

WELCOME, CIRCUS VISITORS

The Square Deal Drug Co. of Klamath Falls has operated here for over four and one-half years, all of which time they have been located near Eighth street on Main. The store has enjoyed a most successful growth under the management of Will W. Wood and its stock holders are all Klamath residents and prominent business men whose interests are here.

At an early date The Square Deal will move to its new quarters in the Winters building, formerly occupied by the Golden Glow restaurant and will be one of the most up-to-date and best arranged drug stores in the state.

The greatest buying power of any merchandising institution in the United States makes possible the Woolworth low prices.

Irwin R. Bostwick opened the Bostwick Jewelry store at Sixth and Main streets about three months ago and has enjoyed a rapidly growing trade with his full line of quality merchandise.

Bostwick holds one of the most notable war records of any Oregon ex-soldier, having a citation from the 117th engineers in France for gallantry in action as follows: "You performed your duty faithfully to the last when seriously wounded in the St. Mihiel offensive Sept. 12, 1918."

The O. K. Furniture House was established in Klamath Falls about four months ago and fills a big need among residents here who desire bright clean articles priced moderately to thoroughly equip more livable homes.

The O. K. handles both new and used articles but the buyer can depend upon the used articles being both serviceable and good. Ernest Perkins is proprietor of the O. K., and he specializes in delivering and installing bulky furnishings to the purchaser's home.

George Metz has operated a jewelry store in Klamath Falls for the past three years, and following out the slogan of his progressive establishment a great many Klamath people with jewelry repair or purchase problems, have learned to "Let George do it."

Recently the Metz jewelry establishment has been enlarged and according to the proprietor again needs additional room. Besides the sale of all kinds of quality jewelry, Metz retains at all times, expert sales and repair assistants.

ath Falls four years ago by the present proprietors, O. E. Rae and Arthur L. Fortson. The Triangle has enjoyed one of the best trades of any Klamath eating house through a policy of satisfying to the fullest degree the wants of their customers. Good food and generous portions has attracted a host of friends to patronize the Triangle regularly, and as there is no business which responds quicker to the wishes of the public, this accounts for the establishments rapid growth.

Roberts & Harvey is a pioneer hardware firm of Klamath Falls, having been established under the firm name Roberts & Hanks, 15 years ago. Mr. Harvey the junior member of the present firm bought in two years ago.

Roberts & Harvey specialize in honest hardware for hardware. A policy of honest merchandising has built up for the firm one of the best trades in Klamath Falls and it is the ambition of the proprietors to build their firm to the position of leader in the line in Greater Klamath Falls.
