KLAMATH AWAITS THE ARRIVAL OF WORK AND PARTY PROGRAM TENTATIVE

Superior Head Asks Thurs. For Reclamation and Fri. For Indians

A score of men prominent in the business and industrial life of Klamath county met at the chamber of commerce rooms yesterday afternoon to discuss final plans for the care of automobile transportation for the Hubert Work and Wood Mead party, which arrives here at 7 p. m. for a two day session of the Klamath Irrigation project, and the Klamath Indian reservation.

For Work's Convenience the sense of the meeting was reformed absolutely in the way local arrangements, with the aid of the Secretary of the Interior. Arrangements were perfect to meet the official party at depot with automobiles, and will also be available for visitors over the project at any hour they desire to set. According to a wire received by Superintendent M. D. Newell of the Klamath project, it is the desire of the officials to spend Thursday night at the Klamath Indian reservation, and the last day, Friday, is taking up matters in connection with Indian affairs.

Many conferences according to the discussion at yesterday's meeting there are four organizations known to be attending a conference with Mr. Work and Mr. Mead during their stay here. The American Legion in connection with the Tule Lake Home-owners Society plans to discuss questions on the project as they affect the ex-soldier.

The Federated Board of Community Clubs is planning to discuss with the secretary the questions of railroad transportation to the project and a settlement.

The Klamath Sportsmen's association is understood to desire a conference on the subject of a bird refuge in all or a portion of Low-Klamath lake, and federal migratory bird problems as they have to do with this district.

The Water Users and the Klamath Irrigation District. It is understood, plans to hold an extended hearing on the subject of land maintenance costs on the project.

Man Hunt On For Notorious Oregon Jones

MEDFORD, April 7.—A posse of deputy sheriffs today were scouring the wilds of western Josephine county, in a hunt for Oregon Jones, a notorious desperado who made his escape from the state penitentiary at Salem more than a year ago.

According to information brought to the sheriffs office by persons who claim to have recognized Jones, the escaped convict has disguised himself by wearing pad on his back which gives him the appearance of a cripple. He also is wearing heavy horn-rimmed glasses, but the sheriff's informants were positive in their identification.

Oregon Jones was serving a 20 year sentence for highway robbery when he escaped from the penitentiary, is believed to be in company with his brother Milan Jones, who escaped from the county jail at Jacksonville, where he was being held while awaiting trial for highway robbery 18 months ago.

NEW FEDERAL BLDG. HERE TO BE 130 BY 150

Stanfield To Introduce The Bill; Asks Committee For More Data

United States Senator Robert N. Stanfield has furnished the Klamath county federal building committee with additional valuable information relative to the construction of a federal building for Klamath county to be located in Klamath Falls in a letter received last night.

Senator Stanfield will introduce the bill in congress providing for this building, and the information furnished the local committee is to aid him in the passage of this bill in the next congress. The senator's letter in part is as follows:

"The usual plot of ground required in the construction of such a building is 130x150 feet in size. The first step is the introduction of a bill to authorize the construction of a federal building at Klamath Falls, Oregon, and estimating the amount of money to be put into the bill.

Much Data Wanted

"Following that the committee to which the bill is referred will make inquiry of the treasury department as to the type and cost of the building required, and the treasury department will call on the postoffice department, reclamation service, weather bureau, land office, forest service, park officials, Indian service and if other federal offices are to be provided, will call on each department requiring an office in Klamath Falls to advise the treasury how much room they need, and after this information is gathered, the committee will then consider the bill.

"I would suggest that you make inquiry there as to the amount of room that will be required, getting a rough estimate of the cost of the building, so that Senator McNary and myself can place that amount in the bill."

Senator Stanfield, Senator McNary and Congressman Sinnott are lending the Klamath committee full cooperation in this matter. The committee consists of representatives of the chamber of commerce, Rotary club and Kiwanis club.

LINVILLE BOY HURT

Jefferson Linville, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Linville, suffered a broken and dislocated wrist as he was playing on the school grounds yesterday. He was attended by Dr. Massey.

TRAINLOAD OF SHEEP EN ROUTE KLAMATH COUNTY FROM CALIF. IS STOPPED AT CALIF.-ORE. LINE

The first ill effects of the continuation of the quarantine ban on livestock shipped into Oregon from California was felt yesterday by Jack McAuliffe when a big shipment of sheep, 18 carloads in all, containing nearly 2500 head were refused admission across the state line by orders of the state livestock sanitary board.

The shipment was enroute to Fort Klamath from Chico, Calif., when it was stopped this side of Dunsmuir. Whether the Southern Pacific is responsible for accepting the shipment into Oregon following the action of the Oregon board or whether the shipment started from Chico before continuation of the ban, is not known. If the former is the case the Southern Pacific will be forced to return the shipment to the originating point and pay for their care enroute, while if the latter is the situation McAuliffe will be out the transportation and diverting charges.

McAuliffe had the misfortune to lose hundreds of head of cattle in the Sacramento river valley several months ago when the river rose out of its banks, drowned thousands of livestock and caused thousands of dollars in property damage.

CANADIAN EXPECTS REACH NORTH POLE IN 12 HOUR TRIP

LONDON, April 7.—An airship and an airplane will race to the north pole in May. Roald Amundsen will skipper the plane. Young Vrethir Algarson will make the pole dash in a gas bag, according to plans completed today.

Algarson is from Vancouver, B. C. Amundsen is a polar veteran. Both expeditions probably will hop off from Spitzbergen with 600 miles of clear, cold arctic air between them and immortal glory.

The younger man will use a navy type blimp. It is in Liverpool now. On the first day of May he plans to pilot the bulky craft to Spitzbergen to await a favorable day for the attempt to reach the pole. At the rate of 50 miles an hour, Algarson expects to reach the northernmost point of the earth 12 hours after he hops off. He will carry a sledge for emergency use.

If ice conditions permit, Algarson will land at the pole to leave an appropriate marker beside that which carried Peary's name at the crown of the earth. Then Algarson proposes to fly to Nome, Alaska.

Amundsen will hop off with three planes. At intervals two of these will be left behind, the third plane taking the surplus fuel of the others and continuing onward toward the pole.

LLOYD RYAN, CLOTHIER ENLARGES HIS STORE

To take care of increased business Lloyd Ryan, clothier, is remodeling and enlarging his store to make room for a shoe department. Since taking over the management of what was formerly known as the Central Clothing store, Mr. Ryan, who caters exclusively to the needs of working men, has increased the business to the extent that it became necessary for him to enlarge his floor space.

CRATER RIM ROAD MAY NOT OPEN UNTIL AUGUST; 60 FEET OF SNOW REPORTED ON LAKE'S NORTH SIDE

"I doubt if the rim road at Crater Lake will be open before August," says Richard W. Price, who operates the lodge at the lake. "I'll bet the snow is sixty feet deep on the north side, and the snow is not only packed down, but there was rain and this has become ice. It will be hard work opening the rim road in that direction. I do not expect to open the hotel this year before July. Last year we had it open in June, but there had been a mild winter. There has been a great amount of snow in the mountains at and above the 5000-foot level. It is the most snow that has been at the lake since 1921, and in that year machines had to be left at Anna Springs and people 'mushed' over the snow trail to the lake, a distance of five miles, and they enjoyed it." Mr. Price is figuring on going into the lake via Klamath Falls next week. He will skii rather than use snow shoes. By using the Klamath Falls route, rather than the highway out from Medford, he can get practically to the part entrance by automobile before he has to "mush" in. The Medford route would call for some thirty miles of snow travel on foot.

According to Colonel Thompson, who was here recently, the park should be open before August. He was preparing to have a chemical preparation used in the deep snows along the road to expedite melting.

Hope Kilbourne Is New Manager Of The Pelican

Hope Weston Kilbourne will assume management of the White Pelican hotel this week, succeeding Al Morrison, who has had the hotel's management for about a year.

Mrs. Kilbourne is well known in the Klamath country, and earned an enviable reputation last summer as manager of the Eagle Ridge Tavern at Eagle Ridge, which was sold last fall to Mr. Paul McKee, of Medford, of the California Oregon Power company. No other changes are contemplated at the present time. The Klamath Development company, owners of the hotel will retain the ownership.

Mrs. Kilbourne will be the only woman manager of a hotel the size of the White Pelican, in the state of Oregon, with the exception of Portland.

Mr. Morrison, the retiring manager has rather indefinite plans just at present, but it is reported he will leave soon for San Francisco, where he intends to be connected with hotel management in the bay region.

Unusual But True (Over Last Night's Leased Wire)

"Now Mrs. Kopp, you're a cop" he said.

WINS LOLLYPOP

NEW YORK, April 7.—Jackie Coogan, won the price of a lollypop in the New York supreme court today.

He received judgment of six cents damages against the Adams-lach Handkerchief Manufacturing company and Charles E. Weyan & Co., who used the name and photograph of the baby sheik of the movies without Jackie's permission.

FOR THE LOVE OF A GOB

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Because she had no money and was lonesome for her husband of a year, Clifford Gusatavson, seaman aboard the U. S. S. Mississippi, 19 year old Mildred Gusatavson walked 600 miles from Los Angeles to San Francisco, where the Mississippi is now anchored.

"I would walk farther than that for him, Judge," she told a police judge when she had been picked up as a vagrant after walking the streets most of the night for want of price of a bed.

Extensive Plans Made For Bigger And Better Rodeo

Public Mass Meeting Called for Tuesday. Hoot Gibson or Tom Mix to be Secured; Bly Association Willing to Sell Out.

The day has come when the Bly Rodeo association must pass into the hands of an organization made up of stockholders from every section of Klamath county, according to the decision of the Bly people and a number of Klamath Falls business men who met at the chamber of commerce rooms last night.

The directors of the Bly association stated at the outset of last night's meeting that they saw no possibilities of building up a great western show which would be a credit to this community owing to limited finances and limited public support such as they encountered last year.

ROUND-UP WANTS HORSES

"The Pendleton Round-Up association, recognizing the wonderful possibilities in the Bly string of outlaw horses, has asked us to set a price on the outfit," said J. N. Givan at last night's meeting. "It has taken a lot of money and a lot of hard work to get out stock and equipment together, and now we have a bunch of show stock that is second to none in the United States. But unless a strong reorganized association steps in and takes the proposition over Klamath will lose what can be made the greatest drawing card in the country."

The national Indian convention, planned to be held just prior to the Rodeo at Wlul-Kse, if it materializes up to expectations, should make a double attraction for the frontier day's celebrations.

HOOT GIBSON OR TOM MIX

According to various expressions offered by Ed Vannice, Roy Durbin, Joe McDonald, Barney Chambers and J. J. Miller at last night's meeting, Klamath must keep the show. It must be staged in a bigger way, with headliners from the big rodeo circuit taking part, such as the Drumhellers of Walla Walla, Huston of Prineville, Lorena Trickey of Pendleton, all entering their wonderful relay strings. If the Bly association is bought out an invitation will be sent to Hoot Gibson or Tom Mix to come here and take part. Those celebrities alone would be enough to bring people for hundreds of miles to see the show. And here is another point which was decided at once and definitely for all time—there must be no Sunday show. It isn't necessary, and it is wrong.

NO SUNDAY SHOW

A public rally which will be announced through all local civic organizations will be held next Tuesday night at the chamber of commerce to sign up actual support for the show. J. J. Miller was appointed to state a concrete proposition to those in attendance at that meeting, outlining just what can and must be done. The Bly men all expressed a willingness to retain an interest in the new all-Klamath organization and to help in every manner to the success of a bigger and better Rodeo.

MIRACLE MAN WILL WRITE FOR THE NEWS

By an arrangement with the Pine Tree Theatre, Alburts the Miracle Man will answer questions free for readers of The News. If you have a perplexing problem or many of them, just sit down and write to Alburts, care The News and tell him your troubles. The answers will be published daily or as many as space will permit, and continue throughout the engagement of this amazing man in Klamath Falls.

Those taking advantage of this opportunity are required to sign their names and addresses as an evidence of good faith, but initials only will be used in publication, and to make secrecy doubly sure, you may name fictitious initials to be published—but in every case the full name must accompany your inquiry. Address inquiries to "Alburts," care The News, and write right now so that your question might be in the very first installment of answers which will be published Tuesday morning, April 14.
