

200,000 BONUS OFFER EXPIRES ON NEXT MONDAY

There are a number of contestants that have not been bringing in subscriptions every week and unless these contestants bring in one new subscription per week they will not remain an active contestant and will not be a prize winner of one of the valuable prizes. According to the rules of the contest in order to remain an active contestant one must bring in one or more new subscriptions per week for a term of six months, one year, three years, or six years.

Surely there is no one contestant that can not bring in at least one six months subscription per week. All contestants that do not qualify and bring in their subscription every week will be dropped from the list and fail to win one of the valuable prizes.

Many contestants who call at the contest department are expressing new determination to put forth their best efforts during this important period. Reports from contestants in both the city and country and their friends, filled with the same sort of enthusiasm, make one believe that the remainder of the race will be more spirited and exceedingly close.

The "first period" of the contest comes to a close next Monday night, June 1st, at 9 o'clock. The present vote scale of 200,000 extra votes on every $30 in subscription collections will be in effect until that time—then the schedule is very sharply reduced.

The longer you delay in getting in "full swing" the less valuable your subscription will be from a vote standpoint. And that is what you are after—votes—or should be after them if you expect to be one of the big prize winners.

Each subscription secured by Monday night, whether new or old, earns just twice the number of extra votes by then than it will earn during the last few days of the contest.
