

Coming With Circus Sept. 27

"There's a Burma girl a-waiting, an' I know she thinks of me," one is likely to quote from Rudyard Kipling when the Burmese "rapid transit rolling stock" with the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus comes to Klamath Falls Saturday, Sept. 27.

This unit of the Al G. Barnes great wild animal circus represents a part of the 2000 educated wild animals and 1080 performers and actors, including three tribes of Indians, Washoes, Escondidos and Apaches, who will play an important part in the sensational circus feature, "Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne," the colossal fantastic extravaganza that opens the big program.

More than 100 pretty girls from sun-kissed California, many of whom have appeared in some of the latest motion-picture productions of this year, will also be included in the cast of chorus and ballet girls.

And last—but not least, there will be the greatest movie-star of them all—Joe Martin, himself. It's the show that's different.

EPIZOOTIC OF CALIFORNIA IS DECLARED OVER

Only One Section of State Now Believed to Have Any Plague Infection

A succession of recent events indicates that the nation's livestock industry has little further to fear from the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in California. Veterinary officials of the United States department of agriculture expressed this optimistic view of the situation.

The only place where infection is still suspended is in the Stanislaus national forest in Tuolumne county, Calif. No new cases of infection have been discovered or reported since August 16. In that case only two cattle in a herd of 800 were affected and officials are hopeful that the prompt slaughter and deep burial of the entire herd destroyed the virus of foot and mouth disease before it could spread. Twelve large herds which were given a most thorough inspection on leaving the forest recently showed no symptoms of the disease. As an additional precaution those herds and all others which are allowed to leave that area will be inspected frequently for several months. Moreover, susceptible test animals will be kept with them long enough to make certain that no cattle carrying the disease are in the herd.

As a still further measure of safety, the forest service, acting on the recommendation of the bureau of animal industry, will close the Stanislaus forest to all livestock during 1925. This will inconvenience a few neighboring ranchmen, but the action is necessary in the interests of public safety and economy. The value of the grazing in the area is small compared with the cost of suppressing another possible outbreak.

SKELETON MAY NEVER RECEIVE IDENTIFICATION

MEDFORD, Sept. 19.—(United Press)—A problem in identification which never may be solved has been offered with the discovery of a skeleton in the woods south of the Umpqua basin.

Near the headquarters of Black creek a mountaineer, Joe Hutchinson, found the skeleton of a man nearly covered with pine needles. The skull was about forty feet distant from the rest of the bones. The shoe soles were marked with three rows of tacks, the outer of iron and the inner of brass. In the center of each sole had been the initials M. D. W. outlined in brass tacks.

On the ground beside the skeleton lay the barrel of a .30 caliber Marlin rifle, the butt long rotted away, but the screws and metal bindings still lying in position.

The depth of the pine needles covering the bones and the condition of the skeleton indicated that the man had died probably twenty-five years ago.

MEMORIAL GYM CONSTRUCTION TO BE RUSHED

Detailed Plans and Specifications To Be Ready in Three Weeks; Work to Start Within 60 Days

That work on the Memorial Gymnasium building will start within 60 days is assured by the instruction given Architect H. R. Perrin to complete and submit the detailed plans and specifications within the next three weeks.

Immediately following the completion of these plans bids will be called for and a building contract entered into which will secure an immediate start on the building work with the expectation of getting the structure under cover before the heavy winter storms break.

Under normal conditions here it is expected that the building work in the open can continue until Christmas or the first of January and if those conditions hold this year the roof will be on the building ahead of the storms and the inside work can be completed in January and February so that the high school classes can make use of the building during the spring term and for the school and class plays and for graduation exercises at the end of the term.
