UPI)—Integration leaders vowed today to resume their violence-marked voter registration drive in Alabama with a campaign spearheaded by white clergymen and a move by Negroes to impeach Gov. George C. Wallace.

The Rev. James Bevel, a top aide to Dr. Martin Luther King, announced Sunday night organization work would start today toward sending a number of out-of-state white clergymen with Negroes in segregated rural areas to push voter registration.

At the same time, Bevel called for a move to begin in about two weeks to impeach Wallace. He said that if Negroes concentrate "impeachment proceedings could be taken up against Wallace."

Held Highway Service. Bevel, who also announced that a highway memorial service would be held Tuesday for Mrs. Viola Gregg Luizzo, the first white woman to die in the civil rights movement—did not spell out details of the impeachment movement.

A state prosecutor announced that a grand jury would consider "whatever evidence the state has" against four Ku Klux Klan members arrested by federal authorities in Mrs. Luizzo's death, at a regular session on April 18.

King declared in San Francisco Sunday that the 10-week-old civil rights movement would continue in Alabama until Negro demands were met. He also called for a massive economic boycott against the state to force Gov. George C. Wallace to end the "reign of terror" in the state.

In discussing plans to send teams into rural Alabama, Bevel said that "we'll begin the first step of our program by organizing and dividing counties to various people."

BAN LIE DETECTORS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The AFL-CIO has established a special two-man committee to work toward elimination of the use of lie detectors in government and private industry.

Named during the weekend to direct the campaign of education, legislation and other action were Al J. Hayes, retiring president of the International Association of Machinists, and James A. Sutcliffe, head of the Retail Clerks Union.

Vice President Visits Grief-Stricken Family

DETROIT (UPI)—Vice President Hubert Humphrey hugged the little girl and told her father to "keep your family together and remain strong."

Humphrey was visiting the grief-stricken family of Mrs. Viola Gregg Luizzo, the civil rights worker shot and killed on an Alabama highway last Thursday.

The vice president saw Anthony J. Luizzo and his five children Sunday night in a brief but emotional five-minute visit. "I want to pay my condolences and express sympathy to a family that has suffered great tragedy," he said. "I hope it was the normal and the nice thing to do. It was very private."

Humphrey was one of several dignitaries who paid their respects to the Luizzo Sunday. Other mourners included Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and Teamsters President James Hoffa were among those expected today.

Begin Official Mourning
Mrs. Luizzo will be buried Tuesday after a Requiem Mass at Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church. In her memory, Michigan began two days of official mourning today. A proclamation by Gov. George Romney urged "every citizen to observe this period in his own way." The people showed their feelings in many ways. Many memorial services were planned, including one by the NAACP tonight.

"Carloads of floral offerings and money have been coming in," Charles O'Brien, a family friend, said. "The flowers are from people, plain people, and the money is in ones and fives

READY ANSWER
BOSTON (UPI)—During a visit to Boston College James T. Farrell recalled his early years as a writer.
"Sometimes he said, 'people would tell my mother that they thought my books were a menace to public morals. To them she'd always say, 'Well, don't ask me. I know nothing about it.'"
"On the other hand," said Farrell, "if they asked, 'Are you the mother of the famous writer?' she would quickly reply, 'That's my boy!'"

ICC Examiners Okay Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) examiners today recommended approval of the proposed merger of the New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroads. The combined network would form the biggest rail line in the nation.

The report said that as a condition of the merger, the new rail network must include the freight—but not passenger—services of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad.

The examiners recommended that the new Pennsylvania Railroad not be required to take over the New Haven's money-losing passenger operations "unless a plan is provided to effect the present operating deficits on a sound economic basis."

objecting to the corporate marriage. The long-awaited report in the case, which has been pending before the commission for three years, was filed by examiners Jerome K. Lye and Henry C. Darmstadter. In their report, the examiners said: "It is our belief that the overall benefits to be derived from consummation of the proposed merger clearly outweigh any injury... which has not nor cannot be protected through the imposition of conditions."

The examiners did not require the inclusion of the financially ailing Erie-Lackawanna railroad. But they left the record open for 10 years to permit such a consolidation in the proposed merger company if Erie-Lackawanna did not merge with the Norfolk & Western Railway system.
