

CHRISTIANITY PUT TO CRUCIAL TEST AS MINDS BATTLE

people and animals have come on the earth since the flood, 4265 years ago? Do you know any scientific man on earth who believes any such thing?"

"I don't think I've ever asked one," answered Bryan.

"It's quite important isn't it?" asked Darrow.

"I think many things are more important than the age of the world," answered Bryan. "I have never had a great deal of interest in investigation that disputes the Bible."

"Mr. Bryan are you the only man on earth who understands the Bible?"

A prosecution objection was sustained.

"Have you never had enough interest in these things to inquire how old these civilizations are?" Darrow continued.

"No."

"Don't you know that the civilizations of China date back 6,000 years?"

"I've never studied it," answered Bryan.

"I don't think you know, either," Bryan added.

"Just wait till I get on the stand and then ask me," said Darrow.

"Do you know how many people were on earth 5,000 years ago?"

"No, do you?"

"Wait till you get to me," advised Darrow.

"Do you know how many people were in Egypt 3500 years ago or in China 5,000 years ago?"

"No, you're the first man I ever met who was interested in it."

"Am I the first man you ever heard of who ever was interested in man's social organs?"

"I have not been interested."

"Where have you lived all your life?" asked Darrow.

"Not near you."

"No, nor near any one with education."

"Don't assume you know it all," said Bryan. "I have all the information in the world I want on religion."

"I'm simply trying to protect the word of God against the greatest atheist—I mean agnostic—in the world."

There was great applause from the crowd.

"We have the purpose of preventing the bigots and ignoramuses from controlling education in the United States," said Darrow.

"I am perfectly willing to sit here and defend the right of the people of Tennessee to protect their children's education," said Bryan vehemently.

"Mr. Bryan do you believe that the first woman, Eve, was literally made out of Adam's rib?" Darrow resumed.

"No sir."

"Do you know where Cain got his wife?"

"No sir, I've left the agnostic to look for it."

Bryan said there was no necessity for constructing the word "day" in Genesis as 24 hours.

"You don't think they were literal days," asked Darrow.

"No, but I don't think it matters. I think they were periods."

"Do you think the sun was made on the fourth day?"

"Yes."

"And that there was morning and evening of the second day?"

"Yes, I believe the Bible."

Bryan admitted after much pressure by Darrow that he believed that the sun was created on the fourth day (or period) and that evening and morning existed before such creation.

"Do you believe that every woman thenceforth must suffer childbirth pains because of this?"

"I believe what the Bible says."

"And you believe that because Eve tempted Adam with the apple?"

"I do."

"Do you believe snakes have to go on their bellies because of that too?" asked Darrow, quoting from the Bible.

"I do. I believe it just as written."

Bryan finally arose angrily to denounce Darrow as a man who did not believe in God, whose only aim was to cast slurs on the Bible.

"Amid a hubbub that Darrow's objection and his epithet "fool ideas" precipitated, the court adjourned at 4:20 p. m. until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

People crowded around Bryan and congratulated him on his defense of the scriptures.

KLAMATH CATTLE EXAMINED FREE

Word was received at the county agent's office yesterday that Dr. Bishop from the U. S. bureau of animal industry, will begin work in Klamath county August 1st.

There will be no charge to stock owners for tuberculosis testing, but it is necessary to arrange a route of operation for Dr. Bishop, and time is too limited to permit of traversing any one section unnecessarily. Stockmen are asked to list their names and number of head to be tested at the county agent's office, or phone such information to 214, during business hours. Test is made only on application for such service.

Under the state law it is necessary that all stock be tubercular tested within six months of showing at county or state fairs. For this reason alone, owners of animals priming them for showing at the county fair in September, must have their certificate of health to enter animals.

Names of those desiring this service must be received at the county agent's office not later than 5 p. m. July 31st.

K. F. BOYS BACK FROM U. S. CAMP

Browned by a sun that poured down upon them during the hours of rifle practice and gunnery, six Klamath Falls boys who spent the past six weeks at Camp Lewis have returned and two more are expected in the near future.

The boys who returned are Frank Upp, Donald Veatch, Herbert Dennis, John Hawkins, Stewart Balsiger and Kenton Hamaker.

Lucien Applegate is visiting with his mother in Olympia, Washington and is expected home the latter part of the month.

Another "soldier" who is visiting in the valley is Raphael Morgan, the boy who set out on foot to reach camp. Morgan is visiting with his mother in Cottage Grove before returning to Klamath Falls.

Miss Helen Yorker and Miss Rosalie Keba of Salem are among the interested visitors in the city this week from the north.

MANY ATTEND MALIN PICNIC

Many residents of Klamath Falls attended the Malin community club picnic which was held at Malin yesterday. Among the visitors from here were Secretary Thomas and directors Bradbury and Jacob of the Klamath Irrigation district and City Attorney Carnahan.

Congressman John E. Baker of California was the principal speaker in the afternoon. He spent the morning conferring with the Klamath Irrigation district, the Tule Lake Homesteaders' association, the Klamath Wool Growers' association and the Tule Lake American Legion.

In his afternoon address, Congressman Baker admonished his audience to obey the laws, particularly the constitutional amendments. After this preliminary declaration in favor of law enforcement the California congressman offered his assistance in promoting land development and transportation facilities. Baker had just completed a tour of inspection of the Tule Lake country and he declared the crops in that territory were the finest he had ever seen.

In the baseball game held as a part of the picnic, Malin defeated the Alturas team, 4 to 2.

Little Hope Of Saving Big British Freighter

MANILA, P. I., July 20.—(United News)—The British steamer Agremoni Castle has run aground on the Tunbatabaha reefs of the Sulu Archipelago and is reported breaking up rapidly.

A coast guard cutter was proceeding Monday from Zamboanga, on the Basilan strait, to aid in rescue work. Because of the treacherous nature of the Tunbatabaha reefs, authorities here hold little hope that the craft will be saved.
