

15 Wild Horses Arrive For Rodeo

Fifteen head of wild horses just rounded up on the famous high desert in the Fort Rock country, arrived here yesterday for the big rodeo July 2, 3 and 4.

The Bly association holds a contract with Hollis Swingle, wild horse dealer at Bend, for the delivery here of fifteen wild horses every year. These horses have never had a rope around their neck and are used in the bare-back riding contest and the wild horse race. Some of them prove to be adept buckers, and some, while they are as wild as a March hare, never show any particular aptitude for anything but running away the minute they get loose from the chutes.

Relay Races Will Prove Thrilling

Neck and neck relay racing will be one of the greatest thrills at this year's rodeo, with some of the best teams in the country entered for this event, which always brings the grandstand crowd to its feet. The Steele relay team from Prineville is coming, and Miss Trickey's famous string, which she will ride at Pendleton. Besides these wonderful penies there will be at least two local entries.

BLY

BLY, June 28.—Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Givan returned yesterday from Salem, where they have been for several months visiting Mrs. Givan's mother, Mrs. O. D. Bower.

Marvin Cross came in from Klamath Falls last night with supplies for the store, returning to Klamath Falls this morning.

Amos Lundy was in Bly today after supplies for hay.

James H. Owen was in Bly Tuesday from his Round Grove ranch.

Louis Dennis of Phoenix, is here visiting friends of Sprague River valley.

Charlie Hale was here from Beatty Tuesday on matters of business.

James Watts of Lakeview was here Monday looking after his interest in his ranch and to attend the water meeting.

FRONTIER DAYS TO BE RE-ENACTED THIS WEEK IN KLAMATH'S BIGGER AND BETTER RODEO AT FAIRGROUND

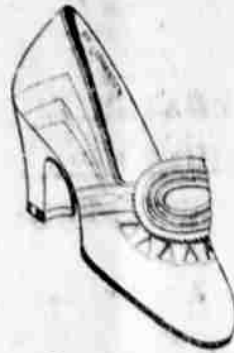

(Continued From Page Nine)

plan of staging a public rodeo. These men carried on for a number of years, with no reward, and only indifferent success, showing each year at the Klamath county fair grounds, and at Lakeview. Particularly at Klamath Falls, the Bly men have in the past been handicapped by only half-hearted public support. Their efforts to stage an attraction here which has the possibilities of drawing tourists and visitors from all parts of the United States upon completion of main-line railroads through this section, have never thus far, been appreciated.

The Bly Rodeo association, through all this time, have had one ardent champion here who has let no occasion go by to boost the possibilities of building up a great western show in Klamath Falls—that man was J. J. Miller, district freight and passenger agent of the S. P. lines here.

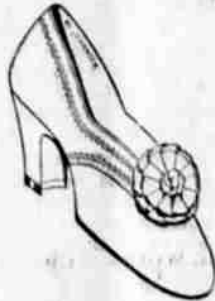

About sixty days ago, with Mr. Miller as their spokesman, the Bly rodeo men called upon the Klamath business men to back them in putting on their annual show here on July 2, 3 and 4. As they had done in the past, the Klamath people appointed a committee to go out and solicit from the already over-worked merchants up and down the main streets of the city. A fund of several thousand dollars was obtained in this way and tendered the Bly people to assist in staging this year's show. Then an unexpected thing happened—the Bly Rodeo association officially turned down Klamath's cash offer of support—and the answer of these men may be the forerunner of making the Klamath rodeo rank high among the greatest in the country. They said they wanted the Klamath people to guarantee their unqualified support to the show, they wanted them to close their business houses and attend the show in person, every one of the three days of the dramatic exhibitions. Every merchant readily agreed, and from two to five o'clock on the three days of the show, each and every place of business in Klamath Falls will bolt its doors, and its owner and his clerks and helpers will be seated in the grandstand at the fair grounds cheering Boss Richardson of Paisley, Roland Jackson of Chiloquin, or Billy Raymond of Dorris, riding "Rim-Rock," "Screw-Driver," or "Sam-Slinger," through a halo of dust to the glory of championship of the range.

This should be Klamath's greatest rodeo, and a fine start for a show of a greater magnitude each year. Profiting by the experience of the Cheyenne and Pendleton shows, where one superb thrill follows another in clock-like precision, at this year's rodeo, Seth Dixon, for five years judge of the world's championship bucking contest at Pendleton, will have charge of staging the events and rushing through the three-hour programs, so that there will be no tedious delays, the earmarks of small-town fairs and bucking contests.

$8.50

Patent and tan two tone covered black heel

$10.00

Satin with iridescent bead bow, short vamp, round toe.

$11.00

Fancy trim, blonde kid with spike heel.

All the latest popular shades in Luxite Hosiery, matching the new spring styles in shoes, at popular prices

4th of July and Rodeo Slippers

that will please

Women exclaim over them to whom we show these dainty little pumps carried by us in many varieties and moderately priced.

The latest whim of footwear is anticipated in this shop—Blonde and Rosewood satin blonde kid.

Black patent with tan combinations. The new gun metal satin and many styles in black patent leather. If you see them you'll want to wear them.

Have your foot troubles ended early, enjoy the 4th and Rodeo.

LET HER BUCK—LETS GO.

Houston & Jester
515 Main St.

Underwood's HEADQUARTERS

FOR

Get a Kodak for the RODEO

Box Brownies	$2.75 to $5.00
Fldg. Brownies	$9.00 to $19.00
Kodaks	$6.50 to $70.00
Graflex	$62.50 to $225.00

8 Hour "KRYSTAL KOTE"
Kodak Finishing

Specials

The Following Prices Good Until July 5th

- Regular $1.50 Electric Curlers for ..... 98c
- Regular $1.50 Alarm Clocks ..... 98c
- Regular $1.00 Gilt Edge Box Stationery very special at ..... 89c

Underwood's Pharmacy
Corner 7th and Main Sts.

Specials

The Following Prices Good Until July

- FREE—A 50c tooth brush with each tube Nydenta 2th Paste
- 50c Coconut Oil Shampoo special at
- 40c Almond Lotion for only

Underwood's Pharmacy
You'll Find It There