Utah visitors in Klamath Falls are not common, and a Lake City resident arrived last night to spend the summer vacation in the Big Marsh district on the Klamath Indian reservation.

At the Hall—Mrs. Elvira Hall was in Klamath Falls yesterday to enjoy a day's shopping, from her ranch in the Big Marsh district on the Klamath Indian reservation.

At the Hall—Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hopkins of Lorella are in the city for a short time from their home in that section, registered at the Hall hotel.

From Hollister—W. J. Hawkins and J. B. Hawkins are tourists from Hollister, Calif., interested in the Klamath Falls country.

Visitors—Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Hinegardner and family, all residents of Wilmington, Calif., are among the visitors from the south to spend several days in this section.

Party of Tourists—Mr. and Mrs. F. Gordon Hart of Grants Pass, and Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn of Portland, form a party of four tourists who are interested in the Klamath country.

Valley Visitors—Out of town visitors in Klamath Falls for the latter part of the week includes G. E. Hungen, resident of Medford.

At the Pelican—Among the Pelican hotel visitors for the remainder of the week are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Warm, who are in Klamath Falls from their home in the Sprague river country.

Hollywood—Two tourists in Klamath Falls this week are Miss Nell C. Reardon of Hollywood and Miss Mary G. Reardon, also from that fascinating city. They are enjoying a tour of southern Oregon, and plan also a visit to Crater lake.

From the East—Far eastern visitors in Klamath Falls this week include Mrs. A. E. Bradley and her daughter, Miss Alice Bradley. They are residents of Boston, Mass., and are enjoying their summer vacation on the western coast.

From Bend—W. J. Coleman of Bend and W. B. Cone, also a resident of the neighboring city, are among the visitors in the city this week for both business and pleasure.

South—Earl Humphrey, spent the past fortnight with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey, will leave his home in Los Angeles, interested in business. He is well known in the country, where he spent his time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Mur among the visitors in the city today to transact business. They are ranchers on the road.

Fur Emphasizes Flare on Coat

Elaborate fur trimming emphasizes the flare on this fall coat of tan velvet. Tucks indicate a waistline. Natural kit fox is used for collar, cuffs and godet trimming.

From Chiloquin—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hall are among the out of town visitors in the city from their home in Chiloquin.

Medford—Valley guests in Klamath Falls for the remainder of the week include Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Jones, who are in the city from their home in Medford.

Returns—Miss Katherine Lindley has returned to Klamath Falls after an enjoyable two weeks' vacation spent in Los Angeles with one of her college friends who attended Ore. Agricultural college during the past year. Miss Lindley is one of the mainstays in Judge Gahagen's police court.

Gertrude Atherton—No little excitement was caused in the chamber of commerce yesterday by a few inquisitive reporters when the name of Gertrude Atherton was found on a foreign registration card. Visions of the authoress of "Black Oxen" and many other books equally well read and well written, flashed across minds, and the visitor was promptly rated as one of the most prominent in the county for some time. But hopes burst like a bubble and although Mrs. Atherton is an interesting visitor, she has never written a book nor has she any leaning toward the results of pen and ink. Her home is in Colusa, "just across the line" as she puts it.

Swimming Party—That Lynn P. Sabin won the swimming race at Will-Kee Wednesday evening, following a bathing party at the popular beach, is the declaration of one of the party, who enjoyed the swim. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew M. Collier, who served as the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McHaffey of Antioch, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn P. Sabin, Miss Lucille Robinson, and Lloyd Porter.
