From Merrill—Among the Merrill visitors who were seen in Klamath Falls this week was L. J. Cooley from his ranch in that section. Cooley raises cattle and other livestock.

From the Country—L. B. Dawson, rancher of the Merrill route, was among the out of town visitors in the city during the past week. Dawson made the trip into Klamath Falls twice, calling on merchants and transacting other business.

Out of Town—Fred Dingler was among the visitors in the city during the past week, calling on merchants and transacting business. Dingler is the proprietor of one of the finest herds in this section of southern Oregon.

Leases Herd—Among the business transactions of interest in the county during the past few days has been the leasing of the fine dairy herd belonging to H. W. Bogue of Merrill to J. Gifford, also of Merrill. Gifford was a business visitor in the city over the latter part of the week.

From Merrill—Merrill ranchers in the city during the last few days include many of the most prominent of the land men. L. D. Jackson, who has a splendid herd of dairy cows, was among those to visit here.

Kiger Here—Merrill visitors in the city include C. R. Kiger, rancher of that section. Kiger was a Saturday shopper, calling on the various merchants.

Dairy Rancher—Among the visitors in Klamath Falls during the week was R. R. Lytle of Bonanza, who spent some time here transacting business and visiting with friends.

Lorella Visitor—Among the visitors in the city from out of town and neighboring cities was Nova Noble of Lorella, in during the week from his dairy ranch.

Merrill—The week-end was a busy one for the farmers and many took advantage of the good roads and weather to make trips to Klamath Falls. Among those from the Merrill district was John Robustali who spent some time with friends and local merchants.

In the City—Louis Schmidt prominent rancher of Klamath county, was among the business visitors in the city during the past few days.

Lakeview—Among the Lakeview ranchers to spend some time in the city transacting business and calling on friends was Albert Sherwood of the Lakeview route, in which section he conducts a ranch.

Returns from South—Miss Alice Miller, daughter of J. J. Miller, has returned from San Francisco, to spend a week in the city with her father before returning south to enter training in St. Francis hospital. Miss Miller motored south with the Ramsby family to spend several weeks.

To Leave Soon—Miss Agnes Gallagher will leave today for Yakima, Wash., where she will visit with friends of her former home. Miss Gallagher, who is employed in The Womans Store, will enjoy a vacation for several weeks, planning to go south as well. Her place in the store will be filled by Miss Olive Wilson.

To Enjoy Trip—Mr and Mrs. W. W. McNealy left yesterday for a few days jaunt in the Siskiyou county country to hunt and fish below the Happy Camp district. They plan to return by Wednesday night, leaving for Yakima where they will visit. They also intend to stop in other Washington towns.

From the Lake—Mrs. Hansbury, who conducts a silver fox farm on the upper Klamath lake was among the out of town visitors in the city yesterday, enjoying Saturday shopping. Mrs. Hansbury returned to her home after visiting with local friends.

Forbes Pure Drugs
Eighth at Main
Good Service—Good Drugs

Ill with Flu—Miss Josephine Meissner is confined to her home with a severe attack of influenza, although her condition was reported to be much improved last night. Miss Meissner was a member of the senior class of 1925 of Klamath County high school and took an active part in school activities, especially in music.

From Malin—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dalton were among the out of town visitors in the city from their place in the Malin district. Mr. Dalton came in to confer with officials of the American National bank, of which he is president, and Mrs. Dalton to enjoy the day shopping in the local stores.

Henley Resident—Roads and good weather during the latter part of the week proved the main attractions for the arrival of the many ranchers and farmers into Klamath Falls. Among the Henley residents to stop in for a short visit and transaction of business was R. C. Short, successful rancher of that section.

Construction Supt. Here—Max Cuney, superintendent for the John Hampshire Construction company, of Grants Pass, was a visitor in Klamath Falls last night, coming here from the Hampshire highway construction camp at Sand creek, where a big crew is rushing the completion of the 17 mile stretch of The Dalles California highway westerly towards Bend.

Approximately six miles of rock base has been put on the new grade completed last summer on this section of the highway. Cuney said. Big trucks are hauling the crushed rock 15 miles for the surfacing of this road. The top coat of fine rock and the final completion of this stretch of road will be completed in October or early in November.

Presbyterian Ladies—Ladies of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church will have charge of the refreshment booth at the Chautauqua grounds this week, according to Rev. A. L. Rice, Presbyterian pastor. The money obtained from their refreshment booth operations will be used to send delegates to the Christian National convention in Portland in July.

Rev. Rice Changes Plans—Reverend A. L. Rice, of the Presbyterian church states that he will be unable to take charge of the community house at Crater lake this summer as had been previously planned. Mr. Rice has decided that a vacation at the 7,000 level would probably not be as beneficial as nearer sea level considering that he puts in most of the 365 days each year at Klamath Falls which is 4100 feet above the sea.

License Issued—Hugh Ross Jr., of Malin, son of Hugh Ross, rancher of that section, and Miss Amy May
