JUST HAD TO DO IT; NO OTHER WAY OUT

Bob Sloan and the writer have split the blanket. That outfit on The News wouldn't let me alone in The Smoke long enough to count the trout flies, polish the spinnors and dust the rods, and every time I got back behind the counter I would find that Sloan and Lee Craft had sold so much of the stock that it was disheartening, so I sold my interest in the outfit to Bob, and now he can do as he pleases with it. Hereafter I will be found in or about The News when it is impossible to escape, but if not there, inquire at the office—they won't know where I am, either.

Unusual But True

(Over Last Night's Leased Wire)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 22.—John Welsh, 16, caused his mother to be arrested when he discovered her selling his clothes and a clothes wringer to Mrs. Bessie Dredso for a gallon of moonshine liquor.

YONKERS, N. Y., May 23.—The Rev. Arthur Boggarty was arrested for speeding. The court sentenced him to preach an anti-speed sermon in his church in East Quogue, Long Island, Sunday.

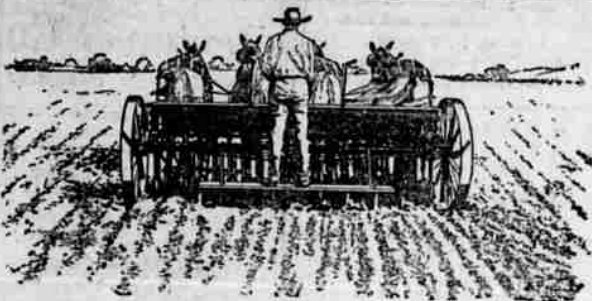

CHICAGO, May 23.—Efforts to locate even one delegate to the master boiler makers' convention who found Chicago's loop district a bedlam of noise proved futile. The boiler makers went on record as saying that the unending noise and rattle to them was quiet and peaceful.

The Good Old Days

Most of us can remember when a man's right hand was his grain drill. With a sack of seed hung from a shoulder, we trudged wearily across the acres, dipping rhythmically into the sack and flinging the seed broadcast. We thought we were doing a good job, too! But we've learned a lot since "the good old days." And we are still learning. We know now that there can be just as much difference in the kind of sowing done by grain drills as there was then in the sowing of different men.

SPECIAL—10% Discount on 6-Foot Size Single Disk

KENTUCKY GRAIN DRILLS

When you drive into your fields with one of these grain drills, you can rest assured your grain will go into the ground right. None of it will be cracked, nor will there be any spots skipped, or seed bunched. The seed will be evenly distributed, deposited to the exact depth you choose, and properly covered. Every seed and every acre will get a square deal.

Get one of these splendid drills. It insures the best yield it is possible for your seed, soil and weather to produce.

For 100 per cent satisfaction, you can bank on our McCormick-Deering line, which includes Kentucky Grain Drills.
