

Editorial and Feature Page of Klamath News

THE KLAMATH NEWS

Owned and Published by
KLAMATH NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY (Incorporated)
 Officers and Directors: Nate Otterbein, president; Byron H. Hurd, vice-president; Ben H. Stevenson, secretary; Walter Stronach, treasurer, (constituting the owners of the entire outstanding stock issue).
 B. H. STEVENSON Managing Editor
 J. W. McDONALD Editor
 WALTER WEST Business Manager

Entered at the Postoffice at Klamath Falls, Oregon, as second-class matter.

Published every morning except Monday.
 Office 1. O. O. F. Building, 102-122 So. Fifth St.
 Telephone 877

Address all communications and make all remittances payable to The Klamath News Publishing Company.

In ordering change of address, subscribers should always give old as well as new address.

Subscription Rates—All Subscriptions Payable in Advance
 Delivered by Carrier, per month $.50
 Delivered by Carrier, six months 2.50
 Delivered by Carrier, one year 5.00
 Outside Klamath County 5.00

Full leased wire, United News and United Press.
 (Longest in the world.)

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF KLAMATH FALLS

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it"—Abraham Lincoln

COURAGEOUS PUBLIC OFFICIALS

When public officials take a firm stand for economy along rational lines in public affairs, they are deserving of commendation. Since the inauguration of the direct primary and the initiative in referendum, there has been a growing tendency for legislators and state executives to "pass the buck" to the people on important measures where political issues are involved.

A bitter fight was staged in the California state legislature to increase the gasoline tax from two to three cents a gallon on the theory that if such increase was not made the road program of California would be crippled. The bill was passed on a close vote. Governor Richardson could easily have dodged responsibility and played politics by signing the bill under the excuse that it could later be referred to the people or amended. This he refused to do, and clearly stated his reasons for killing the measure. He showed that increased taxes were not necessary in order to carry on systematic road work, and he would not sign a tax-raising measure which, in his opinion, was contrary to his platform of economy and sound business administration in public affairs.

Executives who will conduct public affairs along business lines and who cannot be swayed by every breath of political fancy should have the thanks of the people in this nation.

SHARING THE PROFITS AND LOSSES

Possibly no better agricultural co-operative plan has ever been worked out than the contracts between beet sugar factories and farmers of the west.

A base scale is agreed upon that provides for approximate cost for both grower and manufacturer. The farmer invests his land and labor in the hope of a better market; the manufacturer invests his million-dollar plant. The farmer thus becomes an actual partner in the factory. Under the co-operative system, both sides share in the profit or loss.

The Coeur d'Alene lead miners in Idaho have had a somewhat similar system; this year they sacrificed part of their old wages, when the price of lead fell.

Under such a plan, no man, farmer or miner or workman of any kind, need fear the growth of any corporation merely because it is big. Only vast capital can finance such operations as the great sugar factories, or the great lead mines; only vast capital can afford the improvements that cut cost prices and make the industries live.

The farmer is a partner in the sugar business clear up to the last sale; if there is a gamble anywhere in the business, he furnishes his share of the capital, and earns his share of the profit.

The farmer who is thinking of selling his farm and moving to the city might well consider carefully the rental price of a flat. He may then establish to his own satisfaction at least, that perhaps "being discontented" is not so bad as some other things he might have to face.—McMinnville News-Reporter.

The Stage Director!

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

MENU HINT
 Breakfast
 Sliced Bananas in Orange Juice
 Waffles with Maple Syrup
 Buttered Toast Coffee and Milk
 Luncheon
 Salmon Souffle Creamed Potatoes
 Head-Lettuce with Salad Dressing
 Bread and Butter
 Home Made Strawberry Jam
 Iced Tea or Cocoa
 Dinner
 Jellied Tomato Soup
 Croquettes Coddled Steak
 Mashed Potatoes with Brown Gravy
 Creamed Peas
 Baking Powder Biscuits
 Rhubarb Pie Coffee and Milk

TODAY'S RECIPES
Waffles—Beat yolks of two eggs; add four tablespoons of cream, one cup of milk, two teaspoons baking powder, flour to make thin batter and lastly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in very hot waffle iron over steady fire. Serve with butter and maple syrup.
Coddled Steak—Take about two pounds of round steak an inch thick, salt, pepper and flour well. Have ready one small onion, chopped fine and two tablespoons of butter or beef drippings heated very hot. Put in the meat to brown evenly on both sides, then put in enough hot water to make a quart of gravy. Add salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce to taste. Cover tightly and simmer steadily, until the steak is tender. The meat must be basted and turned frequently. Serve on a hot platter with a small quantity of gravy and parsley or water cress. The rest of the gravy serve in boat.
Salmon Souffle—One can of salmon, two eggs, one cup of cream or rich milk. Remove skin and bone from salmon. Pick fish fine, drop in the yolks of eggs and mix well. Add the cream or milk and the egg whites beaten to a stiff froth. Mix lightly and put in buttered pan. Bake 20 minutes in a quick oven.
Jellied Tomato Bouillon—Three cups tomato, three bouillon cubes, one onion, one bay leaf, one and one-half teaspoons minced parsley, celery leaves or celery salt, three teaspoons gelatine, a few peppercorns, few sprigs of thyme. Simmer the tomatoes, onion, bay leaf and celery with seasonings until quite soft and strain. There should be three cups of the juice. Add the minced parsley and bouillon cubes. Soften the secular period of his existence, he has slowly accumulated and organized experience which is almost wholly lost with the cessation of every individual life in other animals; so that, now, he stands raised upon it as on a mountain top, far above the level of his humble fellows, and transfixed from his grosser nature by reflecting, here and there, a ray of the infinite source of truth.

Let us keep in mind that the development of exact natural knowledge in all its vast range, from physics to history and criticism, is the consequence of the working out in this province, of the resolution to "take nothing for truth without clear knowledge that it is such."

To consider all beliefs open to criticism.
 To regard the value of authority as neither greater nor less than as much as it can prove itself to be worth.

DINNER STORIES

The conductor of a western freight train saw a tramp stealing a ride on one of the forward cars. He told a brakeman in the caboose to go up and put the man off at the first stop. When the brakeman approached the tramp the latter waved a big revolver and told him to get away.

"Did you get rid of him?" the conductor asked when the train was under motion again.
 "I hadn't the heart," was the reply. "He turned out to be an old school friend of mine."
 "I'll take care of him," said the conductor, as he started over the tops of the cars.
 When the train had again started, the brakeman came and said: "Well, is he off?"
 "No, he turned out to be an old school friend of mine, too," replied the conductor.

Jean entered a butcher's shop in a little town in Scotland and demanded to see a sheep's head.
 "Is it English?" she asked, when one was shown her.
 "No, lass, it's Scotch," replied the butcher.
 "Then it'll no do," said Jean.
 "Mistress is English, and she said I was to be sure and bring English meat."
 "Here, Jock!" said the butcher, tossing the sheep's head over to his assistant, "take the brains out of that, will you?"

A certain magistrate was taking coffee in his club one summer even-

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a young man who has asked me to be his wife. In every way he does things to please me, but one, and I am afraid that may affect our future. When we are out in public, either in a show, restaurant or dance, if he sees any woman look in his direction, he will center his attention on her the rest of our stay. He says that he does not mean anything by this, but I call it just flirting to stare at one in this way. I don't want to think wrong of any one. What do you think about it?
 L. B.

I am inclined to agree with you. If he has eyes for other women now, he will have after marriage.

LUCY, DON'T YOU THINK?
 Dear Mrs. Thompson: I want your advice I am an old maid 35

ing when a fellow-member remarked that hot coffee was not a good summer drink.

"You should take cooling drinks," this member advised. "Have you tried gin and ginger beer?"
 "No," answered the magistrate dryly; "but I've tried a number of men who have."

CAPITAL OF BRAZIL TO BE MOVED INLAND

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—The federal capital of Brazil will soon be moved from Rio de Janeiro to a lonely plateau in the heart of the country, 1,999 miles inland from its present site, according to Dr. Jose Luis Baptista, Brazilian director general of railroads, who arrived here today for a brief stay.

The primary purpose of the removal, Dr. Baptista said, was to center the nation's activities, and to develop the interior.

International Rotary Elects Officers Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 16.—Election of sixty-one international officers was to occupy the attention of 12,000 delegates to the Rotary International convention Wednesday.

Chief interest was centered Tuesday night around the spirited battle for the presidency of the worldwide organization, to succeed Everett W. Hill of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Denial Killed Detective's Sister

A web of circumstantial evidence has been built up by New York police against William Brassfield, held as a suspect in the murder of Florence Kane, sister of Detective Sergeant James Kane. Brassfield, who denies any knowledge of the crime, served a term in prison for alleged assault and robbery of a woman.

Children's Picture Cross Word

HOW TO SOLVE
 The words start in squares and run either down. One on letter each white square. Words are found each of letters in the puzzle.—The first word in the drawing. Blue the other words.

Running Answers
 Word 1. What the picture is called.
 Word 4. A name of person's rank. What a book is called.
 Word 5. A city in England.
 Word 7. A river in England.

Running Down
 Word 2. A city having a hard shell.
 Word 3. Handcuffs.
 Word 6. Always, yes or yes.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWER

