

COOLIDGE GIVES VIEWS ON VITAL TOPICS OF DAY

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 31.—(United News)—President Coolidge knows of no poll of the senate on the question of approval of American adherence to the world court.

Several mysterious accounts of a report to the president on a straw poll which claimed the proposal would have four to six more votes than the necessary two-thirds have been published.

Mr. Coolidge has not received any such information and he does not think such a poll would throw any light on the subject.

Mr. Coolidge was amazed Friday upon receipt of a report that the bureau of mines had drafted a plan for the government to take over and operate the mines, if as seems probable now, a strike is called.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover is coming to the summer white house late in the summer, Mr. Coolidge expects, but such a plan will not be discussed between them. For one thing, it was claimed, the president would have no power to seize the coal mines unless the very existence of the government were menaced.

President Coolidge and Madden are agreed upon the basic principle of their tax reduction effort which was phrased by Madden, "we want to cut taxes, as low as we possibly can."

Madden would not discuss the ideas which the president placed before him in their brief talk, but he was emphatic and enthusiastic over the condition of affairs. He left for Washington on a night train to begin laying the lines for some of his sub-committees to start work on the government supply bills in September.

Mr. Coolidge is considering with great interest Madden's suggestion to turn the government surpluses back to the tax payers in rebates instead of applying them to the public debt. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon opposes the latter idea and the president feels that the former would stimulate the desire of con-

RUSS CATHEDRAL IN N. Y. STORMED

NEW YORK, July 31.—(United News)—In a scene reminiscent of medieval days, when the battle axe was the key to a stronghold, several hundred persons stormed the doors of the Russian cathedral of St. Nicholas, in the heart of New York Friday afternoon, and seized that sanctuary in the name of Archbishop Platon Rostestvensky.

Rowed from buildings across the street, the adherents of the archbishop battered down the heavy doors and grilled casements, while white-faced defenders rained curses and threats down upon them from the upstairs windows.

The capture of the cathedral was the outcome of factional strife in the Russian Orthodox church. Bishop Adams Philippovski, leader of the opposition group, who has held the church for two weeks, surrendered prior to the attack, and had been trundled off to serve 30 days in jail for contempt of court. But the bishop's surrender did not discourage the defenders.

Attorneys for the platon appeared with an order to dispossess the cathedral, and permission from the police to put it into effect. While police stood by to "prevent any violence" the followers of the archbishop opened the siege.

By twos and threes with axes and clubs, they charged the doors and windows.

"Get back, you animals!" shouted the bishop's men from the second story windows.

But the battering continued, mingled with screams and taunts, from the besieged hosts.

"Reds! Bolsheviks! Traitors!" the horde in the street called to the forces within.

Then the doors crashed and the mob swarmed in. Only when the besiegers had broken into the cathedral did the police take a hand to prevent fist encounters between the rival factions.

INCOME TAX TO BE CUT IN HALF THRU NEW PLAN

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 31.—(United News)—The Coolidge administration is planning to cut income taxes rates to less than half the present figures.

A total maximum tax of 20 per cent, of which 15 per cent will be surtax, and five per cent normal taxes, will be proposed to congress next winter. The present maximum is 45 per cent, of which 40 per cent is surtax and six is normal tax.

Chairman Madden of the house appropriations committee, after a hurried consultation with President Coolidge at the summer white house Friday, announced the proposed rates as his own idea, and a few minutes later, it was given out at the white house that the president approved the plan. Mr. Coolidge did not commit himself irrevocably to this maximum, however, as he said that the treasury experts first would have to determine what was the lowest rate that would bring in a sufficient amount of revenue.

In view of the fact that Under Secretary of the Treasury Gerrard B. Winston has just committed himself publicly to the same rates, it is regarded as extremely probable that the Coolidge cohorts in the next congress will place this plan directly before congress. Mr. Coolidge hopes that both appropriations and tax reduction bills will be introduced before the session is a week old.

Madden predicted a tax reduction of not less than $150,000,000. The republican taxation standard bearer further outlined his ideas for a radical slash in the federal tax burden after his conference with Mr. Coolidge as follows:

1. Abolition of all "nuisance taxes" such as those on admissions to theatres and movies, and on club and other dues.
- 2.—Elimination of federal estate and inheritance taxes, leaving the field entirely to the state.
3. No change in the present exemptions, but a considerable cut in the rate on the lowest brackets of the tax payers. On incomes of less than $5,000, Madden said the tax should be about one per cent. The rate now is two per cent.

4. Passage of a law providing that all government surpluses of $50,000,000 or more at the end of the fiscal year should be rebated automatically by the secretary of the treasury to the income tax payers on a pro-rate basis. The surpluses now go toward paying off the principal of the national debt.

5. Enactment of a public building program, under which not more than $35,000 a year would be spent by the federal government.

6. Reduction of the income tax rate on corporations to 10 per cent. The present rate is 12 1/2 per cent.

No general building program bill has been passed since 1913, and the buildings proposed at that time have not all been built, due to failure of congress to appropriate for them.

Nothing is further from President Coolidge's mind than the idea of seizing the coal mines in case an anthracite strike occurs after the working agreements between operators and miners expire on August thirty-first.
