

PELICAN BATTERS MAY FACE FAST YREKA SOUTHPAW IN NEXT GAME ON LOCAL LOT; YREKAN TEAM FAST

Several Hundred Yreka Rooters To Accompany Team To K. F. Where Pelicans Will Battle Hard To Avenge Early Season Defeat

Word has reached here from Yreka that a youthful southpaw bailing by the name of Cunningham will oppose Mohler in the box here Sunday, when the Yrekan meet Klamath Falls to settle the disputed leadership for the first place.

Cunningham is just a high school boy, 19 years old. He certainly can't have much experience. Maybe his steam that prompts the Yrekan to use him against the slugging Pelicans. We shall see what we shall see.

And then again, perhaps its just a bluff to string the Pelicans along into batting in practice all week against a left hander and then compelling them to buck up against a right hander.

Every Klamath player turned out yesterday for practice. Mohler and Arnold, southpaw and right hander respectively dishing up curve balls for their team mates to slug.

A big auto caravan is already planned at Yreka to haul 200 or more Yreka fans to Klamath Falls for the game. "Klamath Falls came down to Yreka 300 strong for the game at Yreka," J. P. McNamara, prominent Yreka attorney and president of the league said last night, "and we're going to return the compliment."

Despite the standings it looks as if the 1925 pennant is a toss up between Klamath Falls, Weed and Yreka. Sunday's game will be of import in as much as both teams are tied for first place. Yreka defeated the Pelicans 5 to 1 in the first game.

McGraw's Men Back On Home Lot To Keep Pirates In Second Place

NEW YORK, June 23.—Limping home from a season of assaults and humiliations in the middlewest, the Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers, besom enemies of greater New York fought each other to a stand-off in a double-header at the Polo grounds Tuesday afternoon. The Dodgers beat the Giants 8 to 5 in the first game with Dazzy Vance pitching for Brooklyn. Vance restricted his product to six hits and four bases on balls. He struck out seven Giants.

The second game went to the Giants by the same score.

In losing a game to the Dodgers the Giants also lost ground to the Pirates, and but for a break in the weather in St. Louis the Pittsburgh team might have broken through the roof of the league to survey situation from the very top for the first time since the season began. The Pirates and Cardinals had a date for a double header, but there was rain in St. Louis. If the Pirates had won these two at this juncture there would have been a scound of falling Giants at the Polo Grounds. As matters stood at the end of the day the Pirates were again within one and a half games of the Giants.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Letty O'Doul failed to make the grade as a big league pitcher because his left handed shoos were too wild. Now, according to Manager Oscar Vitt of the Salt Lake Pacific Coast league club, O'Doul is ready to return to big time as an outfielder with a reputation for slugging that will drive other pitchers wild.

Chicago Cubs is about to clean house with a large and lusty broom is indicated by his recent moves in releasing Barney Friberg and Jim McAuley.

Friberg, once destined by all that was true and holy to become one of the best little infielders in the game, was allowed to depart to the Phillies at the waiver price. McAuley, a youngster obtained from the Pacific coast in the belief that he could fill Rabbit Maranville's shoes at shortstop, was sent back to the coast. This move indicates that Bill felt that he had no place for the youngster in the Cub machine.

The future of the chewing gum outfit to climb dangerously near the Giants and hang on there, has been an awful disappointment to Killefer, the club owners and fans.

Last year Chicago had the makings of a championship team. Killefer had one of the best pitching staffs, if not the best, in the league. Killefer lacked a dependable southpaw. At it was, his right-handers carried the burden in excellent shape. With Southpaw Cooper added to the staff, Bill felt his mound army was complete.

When the club landed Maranville to fill the shoes of Charley Hollocher, Killefer felt that his whole team was "set."

Then, this spring, came the injury to Maranville and the general demoralization of his team.

Hyne Myers is working here in the city and is in good shape. Reports also say that Wilbur Harrington will be fit when the going calls him for his go with Hyne.

There was no criticism of the placing. He had beaten both the Kinsey brothers and Clarence J. Griffin, formidable Pacific coast star, in addition to winning in decisive fashion his intercollegiate title.

Fischer did not defend his intercollegiate crown last year and Wallace Scott carried the honors westward by winning the tourney. He is a University of Washington man.

Fischer went abroad. His play at Wimbledon and in other tournament sectional affairs. But he seemed to reach the peak of his form in 1923. His playing caused the ranking committee to place him seventh in the national rankings—Briand Norton, Harvey Snodgrass and Robert Kinsey.

Connie Mack has the first baseman, on the tired list for the rest because the zip was ser's knee.
