(By United News Service Wire)
CASA BLANCA, Morocco, May 4.—Fifty Rifians were killed and many captured in a battle with French colonial troops today, an official communique disclosed.
"West of the Ouedja river, Gen. Colombat evacuated Souder Chir-kane," the communique relates. "The enemy fought savagely, 50 of them being killed and many captured, but our losses were insignificant. The Rifians are concentrating their center on a line between Sier and Beausous."
"Col. Cambray inflicted heavy losses on the enemy on the road to Moulay."

FEZ, Morocco, May 4.—Abd-El-Krim's Rif warriors are retreating before a steady French advance in the west and east.
The thrust against Fez probably will not materialize as the Rifians are being driven out of their strong position south of the French line of block house, several of which were cut off at the beginning of the Rif invasion.
Gen. Colombat, commanding a column of cavalry and eight battalions of infantry, is leading the attack in the west against approximately 4,000 Rifians, most of them are veterans of the long wars with Spain and skilled in trench fighting. They are resisting desperately and the French advance is made difficult by swollen rivers.

First Pacific Coast Radio was in U. of W.

(By United News Service Wire)
SEATTLE, Wash., May 4.—The first radio broadcasting station on the Pacific coast was on the University campus in 1909, according to the University Press Bulletin.
Newspaper files revealed that the station was set up in the summer of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, by Lee DeForest.
Wireless operators on ships near Seattle were surprised to hear music coming in through their receivers, the Bulletin says. "That was the first time such a thing was heard of or even dreamed of by a majority of them."
DeForest has something been called the "father" of the radio. He has done work on the regenerative circuit and was the inventor of the DeForest radio vacuum tube.
