OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF KLAMATH FALLS

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it"—Abraham Lincoln

PREPARE NOW TO PROTECT FORESTS

Leading Pacific Coast lumber men and Federal officials have been conferring in San Francisco for the purpose of working out plans designed to lessen the annual forest fire hazard. It is the first time that such a gathering has been called for the purpose of co-ordinating forest fire prevention measures.

The chief forester of the United States and representatives of various timber associations and individual lumbermen attended the conference. Such preventive measures as oil burners, instead of coal or wood engines for sawmills; equipment of mills with fire pumps and the constant cleaning up of inflammable material where timber cutting is going on were considered.

To secure the maximum results in forest protection the public must realize that a large part of the responsibility for forest fires rests on its shoulders and campers and users of our forests and forest roads should use the greatest care in starting and putting out camp fires and in discarding matches, cigar and cigarette stubs and pipe ashes.

THE EARNING CAPACITY OF ROADS

The Department of Agriculture estimates that our country has between 450,000 and 475,000 miles of surfaced roads. The report calls attention to certain wrong ideas that are current about road improvement.

"For the movement of every vehicle over a road, there is a certain cost, which is less if the road be improved than if it be left in a state of nature. Logically, therefore, the limit that should be placed on expenditures for road improvement is the amount that can be saved in vehicular operating costs. All roads should be improved to the maximum degree that their traffic justifies, but no road should be improved beyond its earning capacity."

Another mistaken idea is that there is such a thing as a permanent road. However, state highway departments now understand that all roads, regardless of type, gradually depreciate and wear out under the wheels of vehicles and action of the weather.

Asphaltic types of road construction are probably the most permanent. They are waterproof and being elastic readily adhere to the earth's surface and do not crack. Because of their elastic characteristic they act as a cushion which absorbs the jarring effect produced by heavy motor vehicles moving at high speed.

There is nothing naughty about some magazines except their obvious effort to be.

Still, you can belong to the intelligentsia without dropping cigarette butts in a coffee cup.

Among the intutions now firmly established on a gold basis is politics.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Swedish Loaf—Take one and one-quarter pounds of beef, one-half pound veal, one-quarter pound pork ground together, one beaten egg, three-quarter cup bread crumbs, pepper, salt, one and one-half cups milk, a little finely chopped onion (which has been fried in fat.) Put egg, milk and bread crumbs together. Let stand ten minutes to soften, put in ground meat and work all together. Season with salt, pepper and the onion. It must be kneaded well to be good. Put molded loaf in baking pan, with melted fat in pan and a piece of butter on top of meat. When loaf is brown put in a little water and baste. Time required for baking, 45 minutes.
Mixed Fruit Salad—Ingredients are lettuce, two oranges cut in pieces, one banana, a few nut meats and mayonnaise. Arrange lettuce on plates, put on each plate pieces of orange and banana, then sprinkle with dressing. Sprinkle on nut meats.

Gingerbread—Take three tablespoons butter, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one beaten egg, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ginger, one teaspoon soda, one-half cup lukewarm water. Cream, butter or other shortening, and sugar, add beaten egg, then molasses. Mix flour, soda and spices. To the creamed mixture add first a little water then part of the flour, continue till all flour and water are used. Bake in shallow pan.

SUGGESTIONS
 In taking the baby out of doors, especially in colder weather, one should watch that the sun does not shine in his face, should shield his face and head from the wind and be sure that his feet are warm, and that he is properly and warmly dressed.
 Allowing the baby to sleep on the porch or veranda assures health for him. A clothes line, hung across the porch, and a heavy blanket hung over it makes an excellent wind or sun shield for the baby's bed.

 Remember that fresh air renews and purifies the blood and is as necessary to growing children as proper food.
 A little ammonia in the bath will keep the skin healthy, firm and fresh looking.
 Watchfulness in keeping the refrigerator door latched will save ice. To open the door or cover unnecessarily should be avoided. Cold storage which is actually low in temperature and cold, is necessary for safe food preservation in warm weather.

DINNER STORIES

An American prelate, discussing the straits into which the church of today seems to be divided, told this story:
 "There's a certain extremely rich church of New York which is accounted the most exclusive in the United States. One day a negro called on the rector and announced that he would like to become a member. The rector, nonplused, played for time, touched lightly on certain difficulties, and, after intimating that Sam might not feel quite at home, suggested that the latter ask guidance from above as to the wisdom of the idea.
 In a week Sam came back, rather gloomy.
 "Well," said the rector, "how do you feel about it now?"
 "Well, sub, ah done ask de Lawd about it, and de Lawd He said dat He'd been a tryin' to gh' into yo' church so long He said dat He don't see how I have any show 't all."

The prisoner was being cross-examined by counsel for the prosecution when the judge interrupted.
 "You say you dined at the Hotel Metro. What did you partake of?"
 The prisoner, turned to reply: "Beefsteak, your honor," he said.
 The judge looked stern. "On your oath" he said.
 "No, your honor," he replied, "on a plate."

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to thank our many friends for their sympathy and kindness, and for the beautiful floral offerings received during the recent bereavement of our baby.

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLES

The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. This key to puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

Running Across.
 Word 1. The flowers in the picture.
 Word 6. To decay.
 Word 7. Color; tone.
 Word 8. Also.
 Word 9. A southern state. Abbreviated.
 Word 11. The highest title in the navy.
Running Down.
 Word 1. A tall garden flower belonging to the aster family.
 Word 2. Anger, wrath.
 Word 3. In that manner.
 Word 4. Neuter pronoun corresponding to "he" or "she."
 Word 5. A place for learning lessons.
 Word 8. A thick, black, sticky liquid with a strong smell.
 Word 9. The first person singular present indicative of the verb "be."
 Word 10. Long Island. Abbreviated.
